PORTFOLIO INVESTED IN USD-DENOMINATED BONDS

ABOUT THE FUND

The Fund seeks to grow your capital and generate income primarily by investing in high yield bonds.

It is an actively managed, well diversified portfolio mainly made up of sovereign and quasi-sovereign debt securities denominated in US Dollars.

The Fund may invest up to:

- 10% of its net assets in Emerging markets.

The Fund can adjust its high yield exposure from 80% to 120% and its geographical allocation by varying its allocation to the US and European indices. It can also vary its exposure to interest rates by investing mainly in US government bonds of differing maturities. the Fund does not invest in structured products.

High yield bonds are issued by companies whose business is more sensitive to the economic cycle and pay higher interest. The return on such securities, in the same way as their level of risk, is therefore higher than traditional bond products.

Exposure to high yield bonds is made through CDS (Credit Default Swap). A CDS is an instrument that gives investors exposure to high yield company debt. CDS are more liquid than high yield bonds and bear no interest rate risk.

Since launch. Source of data: UBP. Exchange rate fluctuations can have a positive or a negative impact on performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results. The value of investments can fall as well as rise. Past performance figures are stated in the currency of the share class and calculated with dividends reinvested; they are free of ongoing charges. The calculation does not take into account sales commissions and other fees, taxes and applicable costs to be paid by the investor. For example, with an investment of EUR 100, the actual investment would amount to EUR 99 in the case of an entrance fee of 1%. At investor level, additional costs may also be incurred (e. g. front-end load or custody fee charged by the financial intermediary).

GLOSSARY

Benchmark

Index used as basis for measuring the performance of an investment fund. Also called reference index or comparison index.

Derivatives

Derivatives are financial instruments whose prices depend on the price movements in a reference variable, known as the underlying. Underlying assets may be shares, equity indices, government bonds, currencies, interest rates, commodities like wheat and gold, or also swaps. Derivative financial instruments may be unconditional forward transactions or they may be options. They are traded either on futures and options exchanges on standardised terms, or over-the-counter (OTC) on freely negotiated terms. Changes in the price of the underlying lead in certain situations to considerably higher price fluctuations in the derivative. Derivatives can be used to hedge against financial risks, to speculate on price changes (trading) or to take advantage of price differences between markets (arbitrage).

Duration

Duration is the average time to payout. This key figure is used to measure the influence of interest rate movements on the price of a bond or bond fund. Duration is defined in years (e. g. 3-year duration means that the value of a bond would increase by 3% if interest rates fall by 1% and vice versa).
