SUMMARY OF INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Wellington Commodities Fund seeks long-term total returns. The Investment Manager will actively manage the Fund against the customised equal sector-weighted S&P Goldman Sachs Commodities index, seeking to achieve the objective through the active management of commodities exposure through derivative instruments and commodity related ETFs. Exposures are based on proprietary top-down and bottom-up fundamental research.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

CAPITAL: Investment markets are subject to economic, regulatory, market sentiment and political risks. All investors should consider the risks that may impact their capital, before investing. The value of your investment may become worth more or less than at the time of the original investment. The Fund may experience a high volatility from time to time.

COMMODITIES: Commodities markets may react differently than equity or fixed income markets. Exposure to commodities is typically gained through derivatives.

CONCENTRATION: Concentration of investments within securities, issuers, sectors, industries, or geographical regions may impact performance.

DERIVATIVES: Derivatives may provide more market exposure than the money paid or deposited when the transaction is entered into (sometimes referred to as Leverage), Market movements can therefore result in a loss exceeding the original amount invested. Derivatives may be difficult to value. Derivatives may also be used for efficient risk and portfolio management, but there may be some mismatch in exposure when derivatives are used as hedges.

LEVERAGE: The use of leverage can expose the Fund to a higher degree of risk, such as (i) greater losses from investments, (ii) premature liquidations driven by margin calls

MANAGER: Investment performance depends on the investment management team and their investment strategies. If the strategies do not perform as expected, if opportunities to implement them do not arise, or if the team does not implement its investment strategies successfully; then a fund may underperform or experience losses.
