Report of the Board of Directors

Report of the Board of Directors

The Board of Directors of Nord Asset Management S.A (NEAM) is pleased to present the Annual Report of NEF fund for the year ending 31 December 2023.

FINANCIAL MARKET TREND

2023 was a great year for financial markets.

In Europe the Dax marked +20.31%, the Cac 40 +16.52%, the FtseMib +27.95%. In America the S&P 500 marked +24.58%, the Nasdaq +43.42%. Tokyo's Topix +24.86%. Emerging markets, albeit differently from each other, returned less than developed markets: good performers were for example Taiwan +27.30% or India 18.79%, bad performers China and related countries Shanghai -3.21%, Honk Kong -13.82%.

Sharp rise in interest rates and inflation were the highlights of the year 2023, that begun with fears of a recession that did not materialise. During the year, markets were led globally and specifically in the U.S. by the very strong growth of some IT stocks, which pushed the Nasdaq up 43.42%, its best performance since 1999. Much has been written about the Magnificent Seven, Apple, Microsoft, Alphabet, Amazon, Nvidia, Meta and Tesla: portfolios investing in these stocks have seen a sharp rebound after a difficult 2022. European banks, thanks to the significant increase in interest margins, performed very well too during 2023: +20%, compared to +10% for U.S. banks.

The year was marked by several incidents, such as the bankruptcy of some regional Silicon Valley banks in March and the last-ditch bailout of Credit Suisse. The geopolitical environment continued to create apprehension with conflicts in Ukraine and the Middle East.

Both stock markets and bond markets were high at the end of 2023.

The year just ended was exceptional for the markets, especially in the last quarter where the stock markets took off: since October Wall Street has gained 16.3%, the Nasdaq nearly 20 %, Frankfurt 14.1%, and Milan 11.5%. At the end of the year Frankfurt was just below all-time highs, whereas the S&P500 index was just a whisker away from the record set in January 2022; all of this happened when investors started betting on rate cuts starting in March 2024.

The Fed raised 11 times the rates by a total of 525 basis points, since 2022, the ECB 10 times by 450 basis points, in response to persistent inflation.

At the same time, government bonds performed equally strongly over the course of the year with prices shooting upward and yields falling in the latter part of the year: the 10-year U.S. Treasury went from a 5% yield to 3.9%, while the Italian 10-year, that went above 5% in the course of the year, ended at 3.5%.

Corporate bonds also showed an excellent return. In January, the 10-year BTP offered 4.63%, a U.S. Treasury paid 3.82%, a Bund 2.53%, whereas at the end of the year the BTP yielded 3.74%, the Treasury 3.93% and the Bund 2.07%.

Those who invested in 2023 following the JPMorgan index, ended with a return, summing up coupons and revaluations, of 13.7%, investing in a basket of BTPs, of 7.5%, investing in German bunds, and of 3% investing in US Treasury. Investment grade corporate bonds ticked up a total return of 8%, while High Yields of 12-13%.

Noteworthy is the rise of gold, which ended the year with a 13% increase in price, and the growth of cryptocurrencies. On the other hand, energy commodity prices fell, -10% for Brent crude, -42% for natural gas, which had a calming effect on inflation.

As for currencies, the dollar appeared to be among the few losers, losing -3.6% against the Euro, moving back above the 1.10 exchange rate due to expectations of Fed rate cuts. The Yen also lost -11% against the Euro.

According to the ECB, inflation showed signs of cooling at the end of the year especially in November, when it fell to 2.4% y/y from 2.9% in October and 11.1% a year earlier. In December, the figure rose slightly to 2.9% but let unchanged the expectations of gradual inflationary slowdowns for 2024 that would bring inflation below the set target of 2 %.

DEVELOPMENT IN CORPORATE ASSETS

NEF Assets

Thanks to the good performance of the BCC-CR-RAIKA sales network, and despite the fact that investors currently preferred BTPs to asset management products as a result of the rate levels in the market, assets reached EUR 6.961 billion with an increase of 19.5% since the beginning of 2023 (+ EUR 1.136 billion).

The growth in assets under management is the result of positive net inflows of EUR 635 million and a positive market contribution of over EUR 501 million. During the period, PACs (Capital Accumulation Plans) positively contributed about EUR 785 million to inflows; the asset increase would have been higher if at the same time there had not been major disinvestments. As for PACs, the net number of subscribers increased by 9,066 in 2023, for a total of 527,609 units, which is equal to a monthly inflow of more than EUR 65.5 million. However, it is to be noted that the trend in the second half of the year was negative with -9,794 PACs; by mid-2023 the number of PACs was 537,403.

In detail, the data show a significant growth, since the beginning of 2023, of the class R, dedicated to retail investors, of the sub-funds NEF Ethical Balanced Dynamic R + EUR 73 million, NEF Global Equity R + EUR 45 million, NEF Ethical Global Trends SDG R + EUR 80 million, NEF Target 2028 + EUR 107 million. There were also other major subscriptions in the institutional classes that brought the total net inflows to EUR 635 million.

There are three sub-funds in the NEF range that exceed EUR 500 million in assets (Ethical Balanced Dynamic EUR 831 million, Ethical Global Trends SDG EUR 730 million, and Euro Equity EUR 632 million), while there are now several sub-funds over EUR 300 million of assets under management (AUM). To be also noted the significant growth since the beginning of 2023, of the AUM of NEF Euro Bond, from EUR 127 million to EUR 276 million, and of the NEF Target 2028, from EUR 135 million to EUR 257 million.

As a confirmation of the high level of quality of its management, NEAM received again very important awards in 2023: for the fourth consecutive year, it took the podium in the "Sole 24 Ore High Yield award", placing third as "Best Management Company - Italian Small Funds" based on to the analysis of the independent company CFS Rating; moreover, Lipper, on the occasion of the "Refinitiv Lipper Fund Awards", rewarded NEF with the title of "Best Fund Mixed Asset EUR Cons - EuroZone over 5 Years" for its sub-fund NEF Risparmio Italia R. The title was given as part of the "Germany 2023 Awards" and saw the NEF Risparmio Italia R also taking the first place in the "Over 3 Years" category. Finally, it is worth highlighting that the NEF Global Equity, NEF Euro Equity and NEF Risparmio Italia were reconfirmed among the "300 Best Funds 2023" list issued by CFS Rating.

In respect to the coming year, NEAM intends to increase the presence in its range of products of Art. 8 compartments according to the SFDR.

RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES

Government bond yields are falling because they are discounting the expectations of major interest rate cuts, while stock markets are rising because they believe in a soft landing for the economy.

If recession has really been avoided, as the stock markets seem to think, why would central banks cut rates quickly and repeatedly? If rates are cut, money will no longer be invested in liquidity or short-term securities.

What is then the risk for 2024? If inflation does not fall or keeps growing persistently, the scenario of rate cuts may not materialize, in which case it would be hard to forecast how the markets would react. As of now the markets are discounting about 6 cut rates of 0.25% each expected by the Fed and then by the ECB. A change in this scenario could change the outlook for market trends.

The other variables that could influence the current moderately positive outlook for equities in 2024 are the tough geopolitical landscape and the outcome of elections in many important countries, primarily the US and EU.

REPORT OF THE REVISEUR D'ENTREPRISES AGREE

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of NEF (the "Fund") and of each of its sub-funds, which comprise the statement of net assets and the statement of investments and other net assets as at December 31, 2023 and the statement of operations and changes in net assets for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Fund and of each of its sub-funds as at December 31, 2023, and of the results of their operations and changes in their net assets for the year then ended in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of July 23, 2016 on the audit profession (Law of July 23, 2016) and with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as adopted for Luxembourg by the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier (CSSF). Our responsibilities under the Law of July 23, 2016 and ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF are further described in the "Responsibilities of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the Audit of the Financial Statements" section of our report. We are also independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, including International Independence Standards, issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA Code) as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the Management Company of the Fund is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information stated in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report this fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the Management Company of the Fund for the Financial Statements

The Board of Directors of the Management Company of the Fund is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the Management Company of the Fund determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the Management Company of the Fund is responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the Management Company of the Fund either intends to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé for the Audit of the Financial Statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law dated July 23, 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Deloitte.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law dated July 23, 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the Management Company of the Fund.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors of the Management Company of the Fund use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

2023 Market review

After a weak 2022 from an equity perspective, global equity markets around the world rallied strongly during 2023 on the hopes that the USA and Europe could avoid a recession. From a macroeconomic perspective, central banks continued its tighter monetary policies with several interest rate hikes due to still elevated inflation rates in many countries. For example, the Fed in the USA has continued its tighter monetary policy and moved the key interest rate several times from 4.5% to 5.5% throughout 2023. The interest rate of the 10-year US government bond closed the year at 3.9%, exactly at the level where it started the year. Hence, the inversion of the yield curve, often interpreted as a signal for a recession, became slightly less severe. In Europe, the ECB raised the key interest rate from 2.0% to 4.0% in 2023. Towards the end of 2023, we have seen signs of moderation of inflation rates and speculation of interest rate cuts in 2024. Additionally, geopolitical challenges remained not only in Europe and Middle East, but also in Asia in focus. The tensions between China, the USA and Taiwan led to some fluctuations. The economic recovery in China, which was fueled by the lifting of Covid-19 restricting in October 2022, appeared to be weakening during 2023. Economic activities have slowed with the real estate sector under pressure. Corporate data remained weak and stimulus measures by the government could not support the Chinese stock market.

Overall, global GDP growth was forecasted to be 3.0% in 2023 after strong growth of 3.5% in 2022. In 2023, the GDP grew by 2.3% in the United States of America and by 0.7% in the Eurozone. In Asia, Japan experienced GDP growth of 2.1%, while China had a GDP growth of 5.2% in 2023. On the corporate side, the attempt of central banks to fight against high inflation with interest rate hikes revealed the first prominent victims in the financial system in mid-March, which caused a roller coaster ride on the stock markets. The liquidity concerns at Silicon Valley Bank in the US, which focused on start-up financing, triggered a global sell-off in the financial sector. The high point of the development so far: two largest bank failures in the US since the financial crisis of 2008/09 and the takeover of Credit Suisse by UBS in Switzerland. The intervention of the US government by securing customer deposits and the bank merger in Switzerland were able to manage the contagion risk for the time being. The absence of further negative headlines from the financial sector and expectations that central banks may now be less aggressive on the interest rate hikes or even cut rates over the course of the year, helped the broad market to end the months of March and April with gains. With the spring earnings season and across the summer, the topic of "artificial intelligence" and the associated long-term potential triggered price fireworks in certain market areas, particularly within technology stocks. The technology-heavy NASDAQ 100 Index recorded the largest gains in its history in the first six months of 2023. During late summer and fall, global stock markets had a setback due to persistently high interest rates, weaker economic data and activity in China and a mixed corporate reporting season with uncertainties around the outlook. In November, global stock markets rallied on hopes that the Fed and ECB ended the cycle of interest rate increases on the back of weaker-than-expected inflation data. Additionally, this was spurred by the continued news flow around the topic of artificial intelligence. With hopes of falling interest rates in 2024, this might reduce the pressure on corporate profits, as companies will have to make fewer payments on their liabilities, and on high valuation levels.

In 2023, global equity markets (MSDEWIN Index) had a total return of 23.5% (in USD vs. 19.6% in EUR). U.S. equities, measured by the S&P 500 Index, had a total return of 26.3% in 2023 (in USD), which translated into 22.2% in EUR as the EUR appreciated against the USD. The MSCI Europe Index underperformed global benchmarks with a total return of 16.5% (in EUR). German equities, measured by the DAX Index, showed a total return of 20.3% (in EUR). Japanese stocks outperformed global equities with a total return of 28.3% but underperformed when translated into EUR given the EUR appreciation vs. the JPY. Emerging Markets underperformed global equities again in 2023 with the MSCI Emerging Markets Index being up 10.1% (in USD, total return), while Chinese stocks posted another year of losses with the MSCI China declining 11.1% (in USD, total return) after sharp losses in 2021 and 2022.

On a global sector basis, there was a strong divergence of performance. In 2023, information technology and communication services were the best performing sectors. The performance of both sectors was particularly fueled by structural trends around artificial intelligence. Additionally, the cyclical consumer discretionary sector had an above average performance. For example, companies in the e-commerce sector in North and Latin America posted a strong recovery after a weaker previous year. Similar holds true for EV manufacturers in North America. Financials had below average gains. As the interest hiking cycle is nearing its peak in the USA and Europe, net interest income for banks had potentially seen its peak and funding pressure concerns persisted. The defensive sectors healthcare and consumer staples could only post small gains in 2023 and underperformed the broader market given its sector characteristics. After two years of strong gains, the energy sector closed the year in negative territory. The worst sector during 2023 was the utility sector since the sector suffered from higher interest rates and indebted balance sheets. In terms of styles, we saw a reversal compared to 2022, and growth outperformed value by 25% given the expectations of peak interest rates and the hopes of falling interest rates in 2024. On the currency front, the US-Dollar slightly weakened during 2023 after two years of USD-strength. In terms of volatility, the CBOE VIX Index, which is a measure for expected market movements, moved down throughout the year, and ended at similarly low levels as in 2018 and 2019.

2023 performance review for the fund

In 2023, the NEF Global Equity was slightly worse than the performance of the MSCI World Index.

On a sector basis, the overweight in information technology and consumer discretionary had a positive impact on the relative performance. Also, the underweight in utilities, in energy and in real estate, paid off in 2023. In contrast, the overweight in healthcare and financials had a negative impact on the relative performance.

