INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The fund seeks to earn superior risk-adjusted returns through disciplined stock selection across the world's emerging markets. We engage in fundamental, bottom-up research to identify companies that have solid business models, strong cash-flow generation potential and sound corporate governance, and are trading at attractive valuations. The fund invests primarily in Asia, Latin America, Eastern Europe, the Middle East and Africa.

PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY¹

Emerging markets rose in August, performing in-line with developed markets. Equities were weighed down by the spread of the Delta variant during the first half of the month, which spurred new lockdowns in China. However, the asset class rebounded in the latter half of the period as restrictions began to ease. India was the best performing large market due to strength among utilities, communication services and information technology. Brazil underperformed on weakness within the consumer discretionary and materials sectors. Oil prices fell during the month as the Delta variant curbed demand in China and peak travel season started to slow in other parts of the world. Emerging markets currencies strengthened against the dollar, which also appreciated against other developed markets currencies. Emerging markets equity funds continued to receive net inflows during the month and 2021/22 earnings expectations for emerging markets companies were revised higher.

The Fund generated a gain, but underperformed the MSCI EM Index Net benchmark in August. By country, stock selection in India and South Africa detracted from our relative performance, as did our overweight allocation to Brazil. Stock selection in China contributed positively. At the sector level, stock selection among financials and consumer discretionary negatively impacted our relative results, while stock selection among industrials and materials had a positive effect. Our overweight allocation to materials detracted from relative returns, while our underweight to consumer discretionary and overweight to financials both contributed positively. The portfolio is overweight materials, financials and industrials, while underweight communication services and consumer discretionary. By country, our largest overweights are Brazil and Russia, and our largest underweights are Taiwan and India. We have no exposure to Malaysia or Saudi Arabia.
