PORTFOLIO MANAGER

In March, BPI Alternative had an extraordinary month going up by 249bps and taking YTD performance to 2.97%. This was our best month out of the last 100!

Sector performance was positive across the board, but the main contributor was the Financials sector with 60bps partially explained by our 2% net exposure to Banks that went up almost 20% in the month and also due to the long Mapfre vs Short in Linea Directa. Interest rates are evolving stronger than forecasted and deposits beta seems to be advancing more slowly meaning that banks NII should be more resilient than expected. In the insurance sector, Mapfre presented its 2024-2026 strategic plan targeting 6% CAGR in premiums, 95/96% in Combined ratio and 10/11% average ROE.

The second best was the Retail sector with +55bps mainly due to our long in Inditex and short in Jeronimo Martins. Inditex presented 4Q23 results which came in line with expectations, but the stock outperformed on the back of a strong 1Q24 trading update. In the first six weeks of the 1Q24, constant currency sales grew by 11% vs 8.5% expected. In the case of Jeronimo, it underperformed with 4Q23 earnings release in which LfL sales in Poland came at 5.1% vs c7% expectations but margins only drop 15bps vs -20bps expected. In terms of outlook,

CUMULATIVE RETURN COMPARISON

*The reference index is used for illustrative purpose only. The official benchmark is ESTR Index. The source of the Fund's performance is BPI Gestão de Ativos. Performance is based on the monthly net performance of the Fund. The drawdown chart source is BPI Gestão de Ativos, based on the net performance of the Fund. Maximum drawdown is the maximum accumulated loss from the fund's highest value to the subsequent lowest value over the covered period. This information is for Investment Professionals only and should not be relied upon by private investors. These figures relate to the Fund's past performance, which is not a reliable indicator of the future results. The value of the investments and any income from them may go down as well as up and an investor may not get back the amount invested.

the company warned that it expects food deflation at least for the first half of the year which combined with growing costs may result in EBITDA margin being more pressured than in 2023.

The Utilities sector was also a good contributor with 42bps mainly due to the pair trade long Endesa and short Naturgy. Naturgy has been penalized by very low gas prices and also with the news that CVC is mulling options to sell its 20.7% stake in the company.

As for detractors, we highlight Industrials with -17bps due to our long in Gestamp vs short and CIE. Gestamp underperformed as it has been facing operating and labor issues in the US which already led the company to announce a specific restructuring plan for this geography that will cost €100mn over 2024-2026 and meant a lower-than-expected EBITDA guidance for 2024 which the company considered as a transition year.

As already stated in the previous newsletter, at the beginning of March we reverted our position in Rovi from long to short as we believe that the potential from new manufacturing contracts is already reflected on its price.