From a stock selection perspective, the selection of single stocks within communication services paid off. Additionally, the single stock selection within energy was beneficial for the portfolio during the past year. The cash position of around 4% had a negative impact on the relative performance.

Outlook and positioning

Global equity markets have experienced an unusual long upward trend ever since 2009 except for 2011 and 2018 and 2022. The geopolitical situation has deteriorated significantly since 2022 due to the events in Ukraine and in the Middle East. The relationship between the USA and China also remains tense. The slowdown in the Chinese economy and the turbulence in the real estate sector have added a further risk factor that could adversely affect global economic development. Macroeconomic conditions have weakened during 2023 due to high inflation and high interest rates and might remain weak in 2024. However, central banks spurred hopes of interest rate cuts in 2024 as inflation rates have moderated towards the year end of 2023.

According to the IMF, global GDP growth is expected to slow down from 3.0% growth in 2023 to 2.9% in 2024. The GDP is forecasted to grow 0.8% in the USA in 2024, while GDP growth in the Eurozone is expected to be around 0.7%. GDP growth in Japan is forecasted to decelerate to 1.0%, while China's growth is expected to decelerate to 4.7% in 2024 due to the slowdown in the property sector, weak consumer sentiment and activity as well as the absence of a large stimulus package. Emerging markets continue to face challenges, but they should likely remain a driver of the global economy, albeit a more medium-term one. Short-term fluctuations in emerging market investments can be expected in the future. Key risk factors for equities include an unexpected weakening of macroeconomic conditions and prolonged higher inflation rates. Despite uncertainties about both further geopolitical events and the economic situation in major countries, the overall picture remains cautiously constructive. Investors could expect modest global equity market returns in 2024. The "equities" asset class will become more attractive again in 2024 compared to interest-bearing investments if the yield on the latter is no longer quite as attractive as it will be in 2023.

2023 Market review

2023 was another eventful year but turned out a lot better than most market participants had feared: Calls for a recession, weak China macro data, a US banking crisis in March and wars around the globe dominated financial news. Yet, European equity markets rose strongly.

At times, we saw a significant disconnect between macroeconomic sentiment and markets. Take the region's largest economy for example: the German DAX rose more than 20% during the year, even though news headlines and economic data would have suggested a severe recession.

Volatility remained present throughout the year as the market narrative flip-flopped between risk-on and risk-off. Where expectations had run ahead, share price reactions on company updates could prove extreme.

However, overall better news came from falling inflation in Europe as well as the US. Towards the end of the year, Eurozone inflation dropped sharply to 2.4%, which was the lowest annual inflation number since July 2021. Lower energy, food and services prices were the main drivers behind the improving inflation numbers.

The Fed signalled peak interest rates which reinforced hopes for rate cuts in 2024, and led to strong performance of risk assets. The prevailing market backdrop pivoted back towards a soft-landing scenario as investors gained confidence that central banks have likely reached the peak of their tightening cycles without causing significant damage to the economy. On the back of this, markets rallied into the year-end.

IT, industrials and real estate were the strongest performers over the year whilst the healthcare sector was the only sector in the market delivering negative absolute returns. Energy and consumer staples also lagged the strong market.

2023 performance review for the fund

The portfolio return was slightly below the benchmark in 2023. Exposure to IT and consumer discretionary aided relative returns whilst our positioning within healthcare and financials detracted.

The healthcare industry experienced unusual headwinds this year. Supply chain disruptions since Covid have led to big pharma customers overordering; and many of them were now forced to reduce inventory during the year. Whilst some of the disappointments can be attributed to mismanagement, we also recognise that unlike in sectors such as industrials, the life science and pharma industries are not used to big inventory cycles and the post-Covid period has been unique.

Sartorius Stedim, the portfolio's single largest detractor to relative performance and a supplier of single use equipment used to manufacture drugs, was particularly impacted by this phenomenon. Management downgraded full year targets and reported lower than expected sales and earnings for the first nine months of the year. While the company believe they have started to see some signs of customer order recovery, the destocking cycle is materially longer than investors expected, and we sold our position.

The second largest detractor was Merck. The company also suffered under a lack of visibility around inventory levels. Further, shares fell as the company announced that its pipeline multiple sclerosis drug had failed its phase III trial. Merck is a conglomerate of three businesses: life sciences, healthcare and electronics. This failure removes a catalyst for shares and presents a challenge to future growth in the healthcare part of the business, narrowing the investment thesis to the turnaround potential in its life science division and further phase III data for a different drug (Xevinapant) which is a pipeline drug for head and neck cancer that is in late-stage trials.

Negative contribution also came from the financial sector, where Finecobank was amongst the bottom performers. Investor sentiment was mostly negative around the shares and we closed our position as we had to expect net interest income to gradually come down over time which in turn will impact earnings growth.

However, Italian lender Unicredit was amongst the top performers delivering strong results throughout the year given its sensitivity to rising interest rates and announcing a significant share buyback plan of EUR 6.5bn which translates into a total yield of more than 16%.

Whilst rising interest rates have been a tailwind for banks, we would note that lower than current interest rates would still be considered a healthy level compared to the zero or negative interest rate environment that we have seen in the past. An improvement in macroeconomic conditions is also likely to be a positive backdrop for banks to re-rate, with EPS also supported by hedging, overlays and share buyback programmes. Hence, we continue to hold positions in a number of European banks at this stage.

Performance within the industrials sector was mixed.

Shares in call centre operator Teleperformance faced pressure given their announcement to acquire Majorel. In our view, this acquisition raised question marks around the company's M&A strategy. This combined with a likely overhang from Artificial Intelligence (AI) and concerns that the new technology may negatively impact the company's core business led us to exit the stock.

Chemicals distribution business Azelis was caught up in the destocking cycle. The chemicals sector was shaken particularly before the summer by several chemicals companies' profit warnings. The sector struggled with customer destocking given lower demand, particularly in end markets including construction, electronics and staples as well as a sluggish recovery in China. However, there are now continued signs of end market demand bottoming.

Positive contribution within industrials came from Schneider Electric, Siemens and RELX.

Schneider Electric is well set to benefit from a growing data centre market required for chips given their solutions within data centre cooling. The company also delivered strong results during the year with new organic revenue growth targets of 7-10% through to 2027, with a small degree of margin expansion in addition. The company remains a high conviction position - and a clear beneficiary of secular efforts to increase electrification and reduce carbon emissions.

Similarly, shares in Siemens were seen as a beneficiary from major long-term trends around automation, software and energy efficiency measures. More recently the company further highlighted that the outlook expectations for their key segment 'digital industries' for 2024 were in line, suggesting that the bottom in automation orders had been reached. Cashflow generation also remains strong which displays the company's very strong execution.

Exposure to the technology sector also aided returns. Several of our semiconductor-exposed names benefitted from the 'AI rally' particularly during the second quarter of the year. News from US based Nvidia took markets by surprise as the company announced they were seeing 'surging demand' for its data centre products used in generative artificial intelligence and upgraded their current quarter revenue forecast to 50% above consensus estimates. AI and chip related stocks, saw strong performance on the back of this.

Whilst there has been volatility in shares throughout the year, we are convinced that to meet the demands of emerging AI technologies, semiconductor chips will have to become smarter and more powerful. A number of Europe's WFE companies have a key role to play here. Our holdings in ASM, BESI, ASML, Aixtron and STMicro were all amongst the top contributors.

The portfolio's 'auto' stock, Ferrari – although we would classify it amongst the luxury sector – also aided returns as the sportscar maker announced two new plug-in hybrid models based on SF90 supercar. These cars will be available in a limited series at top-end prices from early 2024. Importantly, their order book remains at very strong levels covering the entirety of 2025, offering unparalleled earnings visibility.

Outlook and positioning

The portfolio's turnover was slightly higher than in previous years.

Within industrials, which is the portfolio's largest absolute as well as active weight, main changes included moving a position from Teleperformance into St Gobain, who we believe can benefit from attractive exposure to European construction, infrastructure, green deal and the renovation wave in an effort to increase the energy efficiency of building stock. We have also exited shares in car leasing company ALD as the investment case was no longer on track. Management disappointed with weaker guidance due to higher costs related to inflation as well as higher IT costs as part of integrating their acquired peer LeasePlan.

In the technology space, a new addition was German-listed Aixtron which specialises in manufacturing metalorganic chemical vapour deposition equipment, for clients in the semiconductor industry. We believe the company is well positioned to benefit from accelerating power electronics based on gallium nitride (GaN) and silicon carbide (SiC).

In the consumer area, we built a position in Campari. Whilst the market environment may continue to be weak for another few quarters, key brands, such as Aperol, have strong growth potential. Going forward, Campari should also see benefits from disinflationary trends such as lower glass and ingredients costs.

Over the summer, we marginally added to a few more resilient businesses and value-exposed stocks.

For example, we bought Beiersdorf. Their category positioning, with main brand Nivea but also a number of higher-end skincare brands, provides an opportunity for margin expansion and should provide defensive and superior earnings growth.

Within financials, we initiated a holding in Munich Re. The reinsurance market is enjoying a period of positive pricing. A shift in pricing power is driving better price momentum. We also added Spanish-listed BBVA given strong dynamic in their key market Mexico, improved capital discipline and strong NII trends across the regions where they operate.

Elsewhere, we added Stellantis to the portfolio. Stellantis was formed by a merger of Fiat and Peugeot in 2021, owns a very strong set of brands, is extremely cost competitive and has an attractive geographic exposure, particularly to the US with limited exposure to China. With a strong balance sheet, good management team and trading at attractive valuations, we initiated a position.

As mentioned above, we exited position in Sartorius Stedim, Teleperformance and Finecobank.

We also sold payment platform Adyen, where we had held a small active weight. The investment thesis was around the company's position as a low-cost payments' provider, with its best in class single-stack technology platform, which could continue to drive profitable growth through market share gains.

However, Adyen reported an earnings miss, flagging increased pricing competition in North America as one of the reasons for slowing growth. The step change in competition came through from Braintree, a unit within PayPal, which we believe may be now trying to undercut Adyen, despite a higher cost stack and therefore accepting a near zero-profit as a result. This new dynamic is unquestionably negative, and we sold our position. At the end of the year, the portfolio ran overweight positions in industrials, IT and consumer discretionary. The portfolio was underweight utilities, communication services, financials, materials, energy, healthcare, real estate and consumer staples.

Going into 2024, we remain fairly constructive on European equities as the set-up should be positive: Inflation is on a downwards trajectory and the economy appears relatively robust. European inflation figures have fallen and whilst there may be volatility in month-to-month data, the economy can handle these levels of inflation. This also means that we have come to or are close to peak rates and at some point, it is fair to assume interest rates will come down. We have already started to see a positive impact on falling mortgage rates in many European countries.

The corporate sector in Europe is healthy. There is limited corporate debt, margins are strong, there is no need for major layoffs and the end of the destocking across most industries is in sight. This in turn is good news for the consumer: a supply chain and energy crisis that is largely done, combined with high employment numbers, and falling inflation suggest that the cost-of-living crisis has cooled off. This puts the region in a much better position compared to one year ago.

Nevertheless, the asset class has been under-owned ever since the Russian invasion of Ukraine in February 2022. As always in Europe, it is key to remain selective. Assessing the economy from the bottom-up can uncover areas for greater optimism than traditional economic indicators may suggest. Our regular contact with management teams helps us understand whether the direction of earnings and cashflows on a medium to long-term view for the companies in our portfolio remains on track. Long-term structural trends and large amounts of fiscal spending via the Recovery fund, Green Deal and the REPowerEU plan in Europe can also drive demand for years to come, for example in areas such as infrastructure, automation, innovation in medicines, the shift to electric vehicles, digitization or decarbonisation.

Valuations are attractive versus history and especially versus US equities. Overall, evidence of a resilient consumer, healthy corporate sector and decent outlooks underpinned by green stimulus, give us confidence that many of the companies in our portfolios can continue to weather the storm.

Manager's Report (unaudited)

2023 Market review

While the fourth quarter saw a nice rebound, much of 2023 was characterized by risk-off sentiment as investors became discouraged by China's slow recovery, rising geopolitical tensions, and concerns that the US might need to keep interest rates higher for longer to tame inflation. The MSCI EM gained +9.8% (USD), driven by strength in the IT sector (+32%), Financials (+11%) and Energy (+26%). Real Estate and Consumer Disc. were the weakest, each down in single digits. On a country basis, performance was bifurcated. Tech-heavy Taiwan (+30%) and Korea (+23%) gained as lower quality component companies rebounded from prior year multiple contraction and helped by AI enthusiasm. India (+21%) benefitted from a strong macro backdrop as well as flows out of China. In Latin America, Brazil gained 33% as it has been successful in battling inflation while demonstrating fiscal control, while Mexico rose 41% on the back of nearshoring prospects. China was the weakest major market, - 11% and given its weight was a significant detractor from index performance. In contrast to developed markets, value outpaced growth by more than 800 bp for the year.

Emerging markets started 2023 on a positive note following optimism over China's re-open, though the specter of a new banking crisis and developed market recession weighed on performance. Rising geopolitical risks between the US and China quickly jolted markets as a Chinese surveillance/weather balloon floated across the US. Tensions between China and the West remained elevated as President Xi Jinping continued to foster ties with Russia, and the US reignited pressure to force the sale of the US arm of social media platform TikTok.

