OBJECTIVES

The RAM (Lux) SYSTEMATIC FUNDS - EMERGING MARKETS EQUITIES objective is to achieve long-term capital appreciation through investments in emerging markets equities exhibiting the following characteristics: strong earnings visibility and predictability, impeccable balance sheet, attractive valuation, above market earnings growth momentum and favourable technical outlook.

PORTFOLIO COMMENT

The Russian invasion of Ukraine and the ongoing war in the country have had a major negative impact on Emerging Markets, which gave back more than 3% over the month after having out-performed in January. We saw a liquidation of Russian Equities over the month, magnified by the Western sanctions on Russia, which led up to a suspension of the trading of the local Equities by foreigners. The very negative liquidity dynamics and the suspension risk for Russian stocks led us to take pre-emptive measures to sell Russian Equities, minimizing the impact for our investors. As of the end of February, there is no more Russian positions accounted for in the NAV of the fund. The fund out-performed MSCI Emerging Markets over the month versus the benchmark. The average underweight position to Russia and China contributed positively, as well as strong stock picks in Materials names in Australia (EM satellite developed exposure) and picks in Taiwan, both increased over the month.
