Risk and Reward Profile

◆ Lower risk				Higher risk ◆
◆ Typically lower rewards				Typically higher rewards ◆

- The indicator above is not a measure of the risk of capital loss, but an estimated measure of the Fund’s price movement over time. It is based on historical data, and thus may not be a reliable indication for the future.
 - The Fund is classified in the category above based on past behaviour of a composite of similarly managed strategies.
 - The indicated risk category is not guaranteed and may shift over time.
 - The indicator is designed to help investors understand the uncertainties both for loss and for growth that may affect their investment. In this context, the lowest category does not mean ‘risk free.’
 - The Fund does not provide its investors with any guarantee on performance, nor on monies invested in it.
- In addition to the risk captured by the indicator, the overall Fund value may be considerably affected by:
- Investments in equity securities may fall in market value due to adverse market and economic conditions, perceptions regarding the industries in which the issuers of securities held by the Fund participate and the particular circumstances and performance of particular companies whose securities the Fund holds.
 - Investing in fixed income securities offers you the chance to gain returns through growing your capital and generating income. However, there is a risk that the institution which issued the security will fail, which would result in a loss of income to the fund, along with its initial investment. Fixed income values are likely to fall if interest rates rise.
 - Securities of infrastructure companies may be adversely impacted by economic or regulatory occurrences affecting their industries. In addition, technological innovation, changes in the number of end-users and susceptibility to terrorist acts or political actions may affect the operations of the companies in which the Fund invests.
 - REITs can be affected by changes in the value of the underlying property they own. They are dependent upon the skills of the managers and are not diversified. Some REITs may hold assets concentrated in a specific industry such as health care, and therefore may be subject to additional risks associated with that industry.
 - You should note that returns which are derived from derivatives may be more volatile than returns derived from the asset underlying the derivatives. Certain derivatives may result in gains or losses that are greater than the original amount invested.
 - Changes in exchange rates may cause the value of investments to decrease or increase.
 - Emerging markets or less developed countries may face more political, economic or structural challenges than developed countries. This means your money is at greater risk.
 - An extended discussion of the risks associated with an investment in the Fund is set out in the prospectus.
