Fund Overview

Fund Aspects:

Global, long/short absolute return portfolio that seeks to efficiently provide diversified exposure to four investment styles:

Value: The tendency for relatively cheap assets to outperform relatively expensive ones.

Momentum: The tendency for an asset's recent relative performance to continue in the near future.

Carry: The tendency for higher-yielding assets to provide higher returns than lower-yielding assets.

Defensive: The tendency for lower-risk and higher-quality assets to generate higher risk-adjusted returns.

The Fund constructs long/short portfolios across stocks/industries, equity indices, bonds, interest rates and currencies.

Fund Objective:

The Fund seeks to produce high risk-adjusted returns while maintaining low-to-zero correlation to traditional markets.

There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective.

Umbrella Fund:

The Fund is a sub-fund of AQR UCITS Funds, a Luxembourg based UCITS of which the management company is FundRock Management Company S.A.

Risk Management:

Risk control is built into AQR's portfolio construction process with a focus on downside risk management.

Portfolio managers, investment committee and risk management team actively assess the risk of the Fund.

The Fund also incorporates a systematic drawdown control procedure overseen by the Risk Manager to mitigate downside risk.

Risk and Reward Profile:

Calculated using historical data which may not be a reliable indicator of the Fund's future risk profile. See Key Investor Information Document (KIID) for details.

<sup>2</sup> Please note this retail share class is clean, meaning it does not include underlying fees for sales or distribution. Additional costs/expenses (including transaction costs) may be incurred by the Fund. Further information in this respect is available from AQR Capital Management LLC on request. Fees follow a step-down structure. Fees are charged on an investor's net aggregate subscription (subscriptions minus redemptions) vs. a blended weighted average approach.

<sup>3</sup> Please note performance fees are charged over a cash hurdle measured by the ESTR for this share class.

<sup>5</sup> A style, or factor, is a systematic investment strategy that has long-term evidence of positive returns in all applicable asset classes and regions. Please refer to the journal article, "Investing with Style," for further information – <https://www.aqr.com/Insights/Research/Journal-Article/Investing-With-Style>

<sup>7</sup> Source: AQR, Bloomberg. Past performance does not predict future returns. The return of your investment may increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations if your investment is made in a currency other than that used in the past performance calculation. All fund performance data are on a NAV to NAV basis, net income reinvested. Performance data is unavailable for the time periods with no percentage growth shown. Where a share class is created after the fund's launch date, and has been active for less than a year, a simulated past performance is used, based upon the performance of the fund by converting the gross USD returns into the relevant share class currency and then taking into account the difference in the ongoing charges and including the impact of any performance fees. Returns over one year are annualised. For fees, refer to the Key Information section.

<sup>8</sup> The Fund is actively managed. The Index is not being used in reference to the management and/or implementation of the investment policy of the Fund, the referenced Index is used for the calculation of performance fees and/or as a point of comparison only.

Fund Characteristics

Target Risk Allocation:

Source: AQR. For illustrative purpose only. There is no guarantee that the target risk allocations will be achieved and actual allocations may be significantly different than that shown here. The illustrative allocation above does not represent the actual allocation of any AQR client account, fund or strategy. Please read important disclosures at the end of this document.

Principal Risks

The Fund may use derivatives in an attempt to reduce risk (hedging) or for investment purposes. It may be that the use of derivatives may not always be successful and cause unit prices to fluctuate which may in turn result in loss to the Fund.

The Fund is exposed to the currency markets which may be highly volatile. Large price swings can occur in such markets within very short periods and may result in your investment suffering a loss.

The Fund may enter into one or more derivatives with a counterparty. There is a risk that this party may fail to make its payments or become insolvent which may result in the fund and your investment suffering a loss.

The Fund is exposed to concentration risk as it may have increased exposure to a particular asset or reference rate. A fall in value of the asset or reference rate can result in a greater loss to the Fund which may be more than the amount borrowed or invested.

The Fund may invest in bonds, the value of which depends on the issuer being able to make its payments. There is always a risk that the issuer will fail to do so and this may result in your investment suffering a loss. This risk increases where the Fund invests in bonds which may not be recognised or which are rated below investment grade by major rating agencies or which are backed by more risky assets such as mortgages.

