The investor needs to be aware of the following significant risks which are not necessarily adequately taken into account by the indicator:

• Risk related to financial derivative instruments: their use implies risk associated with the underlying assets and can accentuate downward movements via the resulting leverage effect. Hedging strategies using derivatives may not be perfect. Some derivatives may be difficult to value under exceptional markets circumstances.

• Concentration risk: given the significant concentration of assets in one market segment and a limited number of issuers, the risks potentially associated with a deterioration of the fundamentals and/or the liquidity of this segment would have a greater impact on the assets compared to a more diversified portfolio of assets.
