Investment risks

For complete information on risks, refer to the legal documents. The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested. Debt instruments are exposed to credit risk which is the ability of the borrower to repay the interest and capital on the redemption date. Changes in interest rates will result in fluctuations in the value of the fund. The fund uses derivatives (complex instruments) for investment purposes, which may result in the fund being significantly leveraged and may result in large fluctuations in the value of the fund.

Fund Strategy

The fund is primarily invested in short-dated, Euro denominated, investment grade government and corporate bonds. The fund has some limited flexibility to invest in high yield bonds and non-Euro denominated issues. Non-Euro denominated bonds are currency hedged to Euro. Investments in the fund are highly diversified and seek to help in the fund's aim of providing capital growth. High yield bonds are typically invested in the subordinated bonds, those repaid after other debts following company liquidation, of high-quality companies and rising star opportunities. Rising stars are bonds which were considered speculative when issued, but have since improved their investment rating.

*At Invesco we continuously monitor any applicable sanctions, including those imposed by the UN/US/EU and UK. These sanctions may preclude investments in the securities of various governments/regimes/entities and as such will be included in our compliance guidelines and workflows (designed to ensure compliance with such sanctions). The wording of international sanctions is something that we pay particular attention to as there are occasions where sanctions can exist in limited form, for example allowing investments in the secondary market. In addition to sanctions targeting entire countries, there are other thematic regimes, which may focus for example on human rights, cyber attacks, terrorist financing and corruption, which may apply to both individuals and/or entities/corporations.

Any investment decision should take into account all the characteristics of the fund as described in the legal documents. For sustainability related aspects, please refer to: <https://www.invescomanagementcompany.lu/lux-manco/literature>.
