Investment Objective

The Fund seeks maximum long-term capital growth.

Fees and Expenses of the Fund

This table describes the fees and expenses that you pay if you buy and hold shares of the Fund. The table and example do not reflect any transaction fees or commissions that may be charged by a shareholder's financial intermediary when buying or selling shares.

Shareholder Fees (fees paid directly from your investment)

	Investor	Advisor	Institutional
Maximum Sales Charge (Load) Imposed on Purchases (as a percentage of offering price)	None	None	None
Exchange Fee	None	None	None
Redemption Fee	None	None	None

Annual Fund Operating Expenses (expenses that you pay each year as a percentage of the value of your investment)

	Investor	Advisor	Institutional
Management Fees	0.98%	0.98%	0.98%
Distribution (12b-1) Fees	None	None	None
Other Expenses	0.42	0.36 ¹	0.26 ¹
Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses ²	0.01	0.01	0.01
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses	1.41	1.35	1.25
Fee Waiver and Expense Reimbursement ³	0.00	0.00	0.00
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses After Fee Waiver and Expense Reimbursement	1.41	1.35	1.25

¹ "Other Expenses" are based on estimated amounts for the current fiscal year.

² "Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses" shown are for the fiscal year ended 30 September 2019 and are indirect expenses incurred from the Fund's investment in various money market funds (acquired funds). To the extent that the Fund invests in acquired funds, Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses in the table above may not match the ratios of expenses to average net assets shown in the "Financial Highlights" in the Fund's prospectus, since the Financial Highlights reflect the operating expenses of the Fund and do not include fees and expenses of acquired funds.

³ Artisan Partners Limited Partnership, the Fund's investment adviser ("Artisan Partners"), has contractually agreed to bear certain expenses and waive its management fees to the extent necessary to cause total annual fund operating expenses (excluding taxes, interest, all commissions and other normal charges incident to the purchase and sale of portfolio securities, acquired fund fees and expenses, borrowing costs such as dividends on securities sold short, and extraordinary charges such as litigation costs, but including management fees paid to Artisan Partners) not to exceed 1.50% of the average daily net assets of Investor Shares, 1.40% of the average daily net assets of Advisor Shares and 1.35% of the average daily net assets of Institutional Shares. This contract continues through 31 January 2021.

Expense Example

The example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes a 5% return each year, and that the Fund's operating expenses are equal to Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses After Fee Waiver and Expense Reimbursement in the first year and Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses thereafter. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

	1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
Investor	$144	$446	$771	$1,691
Advisor	$137	$428	$739	$1,624
Institutional	$127	$397	$686	$1,511

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or "turns over" its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund's performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund's portfolio turnover rate was 52.30% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund's investment team employs a fundamental investment process to construct a diversified portfolio of US and non-US growth companies across a broad capitalization range. The team seeks to invest in companies that it believes possess franchise characteristics, are benefiting from an accelerating profit cycle and are trading at a discount to its estimate of private market value. The Fund's investment process focuses on two distinct elements—security selection and capital allocation. The team overlays its investment process with environmental, social and governance ("ESG") considerations and broad knowledge of the global economy.

- Security Selection—The team seeks to identify companies that have franchise characteristics (e.g., low cost production capability, possession of a proprietary asset, dominant market share or a defensible brand name), are benefiting from an accelerating profit cycle and are trading at a discount to the team's estimate of private market value. The team looks for companies that are well positioned for long-term growth, which is driven by demand for their products and services at an early enough stage in their profit cycle to benefit from the increased cash flows produced by the emerging profit cycle.
- Capital Allocation—Based on the team's fundamental analysis of a company's profit cycle, it divides the portfolio into three parts. GardenSM investments are small positions in the early part of their profit cycle that may warrant more sizeable allocations as their profit cycle accelerates. CropSM investments are positions that are being increased to a full weight because the team believes they are moving through the strongest part of their profit cycles. HarvestSM investments are positions that are being reduced as they near the team's estimates of full valuation or their profit cycles begin to decelerate.
- ESG Considerations—The team employs a framework in assessing ESG factors that informs its security selection and capital allocation process.
- Broad Knowledge—The team overlays the security selection and capital allocation elements of its investment process with a desire to invest opportunistically across the entire global economy. The team seeks broad knowledge of the global economy in order to position it to find growth wherever it occurs.

