

Factsheet

Bellevue Funds (Lux) | Share class I EUR

Investment Company with Variable Capital (SICAV) according to Luxembourg Laws – UCITS
Marketing document - For professional investors: AT, CH, DE, ES, LU, PT, HK

Investment focus

The fund's aim is to achieve capital growth in the long term and invests in small capitalized, listed owner-managed companies in Europe where an entrepreneur or a founder family holds at least a 20% of a company's voting rights. The qualities of these companies – a focused business model, fast decision-making processes and a strong corporate culture – go hand in hand with efficient innovation, high product quality and strong customer loyalty. The corresponding impact on the share price is demonstrably positive. The fund's Management Team offers a wealth of experience in this investment segment and has built up an extensive network with entrepreneurs throughout the sector. It pursues a fundamental, bottom-up approach in identifying the most attractive foundercontrolled companies with a small market capitalization while maintaining an investment portfolio of 35 to 45 stocks diversified by country, sub-sector and style (Value, GARP, Growth). The fund takes ESG factors into consideration while implementing the aforementioned investment objectives.

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results and can be misleading. As the fund is denominated in a currency that may differ than an investor's base currency, changes in the rate of exchange may have an adverse effect on prices and incomes. Performance is shown net of fees and expenses for the relevant share class over the reference period. All performance figures reflect the reinvestment of dividends and do not take into account the commissions and costs incurred on the issue and redemption of shares, if any. Individual costs are not taken into account and would have a negative impact on the performance. With an investment amount of EUR 1,000 over an investment period of five years, the investment result in the first year would be reduced by the front-end load of up to EUR 50 (5%) as well as by additional individual custody charges. In subsequent years, the investment result would also be reduced by the individual custody account costs incurred. The reference benchmark of this class is used for performance comparison purposes only (dividend reinvested). No benchmark is directly identical to a fund, thus the performance of a benchmark is not a reliable indicator of future performance of the fund to which it is compared. There can be no assurance that a return will be achieved or that a substantial loss of capital will not be incurred.

Market review

European small and mid caps, as measured by the MSCI Europe Small Cap ex-UK, rebounded strongly by 9.3% in November (SXXR +6.6%), underpinned by the fast decline of longterm rates. The steady inflation slowdown reinforces the probability that the monetary tightening cycle has come to an end. Inflation in the Eurozone declined to 2.4% yoy in November, benefiting notably from lower energy prices. Importantly, the core rate now at 3.6% (expected 3.9%) also continued to cool down, reaching its lowest point since April 2022. In the US, unemployment rate increased to 3.9%, slightly exceeding market expectations, a welcome evolution pushing back the risk of wage price loops. The Eurozone provisional PMI survey data for November remained in negative territory but increased sequentially to 47.1 (46.5 in Oct.), with both services (48.2) and manufacturing (43.8) improving. Sector wise, retail (+14.5%), technology (14.3%) and healthcare (+13.0%) performed best while chemicals (-0.7%), energy (+0.3%) and food, beverage and tobacco (+1.0%) lagged the most.

Against this backdrop, the fund increased 8.8% (EUR / B shares), slightly underperforming its benchmark (-42 bps). This brings the fund performance to 11.5% ytd, 560 bps above benchmark.

Top detractors in the month were Schoeller-Bleckmann (-13.4%), Knaus Tabbert (-9.4%), and Marr (-3.6%). Schoeller-Bleckmann, the oil servicing company, suffered from lower oil prices while the downward trend in US active rig counts seems to be showing signs of stabilization. Knaus Tabbert was subject to profit taking despite solid Q3 results, with sales up 29% implying the upper end of its FY target is within reach. The EUR 1.2 bn backlog offers good visibility for 2024 and valuation is undemanding at 5.4x EV/EBIT 2024E. While its Q3 results were in line with expectations, Marr surprised with a new 2025-26 capex roadmap. This will translate into higher organic growth and lower logistics costs, but the benefits will back-end loaded. We consider Marr a quality company in a defensive sector at undemanding valuation.

