Asia Bonds, a compartment of Indosuez Funds Unit: M (Accumulation) LU1449897591; Unit: MX (Distribution) LU1449897674

This document may be representative of the distribution and accumulation unit, as indicated in the "Practical information" section. This SICAV is managed by CA Indosuez Wealth (Asset Management).

OBJECTIVES AND INVESTMENT POLICY

The objective of the compartment (hereinafter, the "Fund") is to achieve a return and/or a long-term capital gain by managing a portfolio composed primarily of fixed or variable income debt instruments, with no restrictions on currency, sector or maturity date.

Investment in fixed-rate or variable-rate debt securities will be primarily in issuers with an investment grade rating. A minority holding of the Fund may also be invested in high-yield debt securities. Up to 10% of the portfolio may be invested in debt securities with a rating below B-. The average rating for bonds and debt securities will be BB-. The minimum average rating for bonds and debt securities will be BB-. No more than 15% of net assets may be invested in unrated securities.

In particular, the Fund will invest up to 100% of its assets in securities from issuers domiciled in an Asian country, and/or issuers conducting their business or generating a significant portion of their income in an Asian country.

The net assets of the Fund will be invested mainly in bonds or other debt securities, including convertible bonds and contingent convertible bonds. Up to 20% of the net assets may be invested in contingent convertible bonds. It may invest up to 10% of the net assets in bond UCITS, particularly ETFs.

Within the limits of the investment restrictions as described in Chapter 4 of the prospectus, the Fund may make use of futures or options contracts, as well as interest rate and/or credit derivatives, either for hedging or asset exposure purposes.

For each Share Class, the Fund is authorised to hedge exchange rate risk as part of its asset management approach.

The Fund aims to outperform its benchmark index, specifically the BofA Merrill Lynch Asian Dollar Index (ADOL). The Fund is actively managed, meaning that it may significantly differ from the benchmark index in terms of its composition and that there is no restriction regarding the extent to which the Fund's portfolio may deviate from the index. The investment scope is not limited to the benchmark index; the manager may purchase securities or invest in sectors which are not cited, for example in order to benefit from specific circumstances or to adapt to market conditions.

The investments underlying this Fund do not take into account the European Union's criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

The base currency for the Fund is the US dollar.

The investor may purchase or sell units of the Fund on a daily basis (full banking days in Luxembourg and Hong Kong).

All the Fund's income is reinvested.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

With lower risk, With higher risk, potentially lower rewards potentially higher rewards

This indicator represents the annual historical volatility of the Fund over a 5-year period.

Risk category 4 reflects a moderate potential gain and/or loss in the value of the portfolio. This is achieved through investments in bonds on the Asian market.

Historical data, such as that used to calculate the synthetic indicator, cannot be considered as a reliable indication of the Fund's future risk profile.

The risk category associated with the Fund is not guaranteed and may change over time. The lowest risk category does not mean "risk free".

Your initial investment is not guaranteed.

Significant risk(s) for the Fund not taken into account in this indicator include the following:

Risks linked to emerging markets: The Fund invests in emerging markets, which carries a higher risk than investing in developed markets. Investments in emerging markets are likely to experience greater rises and falls in value and may suffer trading problems. A Fund that invests in emerging markets rather than developed countries may encounter difficulties when buying and selling securities. Emerging markets are also more likely to experience political uncertainty and investments held in these countries may not have the same protection as those held in more developed countries.

Concentration risk: To the extent that the Fund's investments are concentrated in one particular country, market, industry or asset class, it could suffer losses due to adverse occurrences affecting that country, market, industry or asset class.

Risks associated with holding high-yield bonds: The Fund invests in sub-investment grade bonds. These bonds may produce a higher level of income than investment-grade bonds but at a higher risk to your capital.

Risk linked to holding contingent convertible bonds (CoCos): Contingent convertible bonds may be automatically converted into shares or be subject to a reduction in value, if the financial strength of the issuer declines in a specific way. This may lead to a substantial or total loss of the bond's value.

Risk linked to the use of derivatives: The Fund may use derivatives, i.e. financial instruments whose value depends on that of an underlying asset. However, even minor fluctuations in the price of the underlying asset may cause significant changes in the price of the corresponding derivative. The use of over-the-counter derivatives exposes the Fund to a risk that the counterparty will fully or partially fail to honour its contractual obligations. This may result in a financial loss for the Fund.

Liquidity risk: Liquidity risk exists when particular investments are difficult to purchase or sell. This can reduce the Fund's returns because the Fund may be unable to trade at advantageous times or prices. This may result from events of unprecedented intensity and severity, such as pandemics or natural disasters.

CHARGES

The charges and commissions are used to cover the Fund's operating costs, including marketing and distribution of shares. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investment.