By the second quarter, investors became discouraged by China's lackluster recovery and the government's slow response to stimulate. A looming real estate crisis also weighed on China. A visit to Beijing by US Secretary of State Antony Blinken resulted in an agreement to stabilize strained relations between the two countries. Nonetheless, concerns impacted investor sentiment toward China's tech industry and were exacerbated by growing worries over the country's economic recovery. In contrast to other countries battling inflation, China is facing the threat of deflation, which prompted stimulus measures that included a cut to benchmark lending rates and tax breaks for business. India was a beneficiary of the raised tensions between the US and China. Prime Minister Modi's state visit to the US resulted in an agreement that included defense and technology deals. India's economy remained a bright spot for GDP growth globally, helping maintain the country's stock market at record highs. Shifts in global trade became evident in emerging markets with data from South Korea showing that the country exported more goods to the US than China in 2022 for the first time in almost two decades. Meanwhile, data from Brazil, Latin America's largest economy, pointed to inflation coming back under control, enabling it to start reducing interest rates in the third quarter, while Maxico benefitted from a boom in nearshoring. India's economy continued to expand, with it posting 7.8% GDP growth in CY2Q. Indian Prime Minister Narendra Modi used G20 meetings to position the country as a trusted partner for international supply chains as businesses expand beyond China. Despite increases in sales to the US and the EU, weak Chinese demand hit neighbors with South Korean exports falling for the 11th month straight in August, with semiconductors down more than 20%. It was a similar story of falling exports in Taiwan, although the pace of decline slowed due to seasonal effects and the influence of AI demand. Concerns the US might keep interest

In the fourth quarter emerging markets equities rallied as signals that developed markets were nearing the end of the rate hike cycle eased pressure on emerging markets. The mood was further boosted in December when the US Federal Reserve penciled in three rate cuts for 2024. However, sentiment on China continued to deteriorate. Data showed that the country recorded its first quarterly foreign direct investment deficit in the third quarter, due also to global de-risking and the differential between Chinese and global interest rates. The Chinese government enacted measures to improve investor access and boost confidence in the economy while a meeting between Presidents Biden and Xi pointed to a modest thaw in US-China relations. For India, the macro picture remained bright with the IMF forecasting that India would continue to be the fastest-growing major economy in 2024. Indonesia's economy also outperformed although slowing global growth and weakening commodities demand impacted its 3Q GDP numbers. There were signs of improvement in tech and industrials-focused Asian economies with exports from South Korea turning positive in November after over a year in negative territory. It was a similar story in Taiwan, where exports started to show recovery in November, fed by demand for IT and audiovisual equipment. The quarter saw intensifying geopolitical tensions as conflict erupted between Israel and Gaza and conflicts between Russia and Ukraine showing no signs of coming to an end.

2023 performance review for the fund

Stocks that Helped Absolute Performance

- Samsung Electronics: The strong performance was mainly driven expectations of a recovery in the memory prices after eight quarters of downturn. After a difficult 1H 2023, the cyclical recovery is playing out and Samsung's guidance imply meaningful earnings recovery from Q4 onwards. Thanks to prudent capex control and production cutback initiatives, as well as a cyclical demand recovery from consumer applications, the memory market is beginning to show gradual improvement. Moreover, investor interest in memory industry, particularly in Samsung, is also fueled by the strong demand for high band width memory (HBM), used in A.I. chips. Samsung is catching up in the HBM space. Lastly, Samsung has been trading at relatively attractive valuation compared to peers (Samsung trades at a 30% discount to SK Hynix).
- Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co.: TSMC reaffirmed their view for a healthy growth year in 2024, which suggests potential share gains and flagship/Apple further migration to 3nm. Fabless customer inventory ended at a healthier level in 2023. The quarter-to-date sales ramp is driven by AI/HPC demand, peak season ramps for the iPhone and rebounding orders from Android. TSMC still views its 15-20% CAGR growth target (within 2021-26) as well on track and maintains 4Q23 guidance noting its monthly sales trends can be lumpy. Lastly, since capex spending is peaking out, we believe it should drive strong FCF with potential upside from cash dividend payout.

Stocks that Hurt Absolute Performance

- JD.com: JD.com is China's second largest e-commerce platform. We sold JD given the weak discretionary consumption recovery as well as concerns that competition will step up after JD indicated that it will step up subsidies.
- Meituan-Class B: Goods and services platform Meituan's share price is highly correlated with the health of the Chinese economy and consumer sentiment. Sold out due to the uncertainty of the recovery trajectory compounded with heightened competition in the In-store business.

Outlook and positioning

Emerging markets as an asset class have faced significant headwinds in recent years, along with our style. Loose monetary policy during the pandemic created an environment of excess liquidity. Investors flush with cash propelled momentum stocks. As the world emerged from the health crisis, sharply rising interest rates in developed markets contributed to a risk-off mood. China's prolonged zero-COVID policy, struggles coming out of the pandemic, and geopolitical tensions further soured sentiment. From a style perspective, value outpaced growth by a wide margin. More recently, higher interest rates have negatively impacted areas such as consumer staples, where traditionally we have been overweight. We have worked to further increase the durability of our consumer staples holdings, shifting the composition to focus on high-quality retailers across drug stores, grocery, and the convenience segment. These include Brazilian drug store chain Raia Drogasil, Taiwanese convenience store operator President Chain Stores, and grocery retailer Dino in Poland. We believe these businesses have more resilient models, face less competitive pressures, and have visible headroom for growth.

Manager's Report (unaudited)

We have increased our overweight to India, which in our view has among the strongest fundamentals in emerging markets. Here we have identified quality companies in new areas benefitting from a strong capex cycle and commitment to infrastructure spend. We have also found opportunities in new corners of the globe, including select companies in the Middle East and Poland. In 2023, tech-heavy countries Korea and Taiwan saw more cyclical component companies rebound from 2022 multiple-compression lows. But just because it's in favor doesn't make it sustainable. We remain underweight to both countries and see such companies as more vulnerable to a slowing environment in developed markets and trading at extended valuations.

Enthused about China's reopening, we had increased our weight at the end of 2022. While there are clear signs of recovery, it has been slower than anticipated and, unlike in the past, there are no fast remedies. Although our companies have generally performed in line with expectations, recovery has been sluggish, sentiment has been low, and earnings have not been rewarded. We reduced our exposure and are underweight China – focusing on domestic consumption, where we believe valuations are attractive and some of the companies that we own have been underearning. We remain mindful of potential regulatory risks and thus steer clear of China's banks and real estate.

Moderating inflation in the US and a softer labor market have reinforced the belief that the rate hike cycle is coming to an end. Inflation has also moderated in Europe. We believe this will be an important dynamic in 2024. However, we don't expect developed market interest rates to drop suddenly, fueling momentum like they did in 2020. Emerging markets offered less stimulus during the pandemic and were quick to raise rates when inflation rose. They are now in a position to cut rates – Brazil already cut a few times in 2023. The signal that the developed market rate cycle is coming to an end is positive for emerging markets, where we may see an acceleration of rate reductions. We remain true to our philosophy and process, steadfastly focused on the earnings delivery of our companies, which we believe will be rewarded.

2023 Market review

Whilst returns in fixed income were strong during the first quarter, this masked events in the banking space which somewhat took markets by storm. Following the pressure experienced by US regional banks, the market began to question the viability of the wider financial sector and focussed on one of the weaker names in Credit Suisse. The banks share price fell dramatically and raised fears around a further contagion in the wider banking sector. This quickly forced the Swiss regulator to engineer a shotgun marriage between Credit Suisse and UBS; which was largely viewed as a positive outcome for the wider sector. Post the UBS deal, the market recovered significantly and continued to do so throughout the second quarter, where returns were broadly flat across fixed income markets. By this point, the stress in the US regional banking sector had quickly abated and the uncertainty around the US Debt ceiling in May had little impact outside of a temporary increase in volatility at the very short end of the US Treasury curve, before it was fully resolved. During the quarter, the narrative turned again to persistent inflation and surprisingly resilient economic indicators in the US. Core CPI was still at 5.33% year on year in May, and the US labour market remained tight. The quarter saw further hikes by central banks and higher yields in most markets.

The third quarter proved to be a difficult environment for fixed income assets, with the Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Index posting a total return of -1.82% over the period. Reasons for the negative repricing of bonds were numerous, however the role central banks played was key, with the 'higher for longer' rhetoric having the desired impression on investor sentiment. Alongside this messaging, broader concerns around inflation were revived with a surge in oil prices whilst a softening in the economic growth environment weighed on the performance of risk assets. This general trend continued into the fourth quarter, taking a pause when the unexpected attack by Hamas on Israel at the start of October caused bond yields to fall sharply as investors fled to safe assets. However initially, the direction reversed with robust inflationary and economic data in the US reminding markets of the broader challenges ahead. The October CPI print came in at +0.4% month-on-month with core CPI hitting a 5-month high of +0.32%, notably above consensus expectations. In tandem, robust economic data coupled with concerns around higher oil prices helped to drive yields higher. Then into November, there was a big reversal in the market's expectation of inflation and the resultant central bank policy tightening required to dampen pricing pressures. This resulted in very strong performance for fixed income markets. The trend continued into December with economic data releases continuing to support a downward trend in inflation, and the Fed signalling towards a number of interest rate cuts in 2024. Bond markets moved to price in a higher likelihood of a soft landing in the US, expecting inflation to return to 2% quickly without a significant deterioration in the labour market and associated recession.

All in all, it was a very good year for fixed income assets with inflation trending towards central bank targets without too much damage to growth prospects, despite divergences between different economies. The move lower in government bond yields in Europe stood out, with the 2-year 35bp lower and the 10-year 54bp lower, closing the year at 2.39% and 2.02% respectively. In the US there was more of a steepening bias, with the 2-year moving 18bp lower and finishing the year at 4.25%, but the 10-year completing a round trip and finishing flat at 3.88% - quite a remarkable feat having reached 5% in October. In the UK the 2-year yield finished the year 42bp higher, however the belly of the curve performed better with the 10-year closing the year 13bp lower, at 3.53%. Credit markets had a strong year, with the UK outperforming. Global investment-grade spreads were 32bp tighter, closing the year at 115bp. US investment grade spreads were 31 tighter (closing at 99bp), European spreads 29 tighter (closing at 138bp) and finally sterling spreads 55bp tighter (closing at 139bp). In FX, the USD was broadly weaker in 2023, with the DXY down -2.11%. The MXN and BRL were two of the top performers, generating 29.6% and 22.3% respectively thanks to high carry and appreciation. The CHF, GBP, CAD and EUR were also all up vs the dollar, while the AUD, TWD, NOK, CNH and JPY were all weaker vs the USD in 2023.

2023 performance review for the fund

In 2023, the fund outperformed the benchmark.

Sovereign bond positions were negative contributors in 2023:

- Duration: underweight duration was a detractor during the last 2 months as core yields repriced lower;
- Country allocation: a relative preference for underweight US treasuries vs Bunds and Gilts towards the end of the year was negative;
- Yield curve: our bias towards steepening positions was a small negative contributor as curves broadly flattened towards the end of the year;
- Bond selection: overweight allocations to peripheral European government bonds especially Italy and Spain contributed positively.

Credit positions were the largest positive contributors to relative performance in 2023:

- Credit: overweight credit positioning contributed as corporate bond spreads were tighter, in particular our overweight financials;
- Emerging markets: overweight allocations to emerging market contributed as sovereign spreads tightened.

FX positions were positive contributors to relative performance in 2023:

- USD exposure: Long USD was a small negative as the currency was weaker towards the end of the year;
- Inter-bloc (EUR, CAD, JPY) allocation: allocation was positive as short EUR and GBP lost ground versus the USD, although the trend partially reversed in Q4;
- Intra bloc currency allocations: Our long NOK and our short CHF and GBP resulted in a negative contribution;
- Emerging markets currencies: Selective allocations to emerging markets currencies like the MXN and BRL exposures added to returns as they posted strong returns versus a basket of developed markets currencies.

Outlook and positioning

We believe monetary policy is entering a new phase and the global monetary policy tightening cycle is now behind us. Markets are now pricing interest cuts in the US and in the Eurozone starting from March. While we agree we will most likely see rate cuts in 2024, we believe the market is now pricing cuts too soon, as growth has remained very resilient in the US and core inflation measures are still well above targets. In the short term, we expect the strong rate rally in the last two month of the year may lead to some pull back; hence, we remain tactical and underweight headline duration for now. However, we believe 2024 will be a good environment for rates, and we are likely to look to add duration gradually during the year, although we will remain flexible to adjust to the environment. In Japan, we expect upward pressure on yields through 2024. The BOJ appetite to keep buying JGB's to defend target is waning. We believe the end of the negative interest rate policy is likely in 2024, and hence we remain underweight duration position. On the other hand, we hold an overweight duration position in New Zealand, as we are relatively more negative on the economic prospects there and we believe the Central bank may cut sooner than the market is currently pricing. We also have a small overweight duration position in the short end of the United Kingdom curve, as we have a negative economic outlook and we believe the rate adjustment has been overdone. On the EM Local rate side, we are still bullish on Brazil, Mexico and South Africa duration, as we expect further progress on the inflation front, moderate rate cuts, and a shift to moderate growth. In credit, we still like Investment Grade where fundamentals remain resilient, although management guidance is starting to be lowered. We currently prefer the belly of the EUR Investment Grade curve on valuation growths. However, High Yield corporates look expensive in our view, in the face of the deteriorating growth outlook, and we remain cautious in that segment. In FX, rece

the rest of the world on more tenuous footing. We do find some pockets of attractive valuations, for instance on the AUD, which we believe is relatively undervalued and should benefit from the strength of the Australian economy and the still hawkish stance from the Reserve Bank of Australia. On the other hand, we remain negative on GBP, as we believe the growth outlook will weigh on the currency, and on CAD, on weak economic fundamentals and rich valuations against other commodity currencies. In EM, we still favour Latin America, where policymakers have been careful to preserve real carry. We still expect a very gradual policy normalization and little real carry erosion over the first half of next year. We remain cautious in Asia, where we expect lower growth, in particular from China, and greater geopolitical uncertainty. We remain agile in the face of rising political uncertainty. The election agenda is heavy in 2024, including election in the US, which could bring about a number of relative value and tactical opportunities to generate outperformance in 2024, in addition to the directional strategies implemented in the portfolio.

