Highlights

- Triodos Global Equities Impact Fund generated a return (after costs) of 3.47%, while the benchmark yielded 3.32%.
- Global stock markets had another strong month and recorded their best first quarter in five years. What started as a rally driven by large US companies in the Information Technology sector, broadened out to small and midcaps and equities from Europe and Japan. Sentiment is very positive, supported by a resilient US economy and comments from Central Bankers that were perceived dovish by equity investors. The MSCI World Index (EUR) closed the month 3,5% higher.
- The fund had another good month and again hit all time high levels. The AI boom remains an important driver of stocks from the IT sector where Nvidia returned 14% last month, making its year-to-date performance +82%. Another important contribution to the Fund performance came from our holdings in Health Care. NovoNordisk and medical equipment companies like Edwards Lifesciences and the recently added Resmed all performed above average.

Principal Adverse Impact Indicators (PAIs)

GHG intensity of investee companies: The GHG intensity is a relative measure of greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions. It is the amount of GHG produced per unit of revenue generated by the company, measured in tonnes of CO2 per EURm generated in revenue. The carbon intensity is then weighted using the portfolio weight to get a weighted average for the portfolio.

Non-recycled waste ratio: For each company the non-recycled waste ration is the total amount in metric tons of non-recycled waste produced dividend by the amount invested in EURm. This is expressed as a weighted average.

Excessive CEO pay ratio: This metric measures the ratio within investee companies of the annual total compensation for the highest compensated individual to the median annual total compensation for all employees.
