HIGHLIGHTS

The LO Selection – Healthcare Innovation fund is an actively managed UCITS portfolio. The strategy invests in small/mid listed healthcare companies, under the radar of most investors, with disruptive technologies poised to reshape the healthcare ecosystem for the coming decades. The strategy has been in place since June 2012, through a different investment vehicle, but with the same investment philosophy and the same portfolio manager. The fund is long term oriented, and targets a 15% annualised return (on average). Its investment process is based on a proprietary, fundamental and bottom-up approach. The high-conviction portfolio has around 30-40 positions, with an annual turnover of around 30% on average. Risk management is performed at the portfolio level, while an independent team oversees investment and operational risks.

PARTICULAR RISKS

The following risks may be materially relevant but may not always be adequately captured by the synthetic risk indicator and may cause additional loss:

- Concentration risk: To the extent that the fund's investments are concentrated in a particular country, market, industry, sector or asset class, the fund may be susceptible to loss due to adverse occurrences affecting that country, market, industry, sector or asset class.
- Active management risk: Active management relies on anticipating various market developments and/or security selection. There is a risk at any given time that the fund may not be invested in the highest-performing markets or securities. The fund's net asset value may also decline.

- Financial, economic, regulatory and political risks: Financial instruments are impacted by various factors, including, without being exhaustive, the development of the financial market, the economic development of issuers who are themselves affected by the general world economic situation, and economic, regulatory and political conditions prevailing in the relevant country.

For more details about risk, see appendix B "Risk Factors" of the prospectus.

An investment in the Fund is not suitable for all investors. Making an investment in a Fund is speculative. There can be no assurance that the Fund's investment objective will be achieved or that there will be a return on capital. Past or estimated performance is not necessarily indicative of future results and no assurance can be made that profits will be achieved or that substantial losses will not be incurred. Where the fund is denominated in a currency other than an investor's base currency, changes in the rate of exchange may have an adverse effect on price and income. All performance figures reflect the reinvestment of interest and dividends and do not take account the commissions and costs incurred on the issue and redemption of shares/units; performance figures are estimated and unaudited. Net performance shows the performance net of fees and expenses for the relevant fund/share class over the reference period. This document does not contain personalized recommendations or advice and is not intended to substitute any professional advice on investment in financial products. Before making an investment in the Fund, an investor should read the entire Offering Documents, and in particular the risk factors pertaining to an investment in the Fund, consider carefully the suitability of such investment to his/her particular circumstances and, where necessary, obtain independent professional advice in respect of risks, as well as any legal, regulatory, credit, tax, and accounting consequences.
