Objective and Investment Policy

Investment Objective

The Sub-Fund seeks to achieve capital appreciation from bottom-up, fundamentally driven stock selection.

Investment Policy

The Sub-Fund will invest in long positions in stocks identified by the investment manager as undervalued and takes short positions in stocks that the investment manager has identified as overvalued. Short positions will be obtained only through the use of contracts for differences or other swap transactions. The investment manager will determine the size of each long or short position by analyzing the tradeoff between the attractiveness of each position and its impact on the risk of the overall portfolio.

The Sub-Fund will invest, both long and short, in securities issued by U.S. and non-U.S. companies of any capitalization size. The Sub-Fund may also invest in all types of equity and equity-related securities, including convertible securities, limited partnership interests, shares or units of exchange-traded funds ("ETFs"), and closed-ended real estate investment trusts ("REITs"), of companies operating for three years or less, principally located in countries with developed securities markets, but also located in emerging markets.

Under normal circumstances, the Sub-Fund is expected to take synthetic exposure to short positions so that the Sub-Fund's portfolio is expected to be approximately 50% net long, with an average ranging between 30% and 70% net long.

The Sub-Fund may invest up to 20% of its net assets in high yield bonds such as bonds and debentures, issued by U.S. and foreign corporations and other business organizations (e.g. trusts or limited liability companies). Such high yield debt obligations are not considered to be investment grade. The Sub-Fund may also invest up to 10% of its net asset value in securities of the lowest rating category, including in securities in default.

The Sub-Fund's assets will be invested at all times in accordance with the above-mentioned policies, the Sub-Fund reserves the right to hold up to 100% of its assets, as a temporary defensive measure, in cash and eligible U.S. dollar-denominated money market instruments. Additionally, the Sub-Fund will not invest more than 10% of its net asset value in units of other UCITS or other collective investment undertakings.

The Sub-Fund is actively managed. For VaR and performance fee calculation purposes only, the Sub-Fund references a composite benchmark composed of 70% of the daily variation of MSCI World Index and of 30% of the FTSE 1M Treasury Bill.

The lowest category does not mean risk free investment.

Are there any other particular Risks?

- Liquidity risk – the risk stemming from the lack of marketability of an investment that cannot be bought or sold quickly enough to prevent or minimize a loss.
- Counterparty risk – the Sub-Fund will enter into derivatives contracts with one or more counterparties. If a counterparty fails to make payments (for example, it becomes insolvent), this may result in your investment suffering a loss.
- Operational risk – the risk of material losses to the Sub-Fund resulting from human error, system failures, inadequate procedures or internal management controls.

■ Derivative instruments – a careful use of derivatives can be beneficial to the Sub-Fund but also implies additional risks which are different from the ones related to the underlying. Derivatives may be used to obtain, increase or reduce exposure to underlying assets and may create leverage. Leverage occurs when the economic exposure created by the use of derivatives is greater than the amount invested. Such leverage may result in greater fluctuations of the net asset value of the Sub-Fund and therefore entails a high degree of risk, including the risk that losses may be substantial.

■ Credit risk – the risk that the issuer of a security held within the Sub-Fund may not be able to meet its obligation to the Sub-Fund.

■ Securities in default - securities in default, are speculative and involve significant risk. They may frequently not produce income while they are outstanding and may require the Sub-Fund to bear certain extraordinary expenses in order to protect and recover its holding. This may diminish the Sub-Fund's ability to achieve income for the shareholders. The Sub-Fund may be subject to significant uncertainty as to the outcome of any plan in respect of securities in default and ultimately the value derived from such securities or from other assets or securities resulting from an exchange offer or reorganisation.

For more details about risks, see section "Risk factors and conflicts of interest" of the prospectus.
