Volatility is a statistical measure of the dispersion of returns for a portfolio or market index. In most cases, the higher the volatility, the riskier.

Tracking Error is the standard deviation of the difference between the portfolio return and the desired investment benchmark return.

Sharpe Ratio is a ratio used to measure risk-adjusted performance. It is calculated by subtracting the risk-free rate from the rate of return for a portfolio and dividing the result by the standard deviation of the portfolio returns.

Quarterly comment

The MSCI Europe benchmark logged high single-digit gains over the first quarter of 2021, closing the period at a new all-time high, as global vaccine rollout raised hopes of an end to the disruption of the coronavirus pandemic and a return to economic growth.

Value delivered a second consecutive quarter of strength relative to Growth, as bond yields rose sharply, and investors rotated into recovery plays, with this style dynamic resulting in solid outperformance for the Fund. Overweight allocation to France and the United Kingdom were both additive, whilst top overweight sector position in Communication Services was beneficial. Stock selection was ahead across all sectors with the exception of Energy which is excluded on sustainability grounds. Defensive areas such as Health Care, Consumer Staples, Utilities and Real estate lagged the index, with the Fund's Consumer Staples underweight a key positive, whilst overweight positioning in Banks and Materials was also constructive.

At stock level, ING was the Fund's top performer, with Bank of Ireland also benefitting from the continued recovery in Financials, whilst French names including: Rexel, St. Gobain and Publicis, were among other key contributors to outperformance. On the downside, underweight exposure to semiconductor and automobile manufacturers.

Positioning remains value-focused, with the Fund trimming exposure to some strongly performing value cyclical holdings whilst adding to positions in the more defensive Pharmaceutical sector, as well as adding exposure to banks which stand to benefit from stronger growth and rising yields in a post-Covid environment.
