Portfolio managers comments

The upward trend in interest rates during April (+43 bps on the US 10-year) has once again disrupted the performance of the equity markets, particularly the Growth/Quality segment. Contrary to expectations at the start of the year, there will be few, if any, key rate cuts in the US in 2024. In Europe, on the other hand, they are likely to take place around June.

The first-quarter results season remains mixed. L'Oréal was one of the more satisfying companies, reporting organic growth (+9.4%) well ahead of analysts' expectations. With the possible exception of China, market share gains were very substantial. Excellent marketing execution and highly effective management of digital spending partly explain this success.

British pharmaceutical group AstraZeneca has surprised us with organic sales growth of 19%! For once, all the divisions (Oncology, Cardiovascular, Respiratory and Rare Diseases) performed well, and there were no one-off factors affecting performance. The valuation remains very reasonable, and an R&D day organised at the end of May could give us an outlook beyond 2025. We could raise our full-year target following the half-year results this summer.

Edenred also shone, with growth of 20.5%, but unfortunately the controversy surrounding a small Italian contract is polluting the company's stock market performance. A bill to modernise the operation of the meal voucher market in France is due to be unveiled soon, which should bring some visibility to the sector as a whole.

Finally, Moncler (lfl T1 = +16%), Atlas Copco (lfl T1 = +7%), GTT (lfl T1 = +81%) and ID logistics (lfl T1 = +12.4%) gave us every satisfaction.

Sartorius Stedim was probably the biggest disappointment of the month. Although the rebound was more or less visible in consumables (70% of sales), this was not the case in equipment. The reasons for this underperformance are not very clear (loss of market share, depressed Chinese market, reluctance to order due to the level of interest rates, etc). We have reduced the position due to deteriorating visibility. Similarly, ASML reported order intake well below expectations. However, the temporary absence of its main customer, TSMC, from Q1 orders explains this very cyclical underperformance. Logically, TSMC should be back in Q2 to equip its new 2/3 nanometre factories, due to open in 2025/2026.

Other disappointments include Dassault Systèmes, BE Semiconductor, IMCD, DSV and Alten.

Finally, we participated in the IPO of the software company Planisware. We were involved because of the company's strong growth prospects (lfl = 20%), high profitability and attractive valuation. We are keen to support this promising company in its medium- to long-term development.

Analysis methodology

We develop proprietary models based on our expertise and conviction to add tangible value in the selection of portfolio securities. DNCA's ESG analysis model, Above & Beyond Analysis (ABA), respects this principle and offers a rating that we control the entire construction. Information from companies is the main input to our rating. The methodologies for calculating ESG indicators and our responsible investor and engagement policy are available on our website by clicking here.

<sup>(1)</sup> The rating out of 10 integrates 4 risks of responsibility: shareholder, environmental, social and societal. Whatever their sector of activity, 24 indicators are evaluated, such as social climate, accounting risks, suppliers, business ethics, energy policy, quality of management.

<sup>(2)</sup> The ABA Matrix combines the Responsibility Risk and the Sustainable Transition exposure of the portfolio. It allows us to map companies to be mapped using a risk/opportunity approach.

<sup>(3)</sup> 1 No poverty. 2 Zero hunger. 3 Good health and well-being. 4 Quality education. 5 Gender equality. 6 Clean water and sanitation. 7 Clean and affordable energy. 8 Decent work and economic growth. 9 Industry, innovation and infrastructure. 10 Reduced inequalities. 11 Sustainable cities and communities. 12 Sustainable consumption and production. 13 Tackling climate change. 14 Aquatic life. 15 Terrestrial life. 16 Peace, justice and effective institutions. 17 Partnerships to achieve the goals.

<sup>(4)</sup> 5 transitions based on a long-term perspective of the financing of the economy allow the identification of activities with a positive contribution to sustainable development and to measure the exposure of companies in terms of turnover as well as exposure to the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

*The coverage rate measures the proportion of issuers (equities and corporate bonds) taken into account in the calculation of the extra-financial indicators. This measure is calculated as a % of the net assets adjusted for cash, money market instruments, derivatives and any vehicle outside the scope of "listed equities and corporate bonds".

Glossary

Beta. Measures the average extent to which a fund moves relative to the broader market. The beta of a market is 1. A fund with a beta of more than 1 moves on average to a greater extent than the market. A fund with a beta of less than 1 moves on average to a lesser extent. If beta is a minus number, it is likely that the stock and the market move in opposite directions.

Correlation coefficient. The correlation coefficient is a measure of correlation. It is used to determine the relationship between two assets over a given period. A positive coefficient means that the two assets move in the same direction. Conversely, a negative coefficient means that the assets move in the opposite direction. The correlation or decorrelation can be more or less strong and varies between -1 and 1.

Dividend yield. Annual dividends per share / Price per share

EV (Enterprise Value). Market value of common stock + market value of preferred equity + market value of debt + minority interest - cash and investments.

ND/EBITDA (Net Debt / EBITDA). A measurement of leverage, calculated as a company's interest-bearing liabilities minus cash or cash equivalents, divided by its EBITDA. The net debt to EBITDA ratio is a debt ratio that shows how many years it would take for a company to pay back its debt if net debt and EBITDA are held constant.

P/B. The Price to Book Ratio is the ratio of the market value of equity (market capitalisation) to its book value. It is used to compare the market valuation of a company with its book value.

P/CF (Share price/Cash Flow per Share). The price-to-cash-flow ratio is an indicator of a stock's valuation.

PER (Price Earnings Ratio). A company's share price divided by the amount of profits it makes for each share in a 12-month period. PE ratios are normally calculated on the base of all the profit made in the period, whether or not the profit is paid out to shareholders in that period.

ROE (Return On Equity). The amount of net income returned as a percentage of shareholders equity. Return on equity measures a corporation's profitability by revealing how much profit a company generates with the money shareholders have invested.

Sharpe Ratio. A way of measuring the historical risk-adjusted return on an investment. It is the average previous return minus the risk-free return, divided by the standard deviation (a measure of risk that looks at the diversion of actual returns from expected returns).

Sharpe Ratio. The Sharpe ratio measures the excess return over the risk-free money rate of an asset portfolio divided by the standard deviation of that return. It is therefore a measure of the marginal return per unit of risk. It is used to measure the performance of managers with different risk policies.

Tracking error. Tracking Error is a measure of how closely an investment portfolio follows the index against which it is benchmarked. It is the difference in the return earned by a portfolio and the return earned by the benchmark against which the portfolio is constructed. For example, if a bond portfolio earns a return of 5.15% during a period when the portfolio's benchmark (say, for example, the Lehman Brothers Index) produces a return of 5.06%, the tracking error is .09%, or 9 basis points.
