In some cases the Fund will consider investments in securities which may benefit from mergers and acquisitions, or other corporate developments.

The Fund may also have an exposure to Global Frontier Debt (which may be unrated or rated less than BB- by Standard & Poor's) and Global Emerging Debt (which may be unrated by Standard & Poor's or its equivalent) issued by such companies. Such exposure is not permitted to exceed 15% of the Fund. A small part of the Fund may also be invested in unlisted securities and other collective investment schemes. The Fund may be significantly invested in financial derivative instruments and liquid assets, which may result in the Fund being leveraged. No more than 30% of the Fund is permitted to be invested in securities listed or traded in Russia.

The Fund may hold up to 100% of its net asset value in financial derivative instruments including single stock and index futures, options, contracts for difference, swap contracts and warrants. The Fund may invest in derivative investments to gain long and short exposure to specific securities, for efficient portfolio management and to protect against exchange risk.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

These numbers rate how the Fund may perform. Generally the potential for higher gains also mean a larger risk of losses.

The lowest category does not mean a risk free investment. Historical data, such as is used for calculating this indicator, may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of this Fund.

The risk and reward category for this Fund is not guaranteed to remain unchanged, and may shift over time.

This Fund is ranked at 5 because funds of this type have experienced medium to high rises and falls in value in the past.

Risks materially relevant to the Fund which are not adequately captured by the indicator:

Emerging and Frontier Markets Risk: The securities markets in Emerging and Frontier Market countries are typically smaller, less liquid and significantly more volatile than securities markets in developed countries and may be subject to additional risks including political, economic, legal, currency, inflation and taxation risks.

Liquidity Risk: Lower liquidity means there may be insufficient buyers or sellers to allow the Fund to sell or buy investments readily.

Sub-Custodial Risk: The assets of funds traded in emerging markets may require the depositary to entrust safekeeping to sub-custodians which may not provide the same degree of investor protection.

Taxation Risk: The laws and practices of certain Emerging and Frontiers countries may not be as well established as those of developed countries and the Company could become subject to taxation laws applied retrospectively and not envisaged at the date investments are made, valued or sold.

Credit Risk: This refers to the likelihood of the Fund losing money if an issuer is unable to meet its financial obligations or goes bankrupt.

Share Currency Designation Risk: Changes in the value of the base currency of the Fund relative to the denominated currency of a share class may give rise to a risk for investors.

Counterparty Risk: The Fund may invest in derivative contracts and may find itself exposed to risk arising from the solvency of its counterparts and from their ability to respect the conditions of these contracts.

Derivatives Risk: Derivatives are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the assets they are based on. The impact on the Fund is greater where derivatives are used in an extensive way. The use of derivatives may result in the Fund being leveraged whereby the exposure of the Fund as a result of all positions held by it may exceed its net asset value and may result in gains or losses that are greater than the original amount invested. For more information on risks, please see the 'Risk Factors' section of the Prospectus and the Supplement.