The Fund primarily invests in common stocks and other equity securities of US and non-US companies, including depositary receipts. The Fund's investments in non-US securities may include investments in developed markets, as well as emerging and less developed markets.

The US companies in which the Fund invests generally have market capitalizations of at least $1 billion at the time of initial purchase, although the Fund may invest in a US company with a lower market capitalization if it already holds a position in that company. There is no restriction on the size of the non-US companies in which the Fund may invest. The Fund may invest in initial public offerings ("IPOs").

The Fund may invest to a limited extent in equity-linked securities that provide economic exposure to a security of one or more non-US companies without direct investment in the underlying securities (called "participation certificates" in the Fund's prospectus, but may be called different names by issuers).

Principal Risks

Like all mutual funds, the Fund takes investment risks and it is possible for you to lose money by investing in the Fund. The team's ability to choose suitable investments for the Fund has a significant impact on the Fund's ability to achieve its investment objective. The Fund's principal risks include:

- Market Risks—Markets may perform poorly and the returns from the securities in which the Fund invests may underperform returns from the general securities markets. Securities markets may experience periods of high volatility and reduced liquidity in response to governmental actions or intervention, economic or market developments, or other external factors. The value of a company's securities may rise or fall in response to company, market, economic or other news.

- Foreign Investing Risks—Foreign securities may underperform US securities and may be more volatile than US securities. Risks relating to investments in foreign securities (including, but not limited to, depositary receipts) and to securities of issuers with significant exposure to foreign markets include currency exchange rate fluctuation; less available public information about the issuers of securities; less stringent regulatory standards; lack of uniform accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards; and country risks, including less liquidity, high inflation rates and unfavorable economic practices; and political instability and expropriation and nationalization risks.
- Emerging Markets Risks—Investment risks typically are greater in emerging and less developed markets. For example, in addition to the risks associated with investments in any foreign country, political, legal and economic structures in these less developed countries may be new and changing rapidly, which may cause instability and greater risk of loss. Their securities markets may be less developed, and securities in those markets are generally more volatile and less liquid than those in the developed markets. Investing in emerging market countries may involve substantial risk due to, among other reasons, limited information; higher brokerage costs; different accounting, auditing and financial reporting standards; less developed legal systems and thinner trading markets as compared to those in developed countries; different clearing and settlement procedures and custodial services; and currency blockages or transfer restrictions. Emerging market countries also are more likely to experience high levels of inflation, deflation or currency devaluations, which could hurt their economies and securities markets. Certain emerging markets also may face other significant internal or external risks, including a heightened risk of war or ethnic, religious or racial conflicts. In addition, governments in many emerging market countries participate to a significant degree in their economies and securities markets, which may impair investment and economic growth of companies in those markets. Such markets may also be heavily reliant on foreign capital and, therefore, vulnerable to capital flight.
- Currency Risks—Foreign securities usually are denominated and traded in foreign currencies and the exchange rates between foreign currencies and the US dollar fluctuate continuously. The Fund's performance will be affected by its direct or indirect exposure, which may include exposure through US dollar denominated depositary receipts and participation certificates, to a particular currency due to favorable or unfavorable changes in currency exchange rates relative to the US dollar. The Fund's direct or indirect exposure to a particular currency may be hedged to mitigate currency volatility or because the Fund believes a currency is overvalued. There can be no guarantee that any hedging activity will be successful. Hedging activity and/or use of forward foreign currency contracts may reduce or limit the opportunity for gain and involves counterparty risk, which is the risk that the contracting party will not fulfill its contractual obligation to deliver the currency contracted for at the agreed upon price to the Fund.
- Small and Medium-Sized Company Risks—Securities of small and medium-sized companies tend to be more volatile and less liquid than securities of large companies. Compared to large companies, small and medium-sized companies typically may have analyst coverage by fewer brokerage firms – meaning they may trade at prices that reflect incomplete or inaccurate information. Smaller companies may have a shorter history of operations, less access to financing and a less diversified product line – making them more susceptible to market pressures and more likely to have volatile security prices. During some periods, securities of small and medium-sized companies, as an asset class, have underperformed the securities of larger companies.
- Growth Investing Risks—Growth stocks may fall out of favor with investors and underperform other asset types during given periods. A company may never achieve the earnings growth the team anticipated.
- Risks of Emphasizing a Region, Country, Sector or Industry—If the Fund has invested a higher percentage of its total assets in a particular region, country, sector or industry, changes affecting that region, country, sector or industry may have a significant impact on the performance of the Fund's overall portfolio.
- Participation Certificates Risks—Investing in a participation certificate subjects the Fund to the risks associated with an investment in the underlying equity security and also exposes the Fund to counterparty risk, which is the risk that the bank or broker-dealer that issues the certificate will not fulfill its contractual obligation to timely pay the Fund the amount owed under the certificate.
- Impact of Actions by Other Shareholders—The Fund, like all mutual funds, pools the investments of many investors. Actions by one investor or multiple investors in the Fund may have an adverse effect on the Fund and on other investors. For example, shareholder purchase and redemption activity may affect the per share amount of the Fund's distributions of its net income and net realized gains, if any, thereby increasing or reducing the tax burden on the Fund's shareholders subject to income tax who receive Fund distributions.
- Operational and Cybersecurity Risks—Operational failures, cyber-attacks or other disruptions that affect the Fund's service providers, the Fund's counterparties, other market participants or the issuers of securities held by the Fund may adversely affect the Fund and its shareholders, including by causing losses for the Fund or impairing Fund operations.
- Investing in IPOs Risks—When the Fund is small, IPOs may be a significant contributor to the Fund's total return. But, as the Fund grows larger, the effect of IPOs on the Fund's performance will generally decrease. Investing in IPOs is risky and the prices of stocks purchased in IPOs tend to fluctuate more widely than stocks of companies that have been publicly traded for a longer period of time. Stocks purchased in IPOs generally do not have a trading history, and information about the companies may be available for very limited periods.

