FUND MANAGERS COMMENT

March was marked by a solid performance from bond asset classes, with spreads tightening and yields falling slightly. Credit spreads tightened across all segments and sectors, ranging from -9bp for IG credit to -70bp for AT1 bonds, with the exception of HY corporate credit, which widened slightly over the month (+4bp). Macroeconomic figures and central bank meetings also reassured the market about future rate movements: the Fed, the ECB and the BoE all talked about an easing cycle that could begin in June, and the Swiss National Bank cut its key rate by -0,25%. Interest rates fell slightly, with the Eurozone outperforming. The German 10-year yield fell by 11bp to 2,30%, while the US 10-year yield fell by only 5bp to 4,20%. The rebound in Brent crude oil of almost 8% over the month, which went unnoticed, had very little impact on inflation expectations, which remained broadly stable on both sides of the Atlantic. Initial concerns about German banks' exposure to commercial real estate quickly dissipated after the publication of their results.

The IG primary market remained active, with \notin 69 billion issued despite a high level of activity in February. At about \notin 40 billion, corporate supply continued to outstrip last year's level (+25% year-on-year). On the whole, this primary market supply was well absorbed, despite limited or even negative premiums in some cases, driven by inflows into credit funds. The bond portfolio's structure changed marginally as benchmark rates eased and credit spreads tightened.

As a reminder, the subscription period ended on December 29th, 2023.