Monetary policy

After an aggressive pace of monetary policy tightening in the second half of 2022 to tackle inflation that was "broad based and unacceptably high", in 2023 the US Federal Reserve (Fed) decided on rate rises in occasional steps of 25bp. Throughout the first half of the year, the Fed had to counter expectations that an end to the hiking cycle was anywhere close. The federal funds target rate was raised into the 5.00%-5.25% range before a status quo on 14 June. At the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting on 25/26 July, the Fed raised its policy rate by 25bp before deciding on a status quo at the three subsequent meetings. These were well anticipated each time. The federal funds target rate is now within the 5.25%-5.50% range, up by 100bp in 2023 and by 525bp since the first hike in March 2022. Between September, when the decision not to raise policy rates was still being interpreted as just another pause in the cycle, and December, the Fed's rhetoric became much more dovish as inflation finally slowed and some FOMC members pointed out that indications of a slowdown in the economy were multiplying. The Minutes of the September meeting showed that some members considered the risk of overtightening monetary policy, and that decisions and communications should shift from how high to raise the policy rate to how long to hold it at restrictive levels.

In December, Fed Chair Powell pointed out that monetary policy was now "well into restrictive territory". On the other hand, projections of the level of the federal funds rate that FOMC members deemed "appropriate" revealed that policy easing may start in the first half of 2024. In September, 10 FOMC members had thought the federal funds rate would still be above 5% by the end of 2024. In December, only three still expected that. The median estimate fell by 50bp to 4.625% (i.e., three 25pb cuts). Markets' expectations of a rapid cut in 2024, which were already strong before the meeting, then became somewhat over-enthusiastic. At the end of December, the Overnight Indexed Swap (OIS) showed the equivalent of seven 25bp cuts in policy rates in 2024, with a high probability of a first cut in March. Faced with the slowdown in inflation, the FOMC revised down its expectations for core personal consumption expenditures (PCE) inflation at the end of 2023 (to 3.2% from 3.7% forecast in September), at the end of 2024 (2.4%) and at the end of 2025 (2.2%). At the same time, the FOMC expects the unemployment rate to rise moderately (to 4.1% from 2024 to 2026), which would mean it remaining close to its equilibrium level of 4.0%. The Fed's central scenario appears to be a soft landing, whereby a return of inflation to target would not require a sharp slowdown in activity.

In 2023, the European Central Bank (ECB) first raised its three key rates by 50bp in February and March, and then by 25bp in May, June, July and September, taking the deposit rate to 4.00%, the marginal lending facility to 4.75% and the main refinancing operations to 4.50%. Since the first hike in July 2022, rates have risen by 450bp. The ECB's communication hinted that the September hike would be the last in the current cycle and subsequent comments indicated that the choice between a status quo and a hike in September had been difficult given a particularly uncertain environment. In fact, the ECB is facing a delicate situation where the labour market remains tight but where business activity is suffering from lower demand.

At her press conference following what was presented as a "pause" on 26 October, ECB President Christine Lagarde acknowledged that the "very strong transmission" of monetary policy was "directly affecting the financing of the economy" which in turn "plays on to the reduction of inflation and the dampening of demand". The year-on-year consumer price index fell from 8.6% in January to 2.9% in October and then 2.4% in November. Core inflation, still above 5% in August, fell to 3.6% in November, its lowest since April 2022. In addition, growth in the Eurozone, and particularly in Germany, remained depressed and weak demand began to weigh on employment.

The Minutes of the ECB's 26 October meeting revealed that discussions focused on downside risks to growth. In the context, the post-meeting communication in December was seen as rather hawkish, unlike some statements that had caught investors' attention earlier. The Governing Council reiterated that it was "too early to declare victory in the fight against inflation" as "domestic price pressures remain elevated, primarily owing to strong growth in unit labour costs".

The Governing Council also agreed that "over the second half of 2024, the Pandemic Emergency Purchase Programme (PEPP) portfolio will be reduced by a monthly average of EUR 7.5 billion and that reinvestments under the scheme will be discontinued at the end of 2024". Finally, ECB President Christine Lagarde said the Council did not discuss rate cuts. Even so, expectations of rapid rate cuts in 2024 have strengthened. At the end of December, the levels on the Overnight Indexed Swap (OIS) showed three cuts of 25bp in the first half of the year.

Bond market

Throughout the year, changes in monetary policy expectations led to a sharp rise in volatility (implied and actual) all along the yield curve, and especially on the shorter maturities. These movements were exacerbated in mid-March by the bankruptcies of several US regional banks. Markets were also animated in the spring by the debate over the US debt ceiling and a hypothetical technical default of the US which led to sharp movements in the Credit Default Swap (CDS) market and on very short-term Treasury rates. Beyond this, these volatile movements also reflected investor nervousness. Quarterly changes in the 10-year T-note yield reflected this shilly-shallying: -4bp in the first quarter, +19bp in the second, +73bp in the third and -69bp in the fourth. The US 10-year yield (3.87% at the end of 2022) moved sharply from the beginning of the year. It fell below 3.40% in mid-March and, despite the rapid reaction of the authorities to guarantee all the deposits of the failed regional banks, long-term yields did not immediately rise. Investors then feared that the recession engendered by a possible banking crisis could force the Fed to aggressively lower its key interest rates. These concerns eased in May. Yields then rose as other factors came into play over the months (very hawkish comments from the central bankers at Sintra at the end of June, strong economic indicators).

The upward pressure on bond yields increased and, on 23 October, the yield on the US 10-year US T-note briefly surpassed the symbolic threshold of 5.00% for the first time since 2007. While the Treasury Secretary refuted it, such a development may have reflected concerns about the sustainability of US sovereign debt. These were also expressed by the rating agencies. We should note that the fall in long-term bond yields from their high on 23 October could be seen as an ex-post validation of Janet Yellen's analysis. In November and December, investors focused on two elements: the slowdown in inflation and the Fed's less hawkish comments, which triggered expectations of earlier and larger rate cuts. The yield on the 10-year T-note fell almost continuously to below 3.80% on 27 December, its lowest since 19 July. It ended the year at 3.88%, back to its end of 2022 level. The 2-year yield (4.43% at the end of 2022), rose above 5.00% at the beginning of March and then suddenly fell back to 3.80% during the US regional banks crisis. It hovered around this level until May before rising again. It then surged above 5.20% in October and ended the year at 4.25%.

Eurozone bond markets' movements were driven by expectations of the ECB's and the Fed's monetary policy and, of course, by the banking turmoil that arose in March, first in the US and then in Europe. It should be noted that the interbank market was not affected at any time, which reflected the confidence that eurozone banks have in each other. In the first quarter, the yield on the 10-year German Bund moved erratically between 2.00% and 2.75%. Market movements were several times heightened by the reaction of some investors who felt forced to abruptly stop-loss their positions. This was the case for the fall that followed the 50bp rise in the ECB's key rates on 16 March and briefly led to the yield on the German 10-year Bund to move below 2.00% intraday on 24 March amid rising concerns about European banks. Once the risk of a systemic financial crisis was removed, the German 10-year Bund yield moved trendless between 2.20% and 2.50% in the second quarter, surpassing 2.50% only very briefly, driven by a global trend on bond yields (US debt ceiling negotiations, UK inflation data). It was only from July, in the wake of US long-term bond yields, that it crossed this 2.50% threshold, which had previously appeared to be a strong resistance point, for longer. After a bumpy ride during the summer, it reached 2.97% at the beginning of October. Following US yields, and despite still-hawkish ECB rhetoric, the German 10-year yield then fell sharply, accentuated by worsening eurozone economic conditions and the slowdown in inflation. The 10-year Bund yield eased to 1.90% on 27 December, its lowest in more than a year, with bond market activity very light in the last week of the year. It ended 2023 at 2.02% (-55bp compared to the end of 2022).

The Governing Council's conclusions of 14 December did not appear particularly dovish, but subsequent statements by several governors confirming that it was too early to envisage rate cuts failed to change investor expectations. The German 2-year yield (2.76% at the end of 2022), fluctuated sharply between 2.35% and 3.25% to end 2023 at 2.40%, close to its lowest since the mini crisis triggered by the bankruptcies of several US regional banks in March.

Credit market

The credit market once again outperformed the sovereign debt market this year, but the performances of both these asset classes were positive: +8.19% for credit vs +7.13% for government bonds. The credit market not only benefited from the drop in interest rates over the year (the 10-year BUND fell from 2.44% to 2.02% between the start of January and the end of December 2023) but also from a fairly significant tightening of credit spreads (30 bp over the year according to the Euro Aggregate Bloomberg index).

Spreads also tightened in the CDS indices market; the MAIN ITRAXX 5-year CDS fell from 99 to 58 over the period under review.

Within the credit market, performances were relatively similar. Financial companies gained 8.57% (aided by their subordinated debt). Industrial bonds fared less well (+7.82%), while Utilities came between the two (+8.32%).

In the primary market, 2023 was also another very strong year for volumes.

2023 performance review for the fund

The fund's sensitivity was managed actively during the year. The start of the year was marked by a significant underweighting that had an adverse performance impact, but the position was maintained and by mid-February this impact was reversed. Amid such volatility, a decision was taken to adopt a position close to neutrality between mid-February and 9 March, when German 10-year yields had fallen back to around 2.10%.

From this date, amid sharp rate hikes by central banks, we thought interest rates would move within an upward channel whose limits would edge higher as central banks continued to raise rates. The strategy was to take risk when the upper band of the channel was reached and to sell when the bottom band of the channel was reached.

Unfortunately, because of extreme market volatility, this clear and simple strategy could not be implemented very often, since sudden and massive market movements often gave us no time to put in place new positions.

This strategy was abandoned at the start of July. Sensitivity was increased several times until the fund became overexposed to the benchmark index. During this first half of July, the German 10-year yield rose from 2.40% to 2.63%. This yield appeared very attractive and we preferred to have high sensitivity.

But the fund soon became underexposed again because of this volatility, with the German yield falling back to 2.40% within a few days.

From August, when interest rates started climbing again, but not in a linear manner, sensitivity was regularly increased, and the fund became overexposed again to its index until the end of the first week of November. A peak was reached in mid-October, with an overweighting of 0.37 relative to the benchmark index.

At that moment, investors began to anticipate not only the end of central bank rate hikes but also rapid cuts. This was not our scenario at all, as we were forecasting a long plateau of stable rates. As rates fell, sensitivity was gradually reduced.

Maximum under-sensitivity of -0.20 was reached on 24 November (on a German 10-year yield of 2.60%), but given the magnitude of this movement a decision was taken on this date to reduce under-sensitivity by around 20 basis points on 28 November. At the end of the first week of December, the market seemed to want to move higher after the German 10-year yield reached 2.19%; and under-sensitivity was raised again by around 10 basis points. Very quickly, after just six days, the market moved lower (2.12%) and we decided to take losses on this final attempt.

Sensitivity consequently ranged between 6.06 at the start of the year and 6.15 at the end. Between then, lows of around 5.95-6.00 were reached in January, February, March, April and June. Highs of 6.44 were reached in July and of 6.50 in September, October and November.

On government debt, a Buy Spain/Sell Italy arbitrage was put in place in June. At the end of the year, Spain was overweighted, whereas Italy was underweighted. Belgium and Austria were favoured throughout the year.

On the yield curve, the 7-11 year zone was favoured, while the 16-32 year zone was abandoned from June amid fears of a steepening of the yield curve.

Outlook and positioning

The Fed's last monetary policy committee in 2023 offered investors the "pivot" they had long awaited. By indicating that the sequence of policy rate hikes was over and that a rate cut could be considered as early as the first half of 2024, Jerome Powell fuelled a year-end stocks and bonds rally. Faced with a sharp slowdown in inflation and signs of slowing activity, still tentative in the US, investors began to anticipate numerous rate cuts. The perfect "soft-landing" scenario has gained ground as more investors appear convinced that inflation has been defeated without causing a recession.

Given the sharp December bond rally, we expect (possibly volatile) adjustments in yield levels at the start of 2024. Ongoing geopolitical risks and the US presidential election in 2024 will likely fuel some nervousness.

Manager's Report (unaudited)

2023 Market review

In contrast to the previous year, 2023 was a significantly better year for global risk assets. That said, markets also experienced some bouts of volatility this year, i.e., over 3Q 2023, as developed market interest rates trended higher. As we moved into November, risk sentiment was buoyed by more resilient data prints coming out of the US, and further boosted by more dovish messaging from the Federal Reserve at the last FOMC meeting of the year which signalled for potential rate cuts over 2024. Overall, most risk assets, including emerging market bonds, generally ended 2023 significantly in the green, marking a stark recovery vs. 2022.

