Objectives and Investment Policy

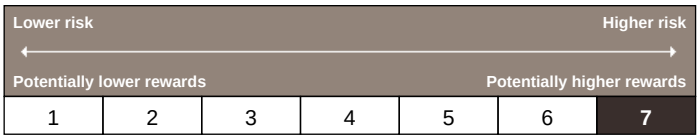

Objectives and Investment Policy

The Sub-fund is actively managed in reference to a benchmark. The NASDAQ Biotechnology Net TR Index (the “Benchmark”) is used for performance comparison and for internal risk monitoring purposes only, without implying any particular constraints to the Sub-Fund’s investments. The Sub-Fund’s securities will generally be members of the Benchmark but the security weightings are expected to differ materially. The Investment Manager will select securities not included in the Benchmark in order to take advantage of investment opportunities. The Sub-Fund invests primarily in equity securities or equity-related securities issued by companies worldwide (including Emerging Markets) exercising a prominent part of their business activities in the healthcare industry. The Investment Manager’s approach focuses on small and mid-cap biotechnology companies providing positive impact through disruptive, next generation innovations that can bring, among other things, better treatment solutions while lowering the financial burden for society. The Investment Manager will use its discretion with regard to the selection of markets, size of companies and currencies. The Sub-Fund may (i) hold on a temporary and ancillary basis up to 30% of its net assets in Cash and Cash Equivalents and (ii) hold up to 10% of its net assets in UCIs. Subject to the limits permitted by the Investment Restrictions described in Section 4 of the Prospectus, the Investment Manager is authorized to use financial derivative instruments for hedging and efficient portfolio management purposes, but not as part of the investment strategy. As part of its Emerging Market exposure, the Sub-Fund may invest up to 20% of its net assets in shares issued by mainland China-incorporated companies (including China A-Shares). The Sub-Fund is a product which promotes environmental or social characteristics or a combination of those characteristics for the purposes of article 8 of the Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation. The Investment Manager adopts a multifaceted approach to the way it analyses the sustainable profile of the Sub-Fund’s investments (including sustainability focused screening & scoring, exclusions, restrictions and qualitative and quantitative reviews).

Risk and Reward Profile

What does it mean?

This indicator (SRRI) represents the annualized historical volatility of the Sub-Fund over a 5-year period. Where there are less than 5 years worth of data, missing returns are simulated using an appropriate benchmark. The SRRI may change over time and should not be used as an indicator of future risk or returns. Even the lowest risk classification does not imply that the Sub-Fund is risk-free or that capital is necessarily guaranteed or protected.

Category

The Sub-Fund may exhibit very high volatility due to its exposure to Small and Mid capitalisaton companies in developped equity markets that have been subject in the past to elevated price fluctuations.

Are there any other particular risks?

The following risks may be materially relevant but may not always be adequately captured by the synthetic risk indicator and may cause additional loss:

- Concentration risk: To the extent that the fund's investments are concentrated in a particular country, market, industry, sector or asset class, the fund may be susceptible to loss due to adverse occurrences affecting that country, market, industry, sector or asset class.
- Active management risk: Active management relies on anticipating various market developments and/or security selection. There is a risk at any given time that the fund may not be invested in the highest-performing markets or securities. The fund's net asset value may also decline.
- Financial, economic, regulatory and political risks: Financial instruments are impacted by various factors, including, without being exhaustive, the development of the financial market, the economic development of issuers who are themselves affected by the general world economic situation, and economic, regulatory and political conditions prevailing in the relevant country.
