Objectives and investment policy

This Bond Fund is actively managed aiming to outperform the return of the JPM Asia Credit Index ex-Sovereign 1-10Y benchmark. The portfolio and the performance of the Fund can deviate from the benchmark. The Fund invests mainly in fixed income securities (debt instruments, bonds, notes, and similar fixed interest or floating-rate securities (including securities issued on a discount basis)) denominated in USD which have a minimum credit rating of at least CCC- (Standard & Poor's) or Caa3 (Moody's), of private issuers which are domiciled in the Asian region or which conduct the majority of their business activities there. The Fund may use derivatives to achieve the above aims. The Fund uses derivatives to reduce the impact of changes in currency exchange rates on the performance for this Unit Class. The investor can buy or sell units of the Fund on a daily basis, as further defined in the prospectus. This Unit Class makes regular distributions. The Fund shall bear the costs of standard brokerage and bank charges incurred by the Fund through securities transactions in relation to the portfolio. These charges are not included in the "Charges" section of this document.

Risk and reward profile

Risk profile

The Fund's risk and reward profile shows the variations in value an investment in this Fund would have undergone over the past five years. The Fund's risk rating may change in the future. Please note, higher possible gains generally also mean higher possible losses. The lowest risk category does not mean that the fund is risk free.

Why is the Fund in the specific category?

Investments in debt are affected by changes in interest rates, the size of the market segment, the currency allocation, the economic sector and the credit quality of the debt. Debt funds with shorter maturities tend to be less affected by changes in interest rates and so are debt funds investing primarily in highly rated governments, municipalities, corporates and other issuers. The Fund's application of Swing Pricing also impacts its risk and reward profile.

Are there any other particular risks?

The Fund's risk and reward profile does not reflect the risk inherent in future circumstances that differ from what the Fund has experienced in the recent past. This includes the following events which are rare but can have a large impact.

- Credit risk: Issuers of assets held by the Fund may not pay income or repay capital when due.
- Liquidity risk: It can have adverse effects in a situation when the Fund needs to sell assets for which there is not enough demand or only at much lower prices.
- Operational risk: Deficient processes, technical failures or catastrophic events may cause losses.
- Political and Legal risks: Investments are exposed to changes of rules and standards applied by a specific country. This includes restrictions on currency convertibility, the imposing of taxes or controls on transactions, the limitations of property rights or other legal risks. Investments in less developed financial markets may expose the Fund to increased operational, legal and political risk.