Within emerging markets, it was generally an eventful year – in addition to the ongoing Russia-Ukraine conflict, geopolitics was once again the centre of attention as the Israel-Hamas War raged since October, resulting in the current humanitarian crisis in the Gaza strip. 2023 also saw important political developments, as Recep Erdoğan was re-elected in May as President of Turkey, and Javier Milei assumed leadership in Argentina following elections in November. Elsewhere in China, the country's economic recovery continues to be relatively sluggish, with key sectors (e.g., property) still under pressure. This has led to more concrete messaging from the country's policymakers at December's Central Economic Work Conference on further support and the key focus areas of the economy in the coming year.

Over the year, hard currency emerging market bonds, as measured by the JPMorgan EMBI Global Diversified, returned a very strong 11.09% of returns (in USD terms). At the index level, investment grade (IG) names were behind high yield (HY) peers (7.08% vs. 15.38%), with the latter segment aided by significant spread compression. For emerging market hard currency corporates, the JPMorgan CEMBI Broad Diversified also delivered compelling positive returns of 9.08% (in USD terms) over the year. HY names also outperformed IG peers (11.17% vs. 7.57%) within this space.

2023 performance review for the fund

Over 2023, the fund's performance returned to positive territory (in contrast to 2022), but still behind the benchmark's return. Duration and curve effects were generally neutral and yield carry effects were slightly positive. However, the key driver of underperformance was from credit spread effects.

Key relative detractors over the year include our underweight in several frontier markets (such as Argentina, Pakistan, El Salvador, Sri Lanka), which benefitted from significant spread compression due to positive developments and risk sentiment. Selection effects in Egypt also added to the underperformance.

Conversely, some of our high conviction ideas added very positively to the portfolio on a relative basis. Our significant overweight in Brazil local and hard currency bonds and overweight in Turkey hard currency sovereigns were key contributors over the year.

Outlook and positioning

2023 had been an outstanding year for emerging market hard and local currency debt, both of which delivered double-digit returns over the period and are among the best performing fixed income asset classes. Emerging market economies has benefitted from more robust growth rates vs. developed market peers, more resilient fundamentals, and strengthening currencies. Along with a more benign US interest rate environment towards the latter part of 2023, all these factors led to emerging market debt weathering bouts of volatility over the year successfully and finishing the year on a strong note.

Looking ahead to 2024, we continue to be of the view that the emerging market debt asset class continues to offer opportunities, though we are of the view that it requires careful navigation of the markets. For one, valuations have moved up vs. the start of 2023, and thus, we are of the view that taking a more selective approach is warranted. For another, 2024 is a year of elections within emerging market, and we see important developments on this front in key markets such as Indonesia in Asia, Romania and South Africa in CEEMEA, as well as Mexico in Latin America that could be potentially market- moving. On China, the largest emerging market country, we continue to pay very close attention to key policy developments that could accelerate the recovery of the economy.

For hard currency emerging market bonds, the team had been more partial towards adopting a longer duration positioning over the most part of 2023 as we held the view that we were near the end of the Fed rate hiking cycle. Moving into 2024, we are moving our stance towards neutral tactically, as we think that the excitement around the Fed pivot may be premature. We may re-enter into a long duration positioning again if the rhetoric moves towards the hawkish side again and triggers a correction.

We continue to see emerging market spreads as offering better value vs. developed market peers. That said, we also recognise generic spreads as currently less appealing vs. earlier in 2023, and some parts of emerging market corporate credits have also become more expensive. We continue to focus on some of the idiosyncratic names and select frontier markets, which we believe offer attractive opportunities. We are aware that spreads within the investment grade segment have become expensive, and therefore remain more selective here.

2023 Market review and and performance review for the fund

The fixed income year 2023 was characterized by persistently high interest rate volatility. Yields on risk-free investments such as German or US government bonds fluctuated significantly. This was triggered by market participants' discussions about the dynamics of declining inflation rates on both sides of the Atlantic, combined with concerns about recessionary economic growth due to the high level of key interest rates. As a result, expectations about the future course of central bank rates became very important and the level of uncertainty was high. In the first quarter of 2023, the yield on two-year German government bonds fell by 90 basis points from 3.30% to 2.40% within a short period of time, before rising again to 3.30%. Yields then trended sideways over the summer and in early fall before falling again significantly to 2.40% towards the end of the year. Compared to rapid falls in yields, the increases in yields took considerably longer. Strategic duration management was therefore challenging, and we took a predominantly tactical approach for a long time, starting from a neutral position. On the risk side, spreads at the short end of the curve were relatively tight in comparison. After fears of a renewed systemic banking crisis triggered by Silicon Valley Bank and Credit Suisse led to a significant increase in the spring, spreads subsequently declined and ended the year almost back at an annual low. We reversed our cautious stance at the beginning of the year and remained significantly overweight in corporate bonds for long periods. Supported by falling Bund swap spreads, our strategic overweight in high quality assets as covered bonds also generated additional income. In contrast, we took a neutral position or changed even briefly to underweight.

Overall, the fund was able to generate additional income through an overweight in higher-yielding corporate bonds, covered bonds or Italian government bonds. Looking forward, this strategy remains in place for the time being: a manageable level of additional risk, which will not be further expanded against the backdrop of the sharp rise in political risk (China-Taiwan, Ukraine-Russia, Middle East).

2023 performance review for the fund

In the course of the year, the Fund stayed structurally bullish on the equity component, at close to maximum investment levels. The Fund remains invested in stock-picking mode with a preference for the technology and digitalisation sectors, and exposure to value securities. In the year, exposure to cyclical stocks was progressively reduced. Among Italian small and medium caps, the overweighting was confirmed of stocks showing structural growth trends, mostly in the digitalisation, infrastructure, and energy transition sectors, as opposed to confirmed underweight views on stocks more tightly bound to consumer discretionary and the industrial sector.

In the government bond component, duration was kept in line with the benchmark, or longer. More in detail, long duration was confirmed on Germany, the United States, and Italy. The Fund tactically managed its positioning along the yield curve, shifting part of the long position on duration to the short and intermediate segments of the yield curve, once the money market started to price in a hiatus and/or the conclusion of the restrictive monetary policy phase, and to focus on identifying the equilibrium terminal rate.

For what concerns the corporate bond portfolio, a bullish approach was taken to the market, while focusing on the selection of individual issues and the choice of ratings and issuers. More in detail, a preference was awarded to the higher rating classes and to the more defensive sectors, resulting in the sale of the more volatile components and of issuers with lower ratings. However, starting in September, overall exposure was further increased to credits, by adding to the more cyclical sectors and actively addressing the primary market, that showed signs of picking up already towards the second half of August. Issues were selected based on the premium paid and with an eye for portfolio diversification. Portfolio allocation by sector was largely unchanged: financials were awarded a preference over industrials, with a neutral view on utilities.

As regards currencies, portfolio exposure is very close to the benchmark's.

No derivative instruments were used in the period considered.

The fund's performance was positive. The corporate bond component outperformed, driven in particular by the long position on financial subordinates and industrial hybrids. Within the bond component, exposure to large caps contributed positively to performance; by contrast, small and medium caps underperformed large caps, although this was offset in part by stock picking.

Outlook and positioning

In the months ahead come, the idea is to keep essentially the same approach to the equity component as in the closing months of 2023, paying particular attention to risks tied to the inflationary and geopolitical context. For what concerns the corporate bond portfolio, we intend to stay bullish, albeit more cautiously so. Despite still solid company results, adequate liquidity, and conservative financial policies, uncertainty over economic growth advises a preference for the Investment Grade segment, the less cyclical sectors, and the more defensive ones.

Risks to Fund performance are tied to the evolution of both the equity and bond components. As regards the former, the main risks concern external factors, such as geopolitical risk, as well as to high portfolio exposure to the Italian market. The trend of bond prices may depend on both the upward movement of rates and the widening of spreads in the countries in which the Fund can invest.

2023 Performance review for the fund

The NEF U.S. Equity portfolio underperformed the MSCI USA Index - Net Return in 2023.

Detractors

Contributors

- Stock selection within heath care, consumer staples, and energy
- Individual stocks: Microsoft, Salesforce, and Alphabet

- Significant impacts on performance Detractors
   The portfolio's underweight position in computer graphics processor maker NVIDIA (United States) detracted from relative performance. The stock price climbed as the company reported financial results well above expectations, primarily driven by stronger-than-expected revenue growth within its data center, generative AI, and networking segments. Revenue and earnings per share guidance were significantly above expectations, driven by continued robust demand related to generative AI.
- The portfolio's underweight position in social networking service provider Meta Platforms (United States) weighed on relative returns. The share price rose as the company cited plans to cut costs and invest in artificial intelligence, including adding generative AI to text, image, and video generators across its network of apps, including Facebook and Instagram.
- Not owning shares of electric vehicle manufacturer Tesla (United States) weakened relative returns. The share price of Tesla appreciated after a significant decline in the fourth quarter of 2022. Despite operating margin pressures due to aggressive vehicle price cuts, the price of shares rose as the company delivered a record number of vehicles in the first half of the year, handily beating expectations.

Significant impacts on performance - Contributors

- The portfolio's position in software giant Microsoft (United States) boosted relative results. The company reported financial results that were higher than expected throughout the year. The results were mainly due to revenue growth within the intelligent cloud and productivity & business processes segments and higher-than-expected contributions from AI-enabled services.
- The portfolio's position in customer information software manager Salesforce (United States) helped relative returns. The stock price appreciated as the company reported better-than-expected 2022 fourth quarter financial results, driven by significant cost cutting measures. Additionally, the stock price rose following strong third quarter results due to improving demand trends in generative AI.
- The portfolio's overweight position in technology company Alphabet (United States) benefited relative performance. Financial results were positive most of the year, with strong revenue contributions from video website YouTube and cloud services. The company also posted lower operating expenses through reduced employee headcount and moderation in hiring, which also supported the stock.

Outlook and positioning

We employ a sector neutral approach relative to the S&P 500 Index and use our bottom-up, fundamental investment approach to identify solid companies with a bias towards companies generating above-average, sustainable growth and whose stocks trade at reasonable valuations.

NEF Pacific Equity

Manager's Report (unaudited)

2023 Market review

Pacific equities advanced over the period. Equity markets rebounded strongly towards the end of the period amid expectations that the US Federal Reserve (Fed) may have reached the peak of its tightening cycle. Furthermore, a dovish tone from the Fed in December supported investor optimism for a sooner than expected rate cut in 2024. This led to renewed appetite for risk assets across the region. Against this backdrop, Australian and Singapore equities advanced. A sharp rebound in semiconductor names in Taiwan and South Korea also buoyed these markets. Investors remained optimistic of growth prospects stemming from artificial intelligence (AI) and chip and node downcycles bottoming out. The Japanese equity market climbed to a multi-decade high during the period. Extended buying by overseas investors drove share price gains. Market participants were encouraged by a steady stream of corporate governance related developments, spurred by reform measures from the Tokyo Stock Exchange, and largely positive domestic earnings. Conversely, equities in China and Hong Kong remained subdued. China's ailing property market coupled with the country's macroeconomic weakness weighed on market sentiment. At a sector level, the information technology (IT) led market gains.

2023 performance review for the fund

In the period under review, the portfolio outperformed the reference benchmark. At a sector level, the information technology (IT) led market gains. Selected consumer discretionary contributed to performance. Meanwhile, an underweight stance in financials held back gains. Within consumer discretionary, shares in branded variety retailer MINISO Group soared as it released solid results, beating market expectations. It reported strong sales growth in both its domestic and overseas markets, coupled with stronger margins and decent operating leverage. E-commerce retailer PDD Holdings reported strong revenue and income beats for the third quarter of 2023, as heavy discounting boosted sales across its Chinese platform Pinduoduo and overseas platform Temu. Since it launched in September last year, Temu is seeing growing popularity overseas and has become a main driver of PDD's revenue growth. Meanwhile, our lack of exposure to local online services provider Meituan proved rewarding. Its shares remained pressured amid intensifying competition in the Chinese e-commerce market. Within financials, shares in Hong Kong-based digital assets and blockchain trading platform provider BC Technology traded higher amid an overall strength in cryptocurrency prices. These gains were partially offset by the position in China's credit facilitator Lufax Holding. Its shares declined as it released subdued results. Weakness in China's macroeconomic backdrop and the company's changes to its business model pose some near-term headwinds. Nonetheless, Lufax remains substantially undervalued and provides upside potential given its leading position in online lending to small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs). Within IT, the holding in Vietnam's software outsourcing company FPT advanced. Its shares continue to be re-rated amid an optimistic growth outlook driven by digital transformation trends and cloud demand stemming from generative artificial intelligence (GenAI). It reported solid results with strong demand for IT services from Japan and the Asia Pacific region, while competition remained stable. Conversely, an underweight stance in semiconductor giant Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company (TSMC) and electronics company Samsung Electronics held back relative gains. Their shares were supported by optimism surrounding demand recovery as chip and node downcycles appear to have bottomed out and memory chips are showing a recovery in prices.

