

AQR Systematic Total Return UCITS Fund

October 2019

Fund Objectives and Investment Process

The Fund seeks to generate sustainable total returns through an efficient, diversified allocation to a broad set of traditional market risk premia, alternative risk premia, and differentiated sources of alpha. The strategy is implemented via a balanced risk allocation to three of AQR's core competencies: Risk-Balanced Market Exposures, Multi-Asset Trend, and Market-Neutral Security Selection, in a single, integrated portfolio. We expect each of these sub-strategies to exhibit low long-term correlation to one another, while seeking to generate attractive returns and diversifying an investor's overall portfolio.

Our multi-strategy investment process includes:

Risk Parity

- Equity Risk
- Nominal Interest Rate Risk
- Inflation Risk

Multi-Asset Trend

- Equities
- Fixed Income
- Commodities
- Currencies

Market-Neutral Security Selection

- Value
- Momentum
- Defensive
- Other

Assets Under Management (approx. as of 11/01/19)

Estimated Master Fund Net Assets: $687 million

Estimated Available Cash* (% of NAV): 69%

*Available cash is cash or cash equivalents that are free to use for any purpose, i.e. not used up for collateral, purchases, etc.

Notes

Leverage Reporting To calculate portfolio leverage, the first step is the determination of position-level exposure values for all positions in the portfolio. For non-fixed income exposures, the position-level exposures are the market values (for cash securities positions) or the notional amounts (for derivatives positions). All government bonds, bond futures, swaps on bond futures, interest rate swaps and interest rate futures exposures are reported using the exposure of an equivalent hypothetical position with a duration of 7 years. Corporate bonds exposures are expressed as market values, and credit default swaps exposures are expressed as dirty bond price equivalents. Certain positions that are deemed not to be additive for calculating meaningful portfolio leverage are excluded; these positions include (but are not limited to) repo, cash and cash equivalents, risk overlays, and currency hedges. Some positive and negative position-level exposures may be netted if they meet the criteria defined by AQR's netting rules. After this netting, the portfolio leverage may be expressed as the resultant Long Exposure and Short Exposure, whose absolute values are summed and reported as Total Exposure.

Daily Value at Risk (VaR): 0.9%

The VaR (Value-at-Risk) shown is for this investment. VaR is estimated from daily portfolio returns over the last seven years of the end of day positions for the fund as of the reporting date. Approximately 5% of the historical days had losses greater than the VaR. Recent dates are weighted more heavily than older dates in this computation. Some assumptions and approximations are necessary to project historical returns, and VaR numbers are interpolated to get to exactly 5%. VaR changes over time, and can increase significantly. Losses much greater than VaR are possible in a day, and larger losses are possible over longer periods. This VaR is a backward-looking risk measure. It is not necessarily AQR's forecast of forward-looking risk.

All performance figures contained herein reflect the reinvestment of dividends and all other earnings and represent unaudited estimates of realized and unrealized gains and losses prepared by AQR Capital Management, LLC. They are intended for illustrative purposes only. Please refer to your monthly statements for actual performance and expenses.

PAST PERFORMANCE IS NOT A GUARANTEE OF FUTURE PERFORMANCE.

Gross performance results do not reflect the deduction of investment advisory fees, which would reduce an investor's actual return. For example, assume that $1 million is invested in an account with the Firm, and this account achieves a 10% compounded annualized return, gross of fees, for five years. At the end of five years that account would grow to $1,610,510 before the deduction of management fees. Assuming management fees of 1.00% per year are deducted monthly from the account, the value of the account at the end of five years would be $1,532,886 and the annualized rate of return would be 8.92%. For a ten-year period, the ending dollar values before and after fees would be $2,593,742 and $2,349,739, respectively. AQR's asset based fees may range up to 2.85% of assets under management, and are generally billed monthly or quarterly at the commencement of the calendar month or quarter during which AQR will perform the services to which the fees relate. Performance fees are generally equal to 20% of net realized and unrealized profits each year, after restoration of any losses carried forward from prior years. In addition, AQR funds incur expenses (including start-up, legal, accounting, audit, administrative and regulatory expenses) and may have redemption or withdrawal charges up to 2% based on gross redemption or withdrawal proceeds. Please refer to the Fund's Private Offering Memoranda and AQR's ADV Part 2A for more information on fees. Consultants supplied with gross results are to use this data in accordance with SEC, CFTC, NFA or the applicable jurisdiction's guidelines.

The exposures above are subject to change at any time.

There is a risk of substantial loss associated with trading commodities, futures, options and leverage. Before investing carefully consider your financial position and risk tolerance to determine if the proposed trading style is appropriate. Investors should realize that when engaging in leverage, trading futures, commodities and/or granting/writing options one could lose the full balance of their account. It is also possible to lose more than the initial deposit when engaging in leverage, trading futures and/or granting/writing options. All funds committed should be purely risk capital.

Fund offering documents contain risk warnings that are specific to each fund. Investors should only invest in a fund once they have thoroughly reviewed the prospectus and Key Investor Information Document ("KIID") for the fund and carefully considered the relevant investment objectives, risks, charges and fees. Investors may wish to consult an independent financial advisor for personal and specific investment advice before investing.