The Fund may invest in less economically developed (known as emerging) markets which can involve greater risks than well developed economies. Amongst other issues, the level of government supervision and market regulation may be less than in more developed economies and could affect the value of your investment. Investment in emerging markets also increases the risk of settlement default.

There are risks involved with investing including the possible loss of principal. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

The Fund relies upon the performance of the investment manager of the Fund. If the investment manager performs poorly the value of your investment is likely to be adversely affected.

More information in relation to risks in general may be found in the "Risk Factors" section of the prospectus.

Investment Approach

The Fund seeks to provide investors with truly diversifying returns, at both the strategy and portfolio levels. It is diversified across the four key styles and well-diversified within each style, holding a large number of positions across a range of global markets.

The Fund invests only in highly liquid instruments and those for which there is substantial market data history. In general, the Fund seeks to trade in the most liquid markets. In each asset class, a portfolio is built using a bottom-up systematic process to offer roughly equal exposures across the styles pertinent to that asset class.

Advanced Portfolio Construction

AQR employs several sophisticated techniques to implement a portfolio that both efficiently harvests returns and effectively manages risk.

Diversification: Actively maintained across both styles and across asset classes.

Risk targeting: Targets a consistent level of volatility in changing market conditions.

Style agreement: Allows for the risk levels of asset classes to vary depending on the degree of agreement across styles.

Non-directionality: Allows for hedging should any strategy take on conditional correlations to equity markets.

Efficient execution: Utilizes proprietary, time-tested algorithms to minimize trading costs.

Reasons to Invest

Multi-asset, Multi-style Approach: The Fund employs a market-neutral, long/short strategy across four asset groups and four distinct investment styles. The four styles have delivered consistent long-term performance backed by sound economic reasoning across many unrelated asset classes, in different markets and in out-of-sample tests.

Portfolio Diversification: The Fund seeks to provide long-term returns with a low correlation to traditional asset class returns.

Disciplined and Systematic Investment Process: The Fund employs a transparent method of investing that produces unique long-term positive returns across markets and asset classes.

A Core Alternative Solution: Investors may benefit from the simplicity of a single, balanced, core solution compared to the challenges of picking several single style products.

AQR Advantages

Experience: AQR's experience in identifying style premia in many contexts is unique, with more than 20 years of research in fundamental investment styles.

Acumen: Strong quantitative research team combining some of the best minds of academia and industry.

Breadth and Depth of Team: The Style Premia strategy is managed by a more than 18-member team of portfolio managers and researchers, supported by AQR's global asset allocation, global stock selection, risk management, trading and information technology teams.

Definition: ESTR is based on actual transactions and reflects the average of the interest rates that banks pay to borrow sterling overnight from other financial institutions.

Where the benchmark is not being used in reference to the management and/or implementation of the investment policy of the Fund, the referenced benchmark is used for the calculation of performance fees and/or as a point of comparison.

The fees and charges paid by the Fund will reduce the return on your investment. Certain costs paid by the Fund will be charged in USD and exchange rate fluctuations may cause these costs to increase or decrease when converted into your local currency.

The Investment Manager is entitled to receive a performance fee in relation to certain share classes of the Fund. Please refer to the prospectus to check if a performance fee is charged on your shares and for further detail of the performance fee calculation method. Where charged, the performance fee is calculated in respect of each twelve-month period ending on 31 March of each year ("Calculation Period"). The performance fee calculation methodology applies a high-on-high model, whereby the performance fee may only be charged if the net asset value per share exceeds the net asset value per share at which the performance fee was last crystallised. The performance fee may only be charged if the cumulative overperformance/(underperformance) since the date at which the performance fee was last crystallised is a positive amount. In other words, the methodology incorporates a "loss carryforward" mechanism, meaning that losses carried forward from a previous Calculation Period will have to be recovered before any performance fee becomes payable. The performance fee amounts to 10% of any increase in value of the share class above the relevant hurdle. Negative performance of the hurdle will not be taken into account in calculating the performance fee. The performance fee is crystallised annually on 31 March, or the date when shares are redeemed. The performance reference period (i.e. the time horizon over which the performance is measured and the loss carryforward mechanism applies) corresponds to the whole life of the share class and cannot be reset. Generally, the performance fee is paid to the Investment Manager within 14 business days of the month end in which crystallisation occurs.
