Investment Policy

The aim of the Fund is to provide a high level of risk adjusted income by investing in higher yielding, secured and unsecured floating rate senior loans and other secured and unsecured senior floating rate debt instruments issued by mainly European corporations and other businesses in any currency. The Fund can also invest in certain derivative instruments. The Fund invests in instruments which are typically rated below investment grade credit quality (BB+ or below) or, if not rated, will be of equivalent credit quality. The underlying portfolio seeks to diversify its investments across issuers and industries at all times.

Investing involves risk including the risk of loss of capital. Past performance does not predict future returns. Neither simulated nor historical performance is a reliable indicator for current or future performance.

Potential Risks

The Fund's risk and reward profile does not reflect the risk inherent in future circumstances that differ from what the Fund has experienced in the recent past. This includes the following events which are rare but can have a large impact.

- Credit risk: Issuers of assets held by the Fund may not pay income or repay capital when due. Part of the Fund's investments may have considerable credit risk.
- Liquidity risk: Assets cannot necessarily be sold at regular cost in an adequately short timeframe. The Fund's investments may be prone to very limited liquidity. The Fund will endeavor to mitigate this risk by various measures.
- Valuation risk: The value of certain assets held by the Fund may be inherently difficult to establish and is potentially the subject of substantial uncertainty.
- Counterparty risk: Bankruptcy or insolvency of the Fund's derivative counterparties may lead to payment or delivery default. The Subfund will endeavor to mitigate this risk by the receipt of financial collateral given as guarantees.
- Operational risk: Deficient processes, technical failures or catastrophic events may cause losses.
- Political and Legal risks: Investments are exposed to changes of rules and standards applied by a specific country. This includes restrictions on currency convertibility, the imposing of taxes or controls on transactions, the limitations of property rights or other legal risks.
- Sustainability risks: Sustainability risks are environmental, social or governance events or conditions that can have a material negative effect on the return, depending on the relevant sector, industry and company exposure.

The product's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses, as well as more complete information about the product, are provided in the prospectus (or relevant offering document), which should be read carefully before investing.

⁴ The risk indicator assumes you keep the Product for 5 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you redeem at an early stage and you may get back less. The Summary Risk Indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this Product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the Product will lose money because of movements in the markets. Be aware of currency risk if your reference currency differs from the currency of the Product. You may receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. Investors shall note that the Product may be exposed to further risks such as operational, counterparty, political, sustainability and legal risks that are not included in the Summary Risk Indicator. This Product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

⁵ If the currency of a financial product and/or its costs is different from your reference currency, the return and cost may increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations.

For the first quarter, the fund's security selection within bank loans positively contributed to its relative performance versus the index.

The fund continues to be overweight in Service, Financial, and Transportation and is currently underweight in the Information Technology, Chemicals, and Food/Tobacco sectors.

AUM finished the quarter at EUR 198.36mn, down from EUR 205.84 at the end of December 2023.

Outlook

The European loan markets carried forward the momentum seen in Q4 last year and had a strong start to the year with January posting the best monthly returns for the last 12 consecutive months. However, February and March were a period of consolidation and we witnessed negative price action in both those months (albeit positive total return driven by carry) driven by a more balanced macro backdrop around rates and certain issuer-specific stress emerging in the loan and high-yield markets. The current market backdrop has put a lid on the repricing wave that we witnessed in the early part of the year. Having said that, the technical backdrop remains very favorable with limited net issuance and robust CLO (collateralized loan obligations) creation. We expect M&A supply to pick up gradually as we progress through the year.

We continue to expect a tug-of-war between issuer-specific fundamentals and market-wide technicals as we move through the year. As a result, we expect 2024 to be a "carry-minus" year as opposed to 2023 that was a significant "carry-plus" year. Furthermore, we remain very constructive on the market longer term and believe it continues to offer superior risk-adjusted returns through the cycle.

It is not possible to invest in an index. The index returns shown do not represent the results of actual trading of investable assets/securities. Investors pursuing a strategy similar to an index may experience higher or lower returns and will bear the cost of fees and expenses that will reduce returns.
