

LYXOR / BRIDGEWATER ALL WEATHER SUSTAINABILITY FUND - CLASS I USD

LYXOR ASSET MANAGEMENT

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The All Weather Sustainability Strategy is a multi-asset class, strategic, long-only portfolio that is designed to achieve both financial and sustainability goals, using assets that are aligned with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Bridgewater believes the best way to achieve both financial and sustainability impact goals is through portfolio engineering that incorporates these objectives holistically, beginning with 1) clearly defining what these goals are, 2) systematically looking across a variety of asset classes to find assets that are aligned with these goals, and then 3) combining these assets into a portfolio using Bridgewater's All Weather approach, which prioritizes balance across different economic environments, to efficiently collect market risk premiums and deliver a high gross Sharpe ratio. The Strategy utilizes liquid, publicly traded markets across asset classes (equities, nominal and inflation-linked bonds, and commodities) to implement Bridgewater's systematic processes for assessing sustainability and achieving environmental balance.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

May was another volatile month and the key macro risks of Ukraine's war, central banks tightening, and China's zero COVID extended into May. Yet, equity markets managed to recover as concerns on growth meant that investors began to price in a less aggressive pace of monetary tightening. Sectors dispersion remained high and value stocks outperformed growth stocks. Weaker growth and less aggressive central banks eased some of the bond market pressures. Fixed income markets in the U.S. rallied toward the end of the month, mostly on the front-end. Commodities continued to perform well over the month, with oil and wheat prices rising as a result of the ongoing Ukraine conflict and low oil stockpiles. Finally, the currency market saw a reversal of the dollar's trend, with the greenback falling against a basket of currencies over the month. The Lyxor/ Bridgewater All Weather Sustainability Fund (the "Fund") was challenged during the month with all buckets ending in negative territory.

The fixed income book was the largest detractor over the month, as the beta book did not benefited from the bonds' rally. The long nominal and inflation linked bond exposures, positioned on longer-term maturities suffered from steepening curves.

The commodity book ended lower, affected by the long gold allocation, as the precious metal suffered from weaker momentum on flows and late pick-up in risky assets.

The equities book concluded the month in a modest loss.

Bridgewater ability to stress-test their logic allows them to establish explicit performance expectations for their strategies. Based on Bridgewater's stress tests across countries and all types of economic environments, the expectation is for the Fund to produce a gross return-to-risk ratio of around 0.55. At 8% expected risk, this translates to an expected average annual gross excess return of 4.5%. In the above chart, we show the cumulative performance of the Fund against these long-term expectations.

The green and blue lines represent our range of expectations and the red line reflects the actual cumulative gross excess return of the Fund. These start off as empty cones, and as real-time performance unfolds we plot that performance against Bridgewater's expectations.

MAIN RISKS

Risk of losses : The price of Shares can go up as well as down and investors may not realise their initial investment. The investments and the positions held by the Fund are subject to (i) fluctuations in the Strategy (ii) market fluctuations, (iii) reliability of counterparties and (iv) operational efficiency in the actual implementation of the investment policy adopted by the Fund in order to realise such investments or take such positions. Consequently, the investments of the Fund are subject to, inter alia, the risk of declines in the Strategy (which may be abrupt and severe), market risks, credit exposure risks and operational risks. At any time, the occurrence of any such risks is likely to generate a significant depreciation in the value of the Shares. Due to the risks embedded in the investment objective adopted by the Fund, the value of the Shares may decrease substantially and even fall to zero, at any time.

Counterparty risk: the Fund is exposed to the risk that any credit institution with which it has concluded an agreement or a transaction could become insolvent or otherwise default. If such an event occurs, you could lose a significant part of your investment.

Credit risk: the Fund is exposed to the risk that the credit quality of any direct or indirect debtor of the Fund (be it a state, a financial institution or a corporate) deteriorates or that any such entity defaults. This could cause the net asset value of the Fund to decline.

Operational risk and asset custody risk: in the event of an operational failure within the management company, or one of its representatives, investors could experience delays or other disruptions.

Liquidity risk: in certain circumstances, financial instruments held by the Fund or to which the value of the Fund is linked could suffer a temporary lack of liquidity. This could cause the Fund to lose value, and/or to temporarily suspend the publication of its net asset value and/or to refuse subscription and redemption requests.

Risk of using FDI: the Fund invests in financial derivative instruments in order to reach its investment objective. These instruments may include a range of risks which could lead to their adjustment or result in their early termination. This could lead to the loss of a part of your investment.

Capital at risk: the initial capital invested is not guaranteed. As a consequence, investor's capital is at risk and the amount originally invested may not be recovered

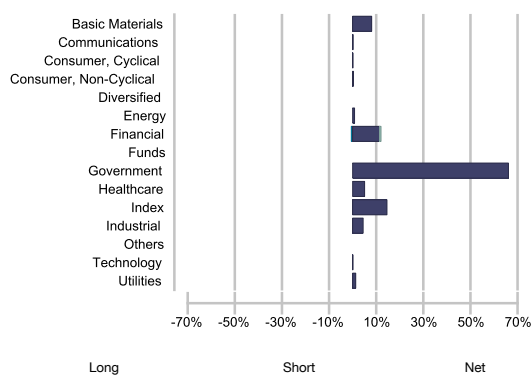

Please refer to the Fund's Prospectus for a complete description of the Investment Risks.