Top performers in the month were BESI (+32.0%), Montana Aerospace (+45.4%) and Cargotec (+24.3%). The WFE manufacturer BESI continued its upward trend underpinned by signs of semi cycle normalization in the segments of memory, PC and mobile. Also, recent hybrid bonding orders and the broadening of the client base do gradually validate the adoption of this new technology and a meaningful revenue acceleration into 2025. Montana Aerospace released a solid set of results, with 9M revenue up 13% yoy and adjusted EBITDA increasing 70%, despite being still held back by supply chain issues. More importantly, the severing of financial ties with the parent company is a key milestone and opens the door for a re-rating of the shares. For Cargotec the upcoming demerger of Kalmar in 2024 is approaching, an operation that should unlock value and help reduce the discount to peers.

Positioning & outlook

So inflation and interest rates confirmed the peak has been overcome and European small and mid caps did outperform. It is too early to claim victory over the enduring underperformance cycle of this asset class, but the relief rally proved our point. While we do not expect interest rates to fall in a straight line, there are more triggers to the performance and valuation normalization of small and mid caps than just interest rates. First, the economic situation in China is slowly improving. Second, the global destocking trend is coming to an end. The post-COVID disruption of supply chains led to a considerable global build-up of inventories, which has been painfully reduced through the recent quarters. As this comes to an end, a pick-up in 2024 industrial production can be expected. Finally, contrary to the US where economic momentum is decelerating, Europe should score better into Q1 2024 in terms of positive economic surprises. Risk and return profile acc. to SRI

The Fund's investment objective is to generate attractive and competitive capital growth in the long term. It is therefore particularly suited to investors with an investment horizon of at least 5 years who want to enhance their portfolio diversification with investments in European small capitalized founder-controlled companies. The Fund displays the typical risks associated with equity investments in European small caps.

We have classified this product as risk class 4 on a scale of 1 to 7, where 4 corresponds to a medium risk class. The risk of potential losses from future performance is classified as medium. In the event of very adverse market conditions, it is possible that the ability to execute your redemption request may be impaired. The calculation of the risk and earnings profile is based on simulated/historical data, which cannot be used as a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The classification of the fund may change in future and does not constitute a guarantee. Even a fund classed in category 1 does not constitute a completely risk-free investment. There can be no guarantee that a return will be achieved or that a substantial loss of capital will not be incurred. The overall risk exposure may have a strong impact on any return achieved by the fund or subfund. For further information please refer to the fund prospectus or PRIIP-KID.

Liquidity risk

The fund may invest some of its assets in financial instruments that may in certain circumstances reach a relatively low level of liquidity, which can have an impact on the fund's liquidity.

Risk arising from the use of derivatives

The fund may conclude derivatives transactions. This increases opportunities, but also involves an increased risk of loss.

Currency risks

The fund may invest in assets denominated in a foreign currency. Changes in the rate of exchange may have an adverse effect on prices and incomes.

Operational risks and custody risks

The fund is subject to risks due to operational or human errors, which can arise at the investment company, the custodian bank, a custodian or other third parties.

Benefits

- Above-average top line growth driven by high innovation and strong pricing power.
- Higher operating margins on the back of high market share ("Champion in the niche") combined with good cost discipline.
- More conservatively financed, lower debt exposure and a higher risk capacity compared to non-family businesses.
- Multi-award-winning management team with a long and successful track record investing in owner-run firms.
- Entrepreneurs for entrepreneurs – the Bellevue Group is itself an owner-run company with the majority of shares held by employees.

Inherent risks

- The fund invests in equities. Equities are subject to price fluctuations and so are also exposed to the risk of price losses.
- Shares in smaller businesses are generally traded in lower volumes and are subject to bigger price fluctuations than larger enterprises.
- The fund invests in foreign currencies, which means a corresponding degree of currency risk against the reference currency.
- The fund may invest a proportion of its assets in financial instruments that might under certain circumstances have a relatively low level of liquidity, which can in turn affect the fund's liquidity.
- The fund may engage in derivatives transactions. The increased opportunities gained come with an increased risk of losses.

You can find a detailed presentation of the risks faced by this fund in the "Special Investment Risks" section of the sales prospectus.
