The Fund will not have a particular industry or sector focus. The Investment Manager will implement a detailed analysis of potential investments, evaluating individual companies, which analysis is complimented by evaluating the market as a whole, to ensure that favourable countries, industries or investment styles are included in the Fund.
- The Fund may actively use financial derivative instruments (ie instruments whose prices are dependent on one or more underlying assets ("FDI")) to achieve the investment objective, for hedging against anticipated movements in a market or security, or where it is more economically effective than directly holding the underlying asset.

Risk and reward profile

- The lowest category does not mean 'risk free'.
- The risk and reward profile is not guaranteed and may change over time.
- Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future.
- The risk category for this share class is 5 as funds of this nature engage in strategies that typically have a moderate to high volatility. The calculation is based on the historical volatility of the Fund's performance. Where there is insufficient Fund performance the calculation is based on either the historical volatility of a relevant benchmark for the investment strategy or the manager's Value at Risk limit for the Fund. Please refer to the prospectus for further information relating to the Value at Risk.

The following risks may not be fully captured by the risk and reward profile:

- The Fund is subject to normal market fluctuations and the risks associated with investing in international securities markets and therefore the value of your investment and the income from it may rise as well as fall and you may not get back the amount originally invested.
- The Fund may make investments or hold trading positions in markets that are volatile and which may become illiquid. Timely and cost efficient sale of trading positions can be impaired by decreased trading volume and/or increased price volatility.

- The fund is a specialist country-specific or geographic regional fund, the investment carries greater risk than a more internationally diversified portfolio.
- The Fund will be exposed to credit risk on counterparties with which it trades in relation to on-exchange traded instruments such as futures and options and where applicable, 'over-the-counter' ("OTC", "non-exchange") transactions. OTC instruments may also be less liquid and are not afforded the same protections that may apply to participants trading instruments on an organised exchange.
- The Fund will invest in FDI to achieve its investment objective. The use of FDI involves additional risks such as high sensitivity to price movements of the asset on which it is based. The extensive use of FDI may significantly multiply the gains or losses.
- The fund's use of FDI may result in increased leverage which may lead to significant losses.
- The fund may invest a significant proportion of its assets in securities with exposure to emerging markets which involve additional risks relating to matters such as the illiquidity of securities and the potentially volatile nature of markets not typically associated with investing in other more established economies or markets.
- The value of investments designated in another currency may rise and fall due to exchange rate fluctuations. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates may result in a decrease in return and a loss of capital. It may not be possible or practicable to successfully hedge against the currency risk exposure in all circumstances.
- There is no guarantee that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.

A complete description of risks is set out in the prospectus section entitled 'Certain Investment Risks'.