This section provides some indication of the risks of investing in the Fund. The following bar chart shows how the performance of the Fund's Investor Shares has varied over time.

Past performance (before and after taxes) is not necessarily an indication of how any class of the Fund will perform in the future.

After-tax returns are shown only for Investor Shares, and the after-tax returns for Advisor Shares and Institutional Shares will vary from Investor Shares. After-tax returns are calculated using the historical highest individual federal marginal income tax rates and do not reflect the impact of state and local taxes.

Your actual after-tax returns depend on your own tax situation and may differ from those shown. After-tax returns are not relevant to investors who hold their Fund shares in a tax-advantaged account, or to investors who are tax-exempt.

¹ Because the Fund's Advisor Shares and Institutional Shares have not been offered for a full calendar year, the information provided represents the performance of the Fund's Investor Shares. Advisor Shares, Institutional Shares and the Fund's Investor Shares would have substantially similar annual returns because the shares are invested in the same portfolio of securities. The performance of the Advisor Shares and Institutional Shares will be different from the performance of Investor Shares because the Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses associated with each class will be different.

The Fund intends to make distributions that may be taxed as ordinary income, qualified dividend income, or capital gains, except when you are investing through a tax-advantaged arrangement, such as a 401(k) plan or an individual retirement account. If you invest through such tax-advantaged arrangements, you may be subject to tax upon withdrawal from those arrangements.

Payments to Broker-Dealers and Other Financial Intermediaries

If you purchase Fund shares through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary (such as a bank or financial advisor), the Fund, the investment adviser and/or the distributor may pay the financial intermediary for the services provided to the Fund and its shareholders. The investment adviser and/or the distributor may also pay the financial intermediary for the sale of Fund shares and related services. These payments may create a conflict of interest by influencing the broker-dealer or other financial intermediary and your salesperson to recommend the Fund over another investment. Ask your salesperson or visit your financial intermediary's website for more information.
