Important information

This simplified prospectus contains key information in relation to the Sub-Fund. If you would like more information before you invest, please consult the most recent full prospectus (the "Full Prospectus"). Unless defined in this document, defined terms shall bear the same meaning as in the Full Prospectus. For details about the Sub-Fund's holdings, please see the most recent report.

HSBC Global Investment Funds – Global Inflation Linked Bond (hereinafter the "Sub-Fund") is a sub-fund of HSBC Global Investment Funds (hereinafter the "Company"). The Company is a Luxembourg investment company with multiple compartments organised as a "société anonyme" incorporated on 21 November 1986.

The Company exists for an unlimited period and qualifies as an undertaking for collective investment in transferable securities under Part I of the Luxembourg law of 20 December 2002 on undertakings for collective investment, as amended (the "2002 Law").

The rights and duties of the investor as well as the legal relationship with the Company are laid down in the Full Prospectus. The Full Prospectus and the periodical reports may be obtained, free of charge, from the Company.

What does the Sub-Fund invest in?

Investment objective

The Sub-Fund invests primarily for total return in a diversified portfolio of inflation linked bonds denominated in local currencies issued by OECD countries.

The Sub-Fund intends to use financial derivative instruments such as inflation swaps in order to take long and short exposures on the breakeven inflation of OECD countries. The Sub-Fund may also invest in other financial derivative instruments such as futures, options, swaps (including, but not limited to, credit default swaps and total return swaps) and forwards (including currency contracts) and in other currency and credit derivatives.

The Sub-Fund intends to use such financial derivative instruments for, inter alia, the purposes of managing interest and credit risks and currency positioning but also to enhance return when the Investment Adviser believes the investment in financial derivative instruments will assist the Sub-Fund in achieving its investment objectives.

The global exposure relating to the use of financial derivative instruments shall not exceed the total net asset value of the Sub-Fund. The global exposure relating to financial derivative instruments will be calculated using a Value-at-Risk approach.

Who should invest in the Sub-Fund?

Profile of the typical investor

The Sub-Fund (being in the Core Plus category) is suitable for investors with a medium to long term investment horizon. The Sub-Fund is intended as a complementary investment to funds in the Core category where a high proportion of the assets may be invested in equity or equity-related securities, or in bonds rated below Investment Grade in markets which may be subject to moderately high volatility.

To determine if the Sub-Fund is suitable, it is recommended that the investor consult a stockbroker, bank manager, solicitor, accountant, representative bank or other financial adviser.

What are the risks of investing in the Sub-Fund?

Risk Profile

Investment in the Sub-Fund carries with it a degree of risk, but not limited to, those referred to below. Potential investors should review the Full Prospectus in its entirety and have a clear picture of the Sub-Fund prior to a decision to invest. There can be no assurance that the Sub-Fund will achieve its investment objectives and past performance should not be seen as a guide to future returns.

▪ Interest rate risk

The Sub-Fund is exposed to bond markets for all or part of its total assets. The value of these assets may rise or fall and is strongly affected by interest rate fluctuations.

▪ Credit risk

The Sub-Fund is exposed to credit risk for all or part of its total assets. The value of these assets may rise or fall and is strongly affected by changes in the credit ratings of the underlying issuer of the security.

▪ Foreign exchange risk

The Sub-Fund is exposed to foreign exchange risk for all or part of its total assets. The underlying assets may be denominated in a currency other than the dealing currency. The value of these assets may rise or fall in line with movements in the relevant exchange rates.

- Derivative risk

The price of a financial derivative instrument (FDI) can be very volatile. This is because a small movement in the price of the underlying financial instrument may result in a substantial movement in the price of the FDI. Investment in FDIs may result in losses in excess of the amount invested.

- OTC Financial Derivative Transaction

The Sub-Fund is exposed to OTC markets for all or part of its total assets. The Sub-Fund will therefore be subject to the risk that its direct counterparty will not perform its obligations under the OTC transactions and that the Sub-Fund will sustain losses. The Sub-Fund will only enter into transactions with counterparties which it believes to be creditworthy, and may reduce the exposure incurred in connection with such transaction through the receipt of letters of credit or collateral from certain counterparties.

Regardless of the measures the Sub-Fund may seek to implement to reduce counterparty credit risk, however, there may be no assurance that a counterparty will not default or that the Sub-Fund will not sustain losses as a result.

Further details are provided in the Full Prospectus.

Pricing Adjustment

If it is in the interests of shareholders, when the net capital flows in the Sub-Fund exceeds a predefined threshold agreed from time to time by the board of directors, the net asset value per Share may be adjusted by a maximum of 2% in order to mitigate the effects of transaction costs, in particular but not exclusively, bid-offer spreads, brokerage and taxes on transactions.

The adjustment of the net asset value per Share will apply equally to each Class of Share in the Sub-Fund on any particular valuation.

For the avoidance of doubt it is clarified that fees and expenses will continue to be calculated on the basis of the unadjusted net asset value.

Taxation of Shareholders / the Company

Prospective investors should ascertain from their professional advisers the consequences to them of acquiring, holding, redeeming, transferring, selling or converting Shares under the relevant laws of the jurisdictions to which they are subject, including the tax consequences and any exchange control requirements.

Under current law and practice, the Company is not liable to any Luxembourg income tax. However, pursuant to the Council Directive 2003/48/EC of 3 June 2003 on taxation of savings income implemented in the Luxembourg law by a law of 21 June 2005, a withholding tax may be applicable as from 1 July 2005. Further details are provided in the Full Prospectus. The Company is liable to annual tax in Luxembourg ("taxe d'abonnement") calculated at the rate of 0.05% per annum of its net asset value, and at the rate of 0.01% per annum of the net asset values of the sub-funds or Classes of Shares reserved to institutional investors within the meaning of article 129 of the 2002 Law and Reserve sub-funds. This tax is calculated at the end of the quarter to which the tax relates and payable quarterly.

No stamp duty or other tax is payable in Luxembourg in connection with the issue of Shares of the Company.

Price publication

The prices for Shares are available at the offices of the Company, the Distributor and of the local agents as detailed in the Full Prospectus. The Redemption Price is published on each Dealing Day, in the relevant currencies in various international publications and on data providers websites and platforms.

The prices are calculated on each Dealing Day on the basis of the net asset value of the relevant Class of Shares of the Sub-Fund in its relevant currencies. The redemption price is equal to the net asset value per Share adjusted by the pricing adjustment, as fully described above (the "Redemption Price").
