Risk and reward profile

This risk indicator is calculated using historical data, which cannot be used as a prediction for the future risk profile of the Sub-fund. Therefore, the risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and the categorisation of the Sub-fund may shift over time. Even if the Sub-fund is in the lowest risk class you can lose money, as no investments are entirely risk free.

At this time, the level of the risk and reward profile is calculated to be a SRRRI category of 4, due to the nature of its investments, which include the following risks:

- Interest rate risk – the risk that an investment's value will change due to a change of interest rates.
- Market risk for investment in equity (and equity-type) securities – the risks associated with investments in equity include significant fluctuations in market prices, adverse issuer or market information and the subordinate status of equity in relation to debt instruments issued by the same company.
- Currency risk – changes in exchange rates between currencies or the conversion from one currency to another may cause the value of investments in the Sub-fund to diminish or increase.
- Liquidity risk – the risk arises when a particular security is difficult to purchase or sell. In principle acquisitions for the Sub-fund must only consist of securities that can be sold at any time. Nevertheless, it may be difficult to sell particular securities at the required time during certain phases or in particular exchange segments or due to the deterioration of the economic situation. There is also the risk that securities traded in a tight market segment may be subject to significant price volatility.

- Counterparty risk – the Sub-fund may enter into transactions with contractual partners, which will expose the Sub-fund to the credit of its counterparties and their ability to satisfy the terms of such contracts. If a contractual partner becomes insolvent, it can no longer or can only partly settle unpaid debts owed to the Sub-fund.
- Credit risk – the Sub-fund may invest a portion of its assets in debt securities. The issuers of these debt securities may become insolvent, which will mean that the securities will lose all or some of their value.
- Derivative risk – the Sub-fund may use financial derivative instruments which may add volatility to the performance of the underlying securities and involve unusual financial risks.
- Operational risk – which may occur due to technical issues for example natural disasters, misunderstandings and fraud.