Outlook and positioning

Looking ahead, in view of the problematic property market in China, while we don't expect a huge property rebound given the structural challenges, the existing divergence between various developers could be magnified further. This indiscriminate sell off creates mispricing opportunities for active investors that can successfully identify the leading players who are most likely to benefit from lower funding costs among peers and gain market share. Job and wage cuts in 2023 have clearly hurt consumer confidence. However, from our discussions with companies, we have the sense that the worst is behind us. Over the longer term, improving corporate earnings could be a key driver for an improvement in investor confidence. Meanwhile, valuations in the Chinese equity market remain compelling, both in historical terms and compared with some other major markets. Clearly, a lot of pessimism over the economy appears to be priced in. Arguably, Japanese equities were one of the outstanding markets of 2023 with steady performance driven by improving corporate governance. At the same time, the Japanese market is clearly underappreciated as over half of Topix stocks still trade below book value. With recent policy catalysts from Tokyo Stock Exchange (TSE) reforms and increasing activist activities to drive capital efficiency and profitability (ROE), this could create a significant opportunity for investors. In technology-focused markets like Korea and Taiwan, information technology (IT) stocks continued to see earnings downgrade whilst multiples expand in anticipation of a bottoming of demand alongside artificial intelligence (AI) theme. Thus, much of this upside has already been built into stock prices and valuations look quite stretched. Elsewhere in the region, we continue to see structural growth stories unfolding across individual markets, where infrastructure growth is accelerating, government balance sheets are stronger and supply chain shifts are underway. In our view, this underpins opportunities in India, Vietnam and Indonesia for long-term investors. Against this backdrop, we have been expanding our footprint in those markets and are notably overweight in Indonesia. The fund has exposure to companies that are likely to increase their market share over time. By adopting bottom-up stock selection, we remain firmly focused on companies with strong long-term growth prospects that are attractively priced relative to their long-term intrinsic value.

2023 Market review and performance review for the fund

2023 was a very good year for European bond markets, which posted robust gains which accelerated in the last quarter of the year. The first nine months of the year were still characterized by rate hikes by the ECB and the FED. The fading inflationary pressure in the last quarter led to a pause in central banks` action and was celebrated by the markets, which started to price in interest rate cuts for next year.

Corporate bond markets traded in a positive way with spreads ttightening over the course of the year. There was only a short period of heightened volatility in March/April when problems of US regional banks and the takeover of Credit Suisse by UBS led to sharply wider financial spreads. Markets, however, recovered quite quickly with the fund posting a very good annual performance, allowing it to recoup much of the loss from the previous year.

After being underweight duration for most of 2022 duration was increased in 2023 by reducing hedges and increasing longer duration bonds. The fund was also quite active on the new issue market. At the end of the year duration was reduced as the market performed especially well in the last quarter of the year.

Outlook and positioning

The end of the interest rate hike cycle should also have a positive impact on the bond markets in 2024. Rate cuts should be good for the economy and thus also for corporate earnings. We still like high quality corporate bonds with attractive yields. Most of the exposure is invested in non-financial corporates with close to 20% invested in financials.

2023 Market review

Global fixed income markets endured significant volatility but posted positive returns over the year. Markets continued to battle with monetary policy concerns amid persistent inflation dynamics. This along with banking sector crisis led by Silicon Valley Bank in the US and Credit Suisse in Europe, the US government's debt ceiling crisis in May and the Fitch's downgrade of the US debt rating in August weighed on investor sentiment. The unfolding conflict and tragic events in Israel and Gaza also kept global sentiment in check. However, bond markets recovered some lost ground in the last two months of the year. Investor optimism stemmed from expectations that key central banks, including the US Federal Reserve (Fed), European Central Bank (ECB) and the Bank of England (BoE) had largely concluded interest rate hikes in light of cooling inflation, slowing economic growth and a stabilisation in commodity prices. During its latest policy meeting, the US Federal Reserve (Fed) adopted an unexpectedly dovish stance by indicating that it could start cutting interest rates in 2024, if inflation continues to fall. In turn, sovereign bonds including US Treasuries, UK government bonds (Gilts) and German bund yields experienced a continued recovery, with yields declining over the last two months. On the economic front, major economies appeared to slow down due to a variety of reasons. Global factories output deteriorated, with eurozone activity contracting for an 18th straight month in December. The S&P Global US manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) declined to 47.9 in December, pointing to a decrease in output and a faster downturn in new orders. UK's manufacturing sector also suffered a setback, with the final reading weakening to 46.2 in December, ending a run of three months of improvement. The eurozone's manufacturing sector remained in contractionary territory, with output continuing to fall and factory job losses extending into a seventh successive month. Elsewhere, the annual Consumer Price Index (CPI) in the US came in at 3.1% in November, easing marginally from 3.2% in October. Meanwhile, the eurozone's CPI fell to 2.4% in November, its lowest reading since July 2021.

2023 performance review for the fund

In 2023, the fund posted positive returns, outperforming global government bonds but underperforming global investment grade and global high yield bonds. Credit strategy was the primary of positive returns due to the mix of tighter credit spreads and higher yields. During the period, corporate bonds outperformed sovereign bonds on the back of strong corporate earnings and receding recession risks given healthy labour markets, resilient growth and weakening inflation data. Within the corporate bond market, high yield bonds outperformed investment grade bonds as the shorter-dated profile of high yield bonds offered a source of resilience in a rising yield environment. At a sector level, the portfolio benefitted from the exposure to financials, consumer cyclical and technology & communications names which fared relatively well compared to property and capital goods sectors. From an issuer perspective, financials names such as HSBC, UBS and Intesa Sanpaolo were among the top contributors to returns. Conversely, the allocation to real estate names such as CPI Property Group, Heimstaden Bostad and Aroundtown detracted from returns. Meanwhile, term structure positioning enhanced performance amid significant volatility in the rates market over the year. The US-dollar, euro and sterling duration positions added value as the yields on sovereign bonds including US Treasuries, German bunds, and UK government bonds (Gilts) declined sharply during the last two months of the year. Investor optimism stemmed from expectations that key central banks, including the US Federal Reserve (Fed), European Central Bank (ECB) and the Bank of England (BoE) had largely concluded interest rate hikes, given cooling inflation, slowing economic growth and a stabilisation in commodity prices. Consequently, short-maturity yields, which are more sensitive to monetary policy changes, declined the most, leaving the yield curve less inverted towards the end of the year.

Outlook and positioning

The macroeconomic backdrop remains in the late cycle. The US Fed dovish tone propelled bonds higher and reinforced the consensus of a soft landing. The market's attention will also be focused on how quickly the ECB and the BoE follow suit as inflationary pressures continue to ease. There are signs of a slowdown in the US, as high debt and high interest rates are beginning to hurt businesses. We continue to believe that high debt and high interest rates could strain the economy, especially as many corporates begin to refinance their debt at more punishing rates. However, labour market normalisation and positive real wage growth are supporting consumer activities. We think that robust consumer spending may sustain the US economy into the late cycle for a little longer, which is likely to put a floor under bond yields in the short term. In Europe, weaker growth and sharply slowing inflation nomentum suggests that the ECB will follow the US Fed and turn more dovish in the coming months. Similarly, the BoE is likely to transition to rate cuts if data worsens, accompanied by declines in wage growth and inflation. This, in turn could lead to a gradual decline in yields and curves to steepen. Moreover, there will be an exceptional run of elections across the world during 2024, and there is likely to be broad unusually elevated degree of uncertainty in 2024.

Against this backdrop, we are optimistic on duration over the medium-term. Given the risk of rates moving higher in the near-term and to navigate short term volatility, we remain tactical and added to the US-dollar duration position, while reducing Canadian-dollar duration. On the credit front, we retain a defensive stance amid tighter spreads due to the recent rally in the credit markets, while fundamentals are still robust, and yields are relatively attractive. Compared to end of last year, we have pared some credit risk and reduced overall spread duration. Over the last quarter, we reduced some exposure to emerging market debt and used the proceeds to pick up some attractive premiums in the primary market across investment grade and high yield bonds. We continue to focus on idiosyncratic opportunities in the short-term. In terms of sector bets, we are constructive on European banks and energy names given their stable fundamentals. Government bonds are also looking tactically more attractive given the current macroeconomic backdrop. On the flip side, we are more cautious towards highly leveraged corporates in the industrials and consumer sectors.

2023 Market review

2023 brought several significant developments to the global real estate sector. The narrative was dominated by the mainstream adoption of Artificial Intelligence, which drove a surge in demand for data centres. However, not all trends were positive. Geopolitical tensions and rising interest rates posed substantial challenges, particularly for companies based in Hong Kong and those involved in the office sub-sector.

The listed real estate market, considered the least popular sector in August according to Bank of America's Fund Management Survey, began to appear attractively priced in most countries. However, persistently high interest rates dictated the performance of REITs, particularly in the Americas where all sectors in the portfolio suffered during the third quarter.

In Europe, the performance was mixed. In the Euro zone, performances were mainly positive due to a slowing economy shaping the market's expectations on the path of future interest rates. In the Nordics, due to the high debt loads that pervade many listed real estate companies in those countries, companies suffered as fears over their ability to re-finance and service their debt emerged. In the UK, persistent inflation and high interest rates began to affect self-storage companies, which had previously shown strong performance over the past five years.

In Asia, the economic landscape was varied. The Chinese economy showed further signs of slowing down due to pressures on its property market, which impacted the Hong Kong listed stocks in our portfolio. However, Japanese real estate developers continued to outperform Japanese REITs, thanks to lower leverage and better access to financing.

Despite macroeconomic concerns, the operational performance of most listed real estate companies remained strong. High occupancy, resilient income streams, and strong balance sheets were the norm. Many management teams anticipate increasing opportunities to take advantage of distressed vendors for strategically important assets.

2023 performance review for the fund

2023 was another year dominated by the macroeconomic environment. Central bankers' decisions and expectations of their future decisions served as the catalyst for most market movements, rather than the fundamentals of the companies in which we invest.

The impact of this was evident in January. Investor belief that inflation was under control and that further rate hikes wouldn't be needed led to a rally of approximately 10% in the fund and the index for the month.

This rally was abruptly halted due to persistently high inflation and a number of bank failures, most notably Silicon Valley Bank and Credit Suisse. Real estate, particularly US private real estate, has been heavily reliant on bank financing for their deals, contrasting with their listed counterparts who rely more on the bond market and have the flexibility to issue equity. However, fears that companies would struggle to refinance their debt affected the entire real estate sector.

The Global Cities strategy has always focused on investing in high-quality, fast-growing companies that reinvest their cash flows rather than paying out unsustainable dividends.

The best performing parts of the portfolio were data centres and Japanese developers. The performance of data centres was driven by AI and the significant increases in computing power it requires. Japanese developers benefited from a benign interest rate environment and resilient demand for their prime real estate. The worst performing areas were offices, which, despite being a large underweight, sold off strongly due to structural challenges caused by the increase in remote working.

- Mitsui Fudosan Japan was a relative safe haven over the year, with interest rates being stable, combined with resilient real estate markets.

Bottom performers

Hang Lung - Hong Kong was the worst performing country and Hang Lung's exposure to high end shopping malls saw weak demand fuelling poor performance.

Healthpeak Properties - investors were concerned about the elevated levels of supply of life science space and the impact this would have on rental growth.

Sun Hung Kai - Hong Kong was the worst performing country fuelled by geopolitical tensions between China and the US. Western companies largely reduced space needs for this location (likely to be a structural change).

NEF Ethical Balanced Dynamic

2023 performance review for the fund

During the year, the fund performed a balanced strategy, in line with ESG investment principles and aiming at increasing the value of the portfolio in the medium-long term. The fund's strategy is implemented through active portfolio management, mainly based on asset allocation (allocating risks between equity, duration, rates' curves positioning, government and corporate exposure), stock and bond picking strategies and a forex overlay.

The fund delivered a positive absolute yearly return, driven by the rally of global equity markets and positive returns in credit and core rates. In relative terms, the fund underperformed the benchmark. The main detractors were the European and the US stock picking, and the underweight allocation to the overall equity exposure. On the other side, the main positive contributors were the overweight exposure to Italian government debt and to Euro credit.

On the asset allocation side, since the start of the year, the Fund adopted a defensive stance on stock markets, positioning overall underweight in equity versus the benchmark.

Within the European equity space, the main drivers of underperformance at sector level were the overweight in Consumer Staples and Healthcare, and the underweight in Energy and Financials. At stock picking level, the main detractors were Orsted (US project impairment due to rising inflation and cost of funding), Lonza (Ceo step down and guidance cut), Kerry (low volume growth due to destocking and fears of adverse effects of GLP1 drug against type 2 diabetes and obesity), KBC (deposit beta higher than expected) and SGS (no specific issue but multiple derating due to macroeconomic slow down).

The US stock picking performance has been negatively impacted by the lack of exposure to Amazon and Tesla, in the Consumer Discretionary sector, and by poor performance of long positions such as BorgWarner (Auto supplier), where the Unions strike is adding pressure to the auto industry, and VF Corp (Apparel), where the company is coping with a slowdown of their biggest iconic brand (Vans). In Information Technology, long positions in Adobe, Accenture and Microsoft didn't offset the lack of exposure to Apple and Nvidia. In Health Care, the destocking in tools had a severe impact on Water Corp. The lack of exposure to Eli Lilly (GLP1/Weight-loss drug) didn't help as well. On the positive side, Financials gave a positive contribution, thanks to the long in CME (Exchange), Progressive (Insurance) and Visa (Credit card processing), coupled with the lack of exposure to any Banks/Regional banks. In Energy, the portfolio benefited from the long exposure to Oil Services in names like Baker Hughes (strong LNG cycle) and to a less extent SLB. Moreover, the lack of exposure to Utilities/Reits had a positive impact.

