SUMMARY OF INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Wellington Opportunistic Fixed Income Fund seeks to generate returns of 5% - 7% a year before the deduction of fees. The Investment Manager will actively manage the Fund, seeking to achieve the objective by providing long and short exposure in an unconstrained manner, either directly or via derivatives, to a broad range of fixed income securities and strategies across multiple regions, including securities with both investment-grade and non-investment-grade credit ratings. There is no guarantee that the return objective will be achieved, and capital is at risk. The Fund is not constructed relative to a benchmark and does not use a benchmark for performance comparison purposes

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

BELOW INVESTMENT GRADE: Lower rated or unrated securities may have a significantly greater risk of default than investment grade securities, can be more volatile, less liquid, and involve higher transaction costs. CAPITAL: Investment markets are subject to economic, regulatory, market sentiment and political risks. All investors should consider the risks that may impact their capital, before investing. The value of your investment may become worth more or less than at the time of the original investment. The Fund may experience a high volatility from time to time.

CONCENTRATION: Concentration of investments within securities, sectors or industries, or geographical regions may impact performance.

CREDIT: The value of a bond may decline, or the issuer/guarantor may fail to meet payment obligations. Typically lower-rated bonds carry a greater degree of credit risk than higher-rated bonds.

CURRENCY: The value of the Fund may be affected by changes in currency exchange rates. Unhedged currency risk may subject the Fund to significant volatility.

DERIVATIVES: Derivatives may provide more market exposure than the money paid or deposited when the transaction is entered into (sometimes referred to as Leverage). Market movements can therefore result in a loss exceeding the original amount invested. Derivatives may be difficult to value. Derivatives may also be used for efficient risk and portfolio management, but there may be some mismatch in exposure when derivatives are used as hedges. The use of derivatives forms an important part of the investment strategy.

EMERGING MARKETS: Emerging markets may be subject to custodial and political risks, and volatility. Investment in foreign currency entails exchange risks. HEDGING: Any hedging strategy using derivatives may not achieve a perfect hedge.

INTEREST RATES: The value of bonds tends to decline as interest rates rise. The change in value is greater for longer term than shorter term bonds.

LEVERAGE: The use of leverage can provide more market exposure than the money paid or deposited when the transaction is entered into. Losses may therefore exceed the original amount invested.

MANAGER: Investment performance depends on the investment management team and their investment strategies. If the strategies do not perform as expected, if opportunities to implement them do not arise, or if the team does not implement its investment strategies successfully; then a fund may underperform or experience losses.

SHORT SELLING: A short sale exposes the Fund to the risk of an increase in market price of a security sold short; this could result in a theoretically unlimited loss. SUSTAINABILITY RISK: A Sustainability Risk can be defined as an environmental, social or governance event or condition that, if it occurs, could cause an actual or potential material negative impact on the value of an investment.
