(1) The summary risk indicator (SRI) is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the market or because we are not able to pay you. It ranges from 1 (low risk) to 7 (high risk). This indicator is not constant and will change according to the fund's risk profile. The lowest category does not mean risk-free. Historical data, such as that used to calculate the SRI, may not be a reliable indication of the fund's future risk profile. There is no guarantee that the investment objectives in terms of risk will be achieved.

ASSET ALLOCATION

MONTHLY MANAGEMENT COMMENT

Equity markets around the world benefited from the robust US economy and the on average better-than-expected corporate figures. The further decline in inflation figures also had a supportive effect, as they reinforced expectations of interest rate cuts from the middle of the year. Once again, the growth fantasies associated with AI led to above-average increases in value and all-time highs for many share indices. Weak growth in Europe and China did not play a role. The fund's net equity allocation was around 90 per cent at the end of the month. We disposed of the pharmaceutical and consumer goods stock Johnson & Johnson, as the growth of the largest division will slow down in the coming years due to expiring patents. On the other hand, we increased our position in the technology company Synopsys, which specialises in semiconductor design software and recently reported good quarterly results. Following the very good start to the year on the stock market and the share's all-time high at the end of January, we slightly reduced our exposure to the Google holding Alphabet and increased our exposure to the financial services provider S&P Global following good quarterly figures. S&P Global is difficult to displace in business areas such as ratings or financial indices. The ratings business will also benefit from the upcoming wave of refinancing.

SUSTAINABLE REPORT – METHODOLOGY

ODDO BHF AM considers that measuring the environmental, social and governance impact of an investment is an essential step in disseminating good practices in ESG integration. To do this, it is imperative to have reliable, simple quantitative criteria (no reprocessing) and to allow comparison between portfolios regardless of their composition (large vs midcaps, geographical and sectoral diversity).

The choice of indicators is therefore crucial for the relevance of impact measurement. The data for the environmental indicators come from our external non-financial analysis provider, MSCI. We systematically indicate the availability of the data at the level of the portfolio and its benchmark.

ESG integration at ODDO BHF Asset Management | 3 systematic steps

Exclusions

- Norm-based: exclusion of companies that do not comply with certain international standards.(chemical weapons , anti-personnel mines, violation of the principles of the Global Compact, etc.)
- Sector-based: total or partial exclusion of sectors or activities based on ethical considerations (tobacco, gambling, weapon, adult entertainment / pornographie and Coal...)

ESG ratings

- Usage of MSCI data based on a « Best-in-Class » approach: a bottom-up, stock-picking approach that favors top-rated companies in their peer group.

Dialogue and engagement

- Systematic dialogue with low-ESG rated issuer
- Engagement for upgrade