In the fixed income space, the Fund maintained a constructive view on rates, progressively adding to duration during the year, mainly on Euro and US rates. In the US rate space, in particular, the Fund implemented a steepening strategy, progressively adding to US Treasury bonds mainly in the short-end and the belly of the curve, due to the inverted shape of the curve and to anticipate a more dovish attitude from the Fed. In the Euro government bond space, the Fund continued to favour peripheral bonds, with a preference for Italian government debt, offering an attractive pick-up to the German Bund and a steep curve.

In the credit space, the fund started the year with an overweight exposure to Euro corporate and financial bonds. During the first part of the year, the fund continued to enhance the credit exposure, adding to diversification and improving the ESG profile of the portfolio, mainly through purchases in the primary market, to benefit of the new issue premium. The fund took the opportunity to take part to several new issuances of Green, Social, Sustainability and Sustainability-linked bonds. In the second part of the year, the Fund started to get more cautious in credit, still taking part to new issuances, but being more selective and marginally trimming the overall credit exposure, as tightening global financial conditions are a headwind for the asset class.

The forex overlay gave an overall positive contribution. The Fund benefitted of the underweight position in the Japanese Yen, which more than offset the detraction from the underweight exposure to the British Pound and the US Dollar. During the month of May, the Fund gradually closed the exposure to the Japanese Yen, due to new contractual constraints that do not allow forex derivatives for investment purposes.

Manager's Report (unaudited)

2023 Market review

During 2023, the main market drivers were inflation, monetary policy and the stability of financial markets.

The absence of the expected energy bottlenecks and the lifting of all Covid restrictions in China led to an unexpectedly strong growth momentum strong in the first months of the year - but then weakened over the spring - bucking the predictions of many economists who expected a recession in the US and Europe.

In the second half of the year, robust economic data indicated that a recession could be avoided in the US. On the other hand, in the Eurozone, growth momentum remains weak.

The situation in China has also deteriorated further. The challenges facing the Chinese economy - including the downward trend on the real estate market, falling consumer confidence, the financial difficulties of local governments and the weak banking sector - have become more numerous and greater over the course of the year. Inflation has continued its downward path. In both the USA and Europe, the peaks were clearly exceeded not only for the overall rate, but also for the less volatile core rate excluding volatile food and energy prices. As a result, the most important central banks were convinced in the final weeks of the year that the cycle of interest rate hikes had come to an end after the last rate hikes in the third quarter. Between 2022 and 2023, the Federal Reserve (Fed) raised benchmark interest rates in the US by a total of 550 bp. The increase carried out by the European Central Bank (ECB) was 200 bp in 2023.

2023 performance review for the fund

The fund management started 2023 with an equity allocation of around 20%, which was increased to 22% per cent by February. The ratio was then lowered again. As the year progressed, the ratio was dynamically managed between 18% and 23%, with the equity ratio standing at around 22% at the end of the year. Adjustments were made across all sectors with regard to the selection of individual stocks. On the bond side, holdings in US dollar bonds were reduced in May. In addition, we acquired green, social and sustainability bonds for the direct portfolio via both the primary and secondary markets over the entire reporting period. In addition to corporate bonds, this also included bonds from government and government-related issuers. The fund continues to invest only very selectively in government bonds, but instead tries to capture risk premiums in corporate bonds, for example. Against this backdrop, low-interest covered bonds were sold towards the end of the year. The average duration was managed in the range between 2.5 and 4. At the beginning of the year, the remaining duration was significantly reduced using interest rate futures and then built up again slightly.

Outlook and positioning

For the new year, the fund is positioned moderately offensively on the equity side and in terms of bond investments, the focus remains on green bonds.

Geopolitical risks as well as the tense relationship between the US and China and the US elections, are potential challenges for the capital market in 2024. Even if progress was made on growth, inflation, monetary policy and financial market stability in 2023, not all uncertainties have been eliminated.

Our economists expect a slowdown in growth momentum over the winter months due to the expiry of pandemic programs, a normalization of the labour market and subdued investment activity, but the US economy is likely to make a "soft landing": in the second half of 2024, rising investment should boost growth again, driven by the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA). Inflation continues to fall, and this trend is likely to continue in 2024 as energy prices ease and the supply of goods normalizes after the pandemic. However, the easy progress in the fight against inflation is over and the further path back to the central banks' inflation targets will be more arduous, especially due to the tight labor markets in many economies: initially, the central banks will still allow the current interest rate level to affect the real economy. In view of the slowdown in inflation, both central banks are likely to start lowering interest rates from the middle of the year.

The combination of gradually improving growth prospects, declining inflation and the first cuts in key interest rates should mean that equities have the best prospects for the year. The potential for price increases should roughly correspond to earnings growth. This should amount to up to 10% at index level and receive positive contributions from almost all sectors. In this respect, a balanced positioning in terms of sectors and styles is recommended, with a clear focus on stock selection. The central banks' interest rate cuts are likely to lead to a fall in yields on safe government bonds, particularly for short-dated securities. In the longer maturity bands, however, the improved growth outlook and the high refinancing requirements over the next few years will partially counteract a decline. We expect yields on two-year US government bonds to fall to 3.75% in 2024, while they are likely to fall to just 4.25% for ten-year bonds. In the eurozone, we expect yields of 2.3% for two-year German government bonds at the end of 2024. In the case of corporate bonds with good credit ratings, the yield premiums remain attractive given the good fundamental situation of the companies. This also applies in principle to the high-yield segment, although the risks there are higher due to increased refinancing costs.

NEF Target 2025

Manager's Report (unaudited)

2023 Market review

In Western economies, the monetary tightening initiated in 2022 continued in 2023. On both sides of the Atlantic, key rates have returned to the levels reached in autumn 2008. The Fed raised the federal funds rate by 100bp between 5.25% and 5.50% (after +425bp in 2022) and the European Central Bank (ECB) raised its key rates by 200bp (after +250bp in 2022), taking the deposit rate to 4.0%, the interest rate on main refinancing operations to 4.5% and the marginal lending rate to 4.75%. At the same time, inflation has eased sharply, including core inflation (excluding food and energy), although price rises are still exceeding monetary policy targets. Consumer prices (CPI) slowed to 3.1% year-on-year in November in the US (vs 6.5% in December 2022) and to 2.4% in the Europeane (vs 9.2% in December 2022). Annual inflation in goods prices excluding food and energy fell to 4.0% in November in the US (vs 5.7% in December 2022) and to 3.6% in the Europeane (vs 5.2% in December 2022). Thanks to the faster-than-expected deceleration in inflation on both sides of the Atlantic, the Fed and ECB adopted a more accommodating tone in monetary policy committee meetings at the end of the December 2023, confirming the end of rate hikes as well as rate cuts for 2024 in the US (-75bp to 4.6%). However, Fed and ECB officials are fighting premature and excessive expectations of rate cuts next year.

In 2023, global economic activity showed a mixed picture, with gains from the normalisation of production conditions and losses from the effects of monetary tightening. In the United States, despite high interest rates and the dissipation of expansionary fiscal policy, business growth is solid thanks to domestic consumption supported by strong employment and wages. Unemployment rose only slightly, to 3.7% in November 2023 from a low of 3.4% in January 2023. The recession anticipated by many economists did not materialise, and the US financial sector withstood a banking crisis last March thanks to the Fed's specific tools (such as the Bank Term Funding Program - BTFP - which offers one-year loans to banks against assets "at par"). US growth was exceptional in Q3 2023 (+4.9% annualised after +2.1% and +2.2% in the first two quarters). It also remains resilient for Q4 2023 (+2.3% according to the Atlanta Fed's GDPNow forecasting model). In the eurozone, GDP contracted by -0.1% in Q3 2023 (after +0.1% in Q1 and Q2 2023), with contrasting trends between countries: in Spain, sales were resilient at +0.3% (after +0.4% and +0.6%) and in Italy sales remained virtually flat (+0.1% after -0.4% and +0.6%), while they declined in France (-0.1% after +0.6% and +0.1%) and Germany (-0.1% after +0.1% and +0.0%). In China, economic activity accelerated in Q3 2023 (+1.3% after +0.5% and +2.3%), driven by a recovery in household consumption. However, difficulties in the real estate sector, declining household confidence (particularly in the face of high youth unemployment and falling property prices) and local authority debt are holding back the country's growth, with GDP expected to reach +1.0% in Q4 2023, according to data provided by Bloomberg. For 2024, thanks to the strength of the labour market and the continuation of the disinflationary trend, investors are incorporating a soft-landing scenario for the US economy (+1.3% according to data provided by Bloomberg) and modest growth unchanged from 2023 in the eurozone (+0.5%). In China, investors anticipate a slowdown in activity next year (+4.5% after +5.2%) despite monetary and budgetary support from the Chinese authorities to prevent the situation from deteriorating.

On the financial markets in 2023, stock markets performed well thanks to reassuring inflation figures and the resilience of the US economy. The MSCI World and MSCI Emerging Markets indices gained +21.8% and +7.0% respectively. The S&P 500 and Nasdaq surged by 24.2% and 43.4% respectively on the back of the outperformance of the Magnificent Seven (+107%), a group of seven US technology stocks (Microsoft, Nvidia, Tesla, Meta, Apple, Alphabet and Amazon). The Eurostoxx 50 and FTSE 100 recorded gains of +19.2% and +3.8% respectively. This trend towards risk appetite thus penalised the dollar. The DXY index fell by 2.1% over 2023. As for sovereign rates, the US 10-year rate closed below the 4% mark on 29 December 2023 (at 3.88%) almost exactly where it landed at end of 2022. It fluctuated by 175bp over 2023 (after 275bp the previous year). In Germany, the 10-year Bund rate ended 2023 slightly above 2%, i.e. 55bp below its level at the end of 2022. It has fluctuated by around 110bp this year. On the commodities market, the Bloomberg Commodity Index (BCOM) fell by almost 8% over 2023. Energy prices fell by -22%, with a notable drop in natural gas prices (-65% according to the sub-index measured by Bloomberg) thanks to increased production in the United States and its high level of exports, as well as milder weather conditions. Despite OPEC+ production cuts, crude oil prices fell (-10% for a barrel of Brent to USD 77 on 29 December) due to the abundant supply of oil from non-OPEC+ countries (including the United States) outstripping the rise in global demand. Agricultural prices fell by -4% and industrial metal prices rose by +10% against a backdrop of high uncertainty for the global economy.

2023 performance review for the fund and positioning

2023 has been a year of risky assets, despite the permanent write-down of Credit Suisse's AT1 CoCos and the failure of several US regional banks, the much-feared recession scenario did not materialize. Over the year, the Global Investment Grade Index (G0BC) and the Global High Yield Index (HW00) spreads tightened by -33bp to 115bp and -130bp to 385bp respectively. Rates have been on a roller coaster ride and despite all the fluctuations and change in central bank sentiment, US 10Y sovereign rate closed the year flat at 3.9% while German 10Y sovereign declined by -55bp to 2.0% over the year. This resulted into stellar performances in the credit markets with a significant outperformance of the High Yield market (+12.5% on the HW00 Index in LC) compared to the Investment Grade market (+8.2% on the G0BC Index in LC). In that context, the fund annual performance was positive.

The worst performers over the year were Intrum AB 4.875 % 2025 (Ba3/BB), Casino 5.875% 2024 (B-/B3) and Victoria Plc 3.625% 2026 (BB). The best performers were Jaguar 4.5% 2026 (Ba3/BB), Dufry 3.625% 2026 (Ba3/BB), and Schaeffler 3.75% 2026 (BB-/Ba2), Bellis 3.25% 2026 (B2).

Over the quarter, several positions were totally cut for different reasons:

- Mpt Oper Partnersp/Finl 3.33% 2025 (Ba1/BBB-) following the publication of a short seller report from Viceroy Research;
- The French food retailer Casino by selling our position on the group's secured debt Quatrim 5.875% 2024 (B-/B3), following poor FY'22 results publication;
- Teleperformance 1.875% 2025 (BBB) following disappointing 2Q'23 results, growing rumors about an upcoming short-seller report while the company's refinancing needs remain important in the short term;
- Victoria Plc 3.625% 2026 (BB) after its auditors offered a qualified opinion on the group's annual accounts, based on an inability to reduce the risk of fraud or error to acceptable levels and the lack of appropriate audit evidence for all of Hanover's balance sheet;
- Intrum AB 4.875% 2025 (Ba3/BB) as refinancing risk was growing on the back of a heavy debt maturity wall, poor operating performance and rising interest rates;
- Marks & Spencer Plc 4.75% 2025 (Ba1/BB+), Owens Brockway 3.125% 2024 (Ba3/BB-), Axalta 3.75% 2025 (Ba1/BB-) and Avis 4.5% 2025 (BB-) as part of a tender or early call repayment initiated by issuers.

We deployed the cash available by

Initiating new positions on Banijay Entertainment 3.5% 2025 (B1/B+), ZF Europe 2.0% 2026 (Ba1/BB+), Autostrade 1.88% 2025 (Baa3/BBB-) , Stora Enso 4.0% 2026 (Baa3), Constellium 4.25% 2026 (B1/B+) and Perrigo 4.375% 2026 (Ba3/BB-);

Manager's Report (unaudited)

- Participating into new issues like Ford Motors Credit 6.95% 2026 (Ba2, BB+), Warner Bros Discovery 6.412% 2026 (Baa3/BBB-), or Cassa Depositi e Prestiti 5.75% 2026 (Baa3/BBB);
- Building a position on the US sovereign bond Etat USA 2% 2025 (Aaa) given the increasingly attractive yield offered by the front end of the government curves over the year compared to certain Investment Grade or High Yield credits.

