Investment / Performance Objectives & policy

The fund mainly invests, either directly or through derivatives, in securitised debt instruments, such as asset-backed and mortgage-backed securities, denominated in euro. The fund may invest significantly in below investment grade bonds. These investments are from anywhere in the world. Specifically, the fund normally invests at least 51% of total net assets in securitised debt instruments such as asset-backed and mortgage-backed securities, securitised debt instruments backed by non-conforming loans and collateralised loan obligations. The fund may also invest in other debt instruments such as covered bonds and money market instruments. The fund does not invest in leveraged securitised debt instruments provided in the form of synthetic and cash transactions, such as constant proportion debt obligations or leveraged super seniors. The fund may invest in the following asset classes up to the percentages of total net assets indicated:
- below investment grade debt instruments: 49%, including 10% in instruments rated CCC+/Caa1 or lower or unrated instruments
- credit default swaps on asset-backed securities (for hedging only): 10%
- contingent convertible bonds (coco bonds): 10%
The fund's net exposure to non-euro currencies may be up to 40% of total net assets.
The fund may use derivatives for reducing risks (hedging) and costs, and to gain additional investment exposure.

Risk and Reward Profile

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 3 years.
The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.
We have classified this product as 2 out of 7, which is a lower risk class.
This rates the potential losses from future performance at a low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact the capacity to pay you.

For any further details on investment risks, please refer in particular to the Risks section of the Fund's Prospectus.

Investment Manager Commentary

Market Development

The structured credit market continued to see healthy levels of activity in both the primary and secondary markets in March. Investor interest in the asset class remains strong, with some appetite for increased risk, as evidenced by the subscription levels of mezzanine tranches in the primary. Fundamental data on collateral performance remains strong, albeit deteriorating as expected. Spreads continue to offer a decent pick-up relative to the corporate market and the floater nature of the instrument seems to be an added attraction. The primary ABS/RMBS market saw good volumes, especially in the first three weeks of the month, with around EUR 7.6bn of syndicated deals. Of note were three prime RMBS, four auto ABS, two French and two German, and two Italian consumer ABS. The deals were well received and execution was very strong, with relatively low coverage of senior tranches and high coverage of mezzanine tranches. The deals were all priced well below initial guidance in terms of the discount margin. In the ABS/RMBS segment, secondary market activity was less intense, driven by primary market volumes, with spreads remaining broadly unchanged across the capital structure and all collateral types, with changes of no more than 2 basis points. The CLO market saw 18 transactions (13 new issues, 1 refi, 4 reset) for a total of around EUR 7.3 billion. The first quarter ended on a record high for the asset class, with the highest number of new issues in the CLO 2.0 era. Interest in transactions remains strong, with all recent managers successfully pricing AAA tranches below 150bp DM. It is also worth noting that a number of vehicles are liquidating portfolios as they do not find it advantageous to refinance at these levels, effectively reducing net issuance, a trend we expect to increase in the coming months. Spread indications are +125/185/240/380/610/925bp for AAA/AA/A/BB/BB tranches over 3m EURIBOR. Stability is evident across the capital structure, with a slight tightening in the sub-investment grade area. The impact of some idiosyncratic situations (notably Altice) has not affected market valuations in general, but selling has been seen in the most exposed names and those potentially at risk of breaching CCC levels or being over-collateralised.

Performance and Investment Choices

The Fund turned in a positive performance for the month. Credit spreads remained broadly stable, confirming the levels seen at the end of February. The performance for the month benefited from good carry generation through the indexation of coupons to money rates and an allocation that remains highly concentrated in investment grade mezzanine tranches. Management activity focused on the primary market, where the Fund participated in a number of new issues, particularly auto and consumer ABS. Investment opportunities at attractive spreads can still be seen in mezzanine tranches, given the short average maturity, the level of subordination/rating and the good fundamentals of the European consumer market.

Outlook and Investment Strategy

The first quarter of the year was extremely positive for the European securitisation market in terms of both primary volumes and performance. On the primary side, public deal volumes amounted to approximately EUR 33 billion (10.6 in CLOs) with a growth of almost 50% compared to Q1 2023. New issues were well absorbed by the market, with coverage ratios rising last month on senior tranches, while those on mezzanines remained very high (3x-8x) throughout the quarter. Credit spreads continued to tighten across all segments of the market, despite the good performance seen in the final months of 2023, while credit curves continued to flatten, as seen in recent months. Current levels, especially for some types of collateral, are not far from the lows recorded post-pandemic. Primary market activity is expected to remain strong in the coming months, while spreads are expected to be driven mainly by central bank monetary policy and volatility in interest rate and corporate credit markets. Given the levels reached by senior paper, we see less room for further tightening, with the exception of CLOs, while possible small corrections in the more junior tranches cannot be ruled out. In the long term, the view remains constructive due to the yield pickup of the asset class compared to government and corporate bonds, as well as the robust performance of European economies, which support transaction fundamentals.
