Dodge & Cox Worldwide Funds plc - Global Bond Fund

CHF Distributing Class (H)

A sub-fund of Dodge & Cox Worldwide Funds plc

ISIN: IE00BN6JJ480

SEDOL: BN6JJ48

Manager: KBA Consulting
Management Limited

Objectives and Investment Policy

The fund seeks a high rate of total return consistent with long-term preservation of capital.

The fund invests in a diversified portfolio of bonds and other debt instruments of issuers from at least three different countries, including emerging market countries. The fund is not required to allocate its investments in set percentages to particular countries and may invest in emerging markets without limit. Under normal circumstances, the fund invests at least 40% of its net asset value in securities of non-U.S. issuers and invests at least 80% of its net asset value in debt instruments, which may, in each case, be represented by derivatives such as forwards, futures contracts, swap agreements, or options.

Debt instruments in which the fund may invest include, but are not limited to, government and government-related obligations, mortgage- and asset-backed securities, corporate and municipal bonds, collateralised mortgage obligations, repurchase agreements, and other debt securities, and may include fixed and floating rate instruments. The fund invests in both U.S. dollar-denominated and non-U.S. currency denominated debt instruments. The fund invests primarily in high quality debt instruments, but may also invest up to 20% of its net asset value in lower rated debt instruments, commonly referred to as high yield or "junk" bonds.

In selecting investments, Dodge & Cox considers many factors, including yield-to-maturity, quality, liquidity, call risk, current yield, and potential for capital and currency appreciation. The fund will invest in an array of securities with short, intermediate, and long maturities in varying proportions.

The fund may use derivatives to manage risk and help meet the fund's objective. A derivative is a financial instrument whose value is based on the performance of another financial asset, index, or investment. The fund may invest in other types of eligible investments which are disclosed in the fund's prospectus.

The fund is actively managed and uses the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Bond Index benchmark for performance comparison purposes only. The fund's portfolio of investments is built through a process of individual security selection, and the investment manager is not constrained by the benchmark in the selection of investments for the fund. The fund's investment strategy does not restrict the extent to which the fund's portfolio may deviate from the benchmark.

The base currency of the fund is U.S. dollars; your shares are denominated in Swiss franc. The share class is hedged to reduce the risk of movement between the value of the share class currency and the U.S. dollar, though there is no assurance or guarantee that hedging will be successful.

You may sell your shares on each day when banks in Ireland are open for normal business and the New York Stock Exchange is open for trading.

This share class is a distributing share class. Dividends may include income, realised capital gains, and/or be paid out of capital.

Recommendation: this fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within a short period of time.

This risk and reward indicator is designed to provide you with a measure of the price movement of this share class based on historical data over the past five years. As the share class does not have sufficient historical data available to cover the full five-year period, simulated data based on a representative portfolio has been used for the periods when the share class had not yet launched.

The indicator may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the fund. The risk category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time.

The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

This share class of the fund is in category 4 because the fund invests mainly in various high-quality debt securities with exposure to various countries and currencies. Such securities have historically been subject to price movements, generally due to interest rates or movements in the bond market. As a result, the performance of the fund can fluctuate over time.

The fund may also be exposed to other material risks that the risk indicator does not adequately capture. These may include:

- Credit risk: a security's price may decline due to deterioration in the issuer's or guarantor's financial condition, or that the issuer or guarantor may fail to repay interest and/or principal in a timely manner;
- Liquidity risk: the fund may not be able to purchase or sell a security in a timely manner or at desired prices or achieve its desired weighting in a security;
- Currency risk: the risk of loss arising from exchange-rate fluctuations or exchange control regulations;

- Counterparty risk: the fund may suffer losses if the parties it trades with cannot meet their financial obligations;
- Interest rate risk: changes in interest rates may negatively affect the value of the Fund;
- Low-rated bonds risk: lower-rated securities may yield a higher level of current income than higher-rated securities, but generally have greater credit risk, more price volatility, and less liquidity;
- Emerging markets risk: the Fund may invest in countries that have less developed political, economic, legal, and regulatory systems than more developed countries; and

- Derivatives risk: investment in derivatives may create leverage and may cause the fund to lose as much as or more than the amount invested.

More information on the risks of investing in this fund can be found in the fund's prospectus in the sections titled "Investment Risks and Special Considerations" and "Characteristics and Risks of Securities and Investment Techniques".

Charges

One-off charges taken before or after you invest
