MANAGER COMMENT

Market Overview

Panic is back! May was a big risk-off month, as the US government formally added Huawei to its 'Entity List'. This bars Huawei from doing business with any company based in the US and puts China's most prominent technology firm in a stranglehold. Meanwhile, bunds went from 0% to a multi-century record low of -0.202% and the S&P500 (-6.2%) had its 3rd worst month in the last 92 months (behind only December and September 2018). Investors braced for additional choppiness and piled into save-havens. Bond investors increasingly expect that economic weakness will lead the Fed to cut rates. Making things worse, the last day of May saw the start of broad government antitrust investigations into the US technology industry. Investigations are being simultaneously launched by the Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission. It looks like the former is taking on Apple and Google and the latter is going after Facebook and Amazon.

Performance

The fund (F share) beat the MSCI World Net Return Index by 0.78%. Year-to-date, the fund has gained 14.86%, outperforming the benchmark by 2.28%.

What worked?

- Industrials was the best performing sector. Top performer was IHS Markit, as it announced an asset swap with Informa that makes strategic sense.
- Information technology, once again, was a strong positive contributor. Good results from Everbridge, CyberArk and in particular NICE drove the performance.
- Sony was the best performer of the month, as it announced a JPY200 billion share buy-back and an alliance with Microsoft on cloud gaming.

What hurt?

- Consumer staples was the worst performing sector, as Primo Water was hit after it had to acknowledge increased competition in its water refill division, especially in high-volume locations. As a result, prior price increases will have to be dialed back.
- · Lumentum was another top detractor, a victim of the US-China trade war as Huawei is a big customer.

Strategy & Outlook

Of note in May, we bought A.O. Smith, as we took advantage of weakness in the stock price due to a recent short report. A.O. Smith is a leading water heater, water boiler and water treatment company.

As a reminder, we only invest in companies that in our view will play a role in shaping society (consumers, corporations, and governments) in the future. We have identified seven major themes we are looking to invest in: Nanotechnology, Ecology, Wellness, Generation Z, E-Society, Manufacturing 4.0 and Security. Hence, our name, NEWGEMS. Also, we integrate sustainable Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) Key Performance Indicators related to each theme into our investment process, as we are convinced that the analysis of ESG risks and opportunities should be part of any fundamental process.
