The name of the American Franchise Fund changed to the US Advantage Fund on January 31, 2010.

- Launch date of Class I, Class A & Class B shares was December 2005. The benchmark for the Fund is a blend of the S&P 500 Index to 31 August 2009, the Russell 1000 Growth Net 30% Withholding Tax TR Index to 31 March 2010 and the S&P 500 Index thereafter. The benchmark is calculated by geometrically chain-linking the monthly returns.
- Launch date of euro hedged share classe AH was October 2006. The benchmark for the Fund is a blend of the S&P 500 Index Euro Hedged to 31 August 2009, the Russell 1000 Growth Euro Hedged TR Index to 31 March 2010 and the S&P 500 Index Euro Hedged thereafter. The benchmark is calculated by geometrically chain-linking the monthly returns.
- The ratio is calculated by dividing the Price (P) by the Free Cash Flow (FCF). P equals the sum of the portfolio-weighted market values of the companies in the portfolio. FCF is calculated by subtracting the sum of the portfolio-weighted capital expenditure from the sum of the portfolio-weighted operating cash flow of the companies in the portfolio.
- Calculations are NAV to NAV. Performance of the Morgan Stanley Investment Funds is calculated net of fees.
- Total expenses charged to share class open as at 30 June 2010, calculated net of any fee waivers and expressed as a percentage of average net assets for the six month period (or since inception if fund launched within this period).
- Based on monthly observations over last 3 years.

Dennis Lynch, David Cohen, Sam Chainani, Alexander Norton, Jason Yeung and Armistead Nash started to manage the American Franchise Fund on 15 June 2009.

Please note variances between fund and index performance figures may occur due to the price differences between the time the NAV is calculated and the time of the index close

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

Total

Seeks long-term capital appreciation, measured in US dollars, through investment primarily in equity securities of companies domiciled or exercising the predominant part of their economic activity in the US.

INVESTMENT PROCESS

- Disciplined, value-oriented, bottom-up approach to stock selection focusing on absolute return produces a highly concentrated portfolio of great franchise businesses located in the US.
- In-depth fundamental research aims to identify companies with difficult to replicate intangible assets, high free cash flow, repeat businesses, sustainable high ROCE and strong management.
- Risk management helps to reduce absolute risk by focusing on business and valuation risks.

Risk warnings

Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance and the value of the Shares and income from them may fall as well as rise. On redemption of Shares, an investor may receive back an amount less than the original amount of his investment. The assets of the funds will be in a variety of currencies and therefore movements in the value of currencies may also affect the value of an investor's holdings. Furthermore, the value of Shares may be adversely affected by fluctuations in exchange rates between the investor's reference currencies and the base currencies of the Funds. There are special risk considerations associated with investing in:

1) Emerging country securities; including (1) restrictions on foreign investment and on repatriation of capital (2) currency fluctuations, (3) potential price volatility and lesser liquidity of shares, (4) political and economic risks, including the risk of nationalisation or expropriation of assets and the risk of war (5) settlement systems may be less well organised and less developed and (6) debt may not be rated by any internationally recognised credit rating organisation.

There are also varying levels of government supervision and regulation of exchanges, financial institutions and issuers in various countries. In addition, accounting, auditing, financial and other reporting standards are not equivalent to those of more developed countries, and therefore less information may be available than in more developed countries.

- 2) High yield securities; investment in higher yielding securities is speculative as it generally entails increased credit and market risks. Such securities are subject to the risk of an issuer's inability to meet principal and interest payments on the obligations (credit risk) and may be subject to price volatility due to such factors as interest rate sensitivity, market perception of the credit worthiness of the issuer and general market liquidity.
- Securities of small capitalisation companies; these securities involve greater risk than large capitalisation companies and the markets for such securities may be more volatile and less liquid.
- 4) Securities of companies engaged in the real estate industry; including the cyclical nature of real estate values, risks related to general and local economic conditions, overbuilding and increased competition, increases in property taxes and operating expenses, demographic trends and variations in rental income, changes in zonal laws, casualty or condemnation losses, environmental risks, regulatory limitations on rents, changes in neighbourhood values, related party risks, changes in the appeal of properties to tenants, increases in interest rates and other real estate capital market influences. Generally, increases in interest rates will increase the costs of obtaining financing, which could directly and indirectly decrease the value of the relevant Fund.
- 5) Investments in derivative instruments carries certain inherent risks such as the risk of counterparty default. Before investing you should ensure you fully understand these risks. Use of leverage may also magnify losses as well as gains to the extent that leverage is employed.
- 6) Securities of companies engaged in the infrastructure industry are subject to a variety of factors that may adversely affect their business or operations; including high interest costs in connection with capital construction programs, costs associated with compliance and with changes in environmental and other regulations, difficulty in raising capital in adequate amounts on reasonable terms in periods of high inflation and unsettled capital markets, the effects of surplus capacity, increased competition from other providers of services in a developing deregulatory environment, uncertainties concerning the availability of fuel at reasonable prices, the effects of energy conservation policies and other factors.

Please refer to the Prospectus for full disclosure of the individual Fund Investment Objectives.