Finally, we carried out curve arbitrages for certain issuers to optimize the yield of the portfolio:

- We sold our ARWLN 4.5% 2026 (B+/B1) bond while acquiring the ARWLN 6% 2026 (B+/B1) bond for a YTW improvement of more than 150bp;
- We sold our IHOVER 3.625% 2025 (BB-/Ba2) bond while acquiring IHOVER 3.75% 2026 (BB-/Ba2) bond for a pickup in yield close to 300bp;
- We sold our EOFP 3.125% 2026 (BB/Ba2) bond while acquiring EOFP 7.25% 2026 (BB/Ba2) bond for a pickup in yield of c.80 bp;
- We sold Spie Sa 3.125% 2024 (BB+) to buy Spie Sa 2.625% 2026 (BB+) to benefit from a pickup in yield of c.50bp.

The fund average issuer rating improved from BB+ to BBB- and the number of holdings came out at 151.

Outlook

Soft landing, no landing, or hard landing: 2023 did not provide an answer to this question. We suspect 2024 will and a recession scenario cannot be totally ruled out. On the other part, central banks are now embarking on a rate cutting cycle but the uncertainties regarding the timing, the pace and the magnitude remain important. Thus, we continue to favor high quality names which are much more immune from the tightening of credit conditions and lower economic prospects. Also, we keep a strong diversification in the portfolio to better manage the impact of any idiosyncratic situation that could arise.

2023 performance review for the fund

During 2023, the fund recorded a positive performance, outperforming the benchmark, MSCI ACWI Value Net in euro. Over the year, the volatility (daily standard deviation) recorded by the fund was 12.16%, higher than that of the benchmark (9.89%). The fund's turnover during the year was low, at 16.7% for that calculated using the UCITS methodology and 27.1% for that calculated using the SEC methodology.

The fund is characterised by investing in companies 1) that adopt good practices in terms of ESG; 2) whose business is instrumental to the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals; 3) that present an attractive valuation based on their net worth and/or their medium to long term earnings opportunities. As a result, the fund's portfolio has an average ESG score (Thomson Reuters provider) of 74 at the end of the year 2023 (73 is the score of the ESG MSCI Leaders index). The fund invests only in companies that are highly instrumental to the SDGs and has an average 2023 price/earnings ratio of 8.7x compared to 12.6x for the MSCI ACWI Value (the benchmark) and 16.6x for the popular MSCI ACWI index.

Geographically, the main contributors were US (+2.92%), UK (+2.69%), Eurozone (2.68%), Japan (+1.8%), South Korea (1.72%). There were no geographical areas that contributed negatively to performance during 2023.

From a sector perspective, Financials were the best contributor to the portfolio (+4.26%) despite the US regional bank crisis and the demise of Credit Suisse. Other sectors that made positive contributions included Utilities (+2.78%), Information Technology (+2.10%), Consumer Discretionary (2.08%) and Communication Services (+1.54%). The only sector that contributed negatively to the portfolio during 2023 was Healthcare (-0.77%).

Turning to individual stocks, the main positive contributors were UBS, which was offered Credit Suisse at very favourable valuations (+1.70%), Enel Chile, which continued its recovery following improved hydro-geological conditions in Chile (+1.42%), and Intel, which benefited from the US need to invest in domestic semiconductor production capacity to diversify its dependence on foreign countries. The main negative contributors were Credit Suisse, as we said, offered to UBS at laughable valuations (-1.42%), Siemens Energy, a leader in the energy transition that suffered from problems related to the restructuring of its Gamesa subsidiary (-0.71%), and Bayer, under pressure from legal issues related to the acquisition of US-based Monsanto (-0.47%).

The fund maintained an overweight on Europe and Asia during the year, while underweighting the US. This is due to the relative valuation of the markets and the significant weight of the US in the benchmark, which does not reflect the weight of the region in terms of GDP. Consequently, exposure to the dollar was also much lower than the benchmark. The fund's objective is always to provide investors with a balanced and diversified exposure to global equity investments, including currencies.

The year was made very volatile by the US regional bank crisis in the spring, tensions triggered by the effects that high interest rates have and will have on a structurally leveraged financial system, and a fierce Israeli invasion of Gaza, following the dramatic and cruel attack conducted against the Israeli population by Palestinian radical groups based there.

Outlook and positioning

The year 2023 saw big rises in US megatech, after the weakness suffered in 2022. Outside this area, the market is depressed, and investors remain generally negative. We believe there is a chance this year that falling rates and infrastructure investments related to the energy transition and deglobalisation will bring back healthy, broad-based growth in the West that will benefit the more traditional sectors, those that are value, i.e. depressed on many valuation metrics. This is also the area on which the fund is focused. The portfolio remains extremely diversified with over 250 stocks. As of 2022, the fund no longer invests in securities residing in autocratic countries, such as China, Turkey or Vietnam, or which are not fully transparent with regard to money laundering, such as South Africa or the Philippines. The securities the fund still holds in these areas are in runoff and amount to less than 1% of the fund's assets.

NEF Target 2028

Manager's Report (unaudited)

2023 Market review

After a very challenging year for fixed income markets in 2022, 2023 offered fixed income investors a more supportive market environment, with government bond yields generally declining, and credit spreads tightening. This was especially true in the last quarter of the year, as benign inflation prints increased investors' confidence in a soft landing and brought forward the expected timing of future rate cuts by central banks.

Investment Grade Credit

The Bloomberg Global Aggregate Credit Index delivered a total return of 8.68% (USD hedged), driven by decreasing interest rates, as well as credit spread tightening. Investment grade credit spreads moved tighter over the year despite turmoil in the banking sector in the first quarter, largely thanks to a more resilient-than-expected macroeconomic environment. Issuers in the entertainment and leisure sectors outperformed, as post-pandemic pent-up demand for entertainment continued to provide a tailwind. Issuers in the energy sector also recorded a strong performance, on the back of improved fundamentals. From a rating perspective, lower quality BBBs outperformed, whilst the higher quality AA and AAA-rated securities underperformed. Regionally, European credit continued to underperform US credit from a spread perspective, mainly due to the closer proximity to the conflict in Ukraine, and to Europe's greater exposure to China's growth slowdown. Within euro investment grade, subordinated bonds, BBBs and the long end delivered the strongest excess returns. Across sectors, real estate and financials outperformed, while healthcare and technology lagged.

High Yield Credit

The ICE BofA Merrill Lynch High Yield BB-B Rated Developed Markets Constrained Index delivered a total return of 13.24% (USD Hedged) – the highest calendar year total return for the asset class since 2019 - with spreads tightening by 124bp. Performance was particularly strong in November, as macro data reignited investor hopes for a soft landing and a dovish pivot from central banks, supporting risk sentiment over the course of the month. The leisure sector outperformed on an excess return basis during the year, amid improved earnings results. The retail and financial services sectors also outperformed during the year, while the real estate, transportation and telecommunications sectors underperformed the broader market. Technicals were a key factor in supporting high yield credit performance in 2023.

Emerging Markets Credit

Emerging markets external sovereign debt (represented by the JPM EMBIG Index) delivered a total return of 10.45% in 2023, as emerging market external spreads tightened by 55bp over the year. Broadly speaking, inflation continued to fall across major emerging market economies in 2023 and select emerging market central banks - including Chile and Brazil - began to loosen monetary policy during the third quarter. Meanwhile, growth data from China softened after an initial rebound, driven by the lifting of the zero-Covid policy. Within the emerging market investment grade sector, Eastern European sovereigns (particularly Hungary and Romania) outperformed. Meanwhile, oil exporting GCC names (such as Quatar and Saudi Arabia) underperformed.

2023 performance review for the fund

NEF Target 2028 performed positively in 2023.

In light of the above, both interest rate exposure and credit spread exposure positively affected the performance.

More in details, spread tightening in the Investment Grade, High Yield, and External Emerging Market Debt segments explained the most of the total positive performance. The largest positive contribution came from Investment Grade credit exposure and in particularly to Financials and to securities selection in the REITs sectors. Considering the High Yield exposure, the main driver was the exposure to Industrial sectors, in particular to selected names in the automotive sector. Regarding the Emerging Markets Debt, the exposure to the asset class provided a positive contribution to 2023 performance. More specifically, the principal contributors were the exposure to Asian issuers (China and Macao) and European ones (Czech Republic and Romania).

The exposure to interest rates, which moved downward globally, has also beneficially affected the performance over the year. The substantial portion of the positive contribution is principally due to the exposure to European interest rates with a marginal but still positive contribution from exposure to rates in Australia and in the United Kingdom. The only factor negatively affecting performance, albeit to a minor extent, is the exposure to the duration in the United States.

Outlook and positioning

Over 2023, the portfolio management team continued to reinvest the proceeds of short-term bonds and new inflows into longer-dated bonds in line with the target maturity of the portfolio. More specifically, the portfolio management team has continued to steer its attention to EUR denominated Investment Grade Credit, pivoting the portfolio towards higher quality corporate credit and allocating part of the flows into Italian BTPs.

In terms of asset allocation across the different fixed-income sectors, the portfolio is allocated as follows: ~71% Investment Grade Credit, ~7% Emerging Markets Debt, ~8% High Yield Credit, ~12% Government & Government related securities (~9 in Italian BTPs) and ~2% cash equivalents securities.

Comparing the fund's positioning between 2022 and 2023 we report an increase in exposure to Investment grade credit from ~63% to ~71%, a reduction in exposure to emerging market credit from ~14% to 7%, and a ~8% decrease in overall exposure to the high-yield sector. From a geographical point of view, we increased the overall exposure to Europe to ~64% of the portfolio primarily focused on Italy, France and Germany. From a sector point of view, we increased the overall exposure to Europe to ~64% of the portfolio primarily focused on Italy, France and Germany. From a sector point of view, we continue to hold a preference for defensive, less cyclical sectors, such as utilities, telecommunications, food and healthcare. We also find opportunities in REITS and technology sectors. Within the High Yield Credit space, we tend to prefer Automotive, Financial, Telecommunications sectors and media companies that benefit from hard assets and subscriber-based cash flows. We keep a prudent stance when allocating to emerging markets debt, staying selective and sizing our positions conservatively given better valuations are balanced by potential vulnerabilities linked to geopolitical risks as well as the evolution of the economic cycle in the US.

2023 Market review

The key factors of inflation, monetary policy, financial market stability and the economy shaped the market environment over the course of 2023. After many economists had expected a recession in the US and Europe over the winter months, growth momentum initially proved unexpectedly strong - partly due to the absence of expected energy bottlenecks and the lifting of all Covid restrictions in China - but then weakened over the spring. In the second half of the year, robust economic data indicated that a recession could be avoided in the US. However, the other regions of the world lagged behind in macroeconomic terms. In the Eurozone, growth momentum remains weak and the winter months are likely to be challenging - especially in Germany, partly due to the ruling of the Federal Constitutional Court on the federal government's budget planning. The situation in China has also deteriorated further. The challenges facing the Chinese economy - including the downward trend on the real estate market, falling consumer confidence, the financial difficulties of local governments and the weak banking sector - have become more numerous and greater over the course of the year. Inflation has continued its downward path. In both the USA and Europe, the peaks were clearly exceeded not only for the overall rate, but also for the less volatile core rate excluding volatile food and energy prices. As a result, the most important central banks were convinced in the final weeks of the year that the cycle of interest rate hikes had come to an end after the last rate hikes in the third quarter. The Federal Reserve (Fed) raised key interest rates in the US by a further 125 basis points in 2023 following increases totaling 425 bp in 2022. The European Central Bank (ECB) followed up the increases of 250 bp in 2022 with a further 200 bp in 2023.

2023 performance review for the fund

The fund was launched in October 2023. The strategy for initial investment was to build a broadly diversified portfolio in liquid bond segments with low volatility and strong credit metrics to achieve an appropriate current yield. The focus in these investments was on low-risk securities. The fund management allocated more than 50% of fund volume to government bonds, government-related, or supranational issuers. Additionally, around 20% were invested in covered bonds with very high credit ratings. We also included higher-yielding spread products such as corporate bonds (approximately 15%) and financials (about 10%) to generate higher returns. In these investments, we emphasized good credit ratings in the A range. Only a few investments were made in the lower credit range of BBB. We also pay attention to a wide diversification of singlety over six years recently. In November and December, the majority of the remaining liquidity of the fund was invested. Individual purchases were made in high quality bank bonds with a medium duration. The strategy of broad diversification within the portfolio in terms of bond segment and maturity, as well as the focus on higher credit ratings, has proven successful. The portfolio benefited overall from the declining interest and spread levels during the last two months of the year. The positions in higher yielding products were able to generate additional returns from the decrease in yield spreads. For diversification reasons, the fund will remain broadly diversified.

Outlook and positioning

The current investment policy is intended to be maintained. Geopolitical risks such as the conflict between Israel and Hamas, as well as tensions between the US and China and the US elections, are potential challenges for the 2024 capital market year. Progress was made on the four key factors for the capital markets (growth, inflation, monetary policy and financial market stability) in 2023, even if not all uncertainties have been eliminated. Although our economists expect a slowdown in growth momentum over the winter months due to the expiry of pandemic programs, a normalization of the labour market and subdued investment activity, the US economy is likely to land softly. In the second half of 2024, rising investment should boost growth again, driven by the Inflation Reduction Act (IRA), among other things.

Inflation continues to fall, and this trend will probably last in 2024 as energy prices ease and the supply of goods normalizes after the pandemic. In view of the slowdown in inflation, central banks are likely to start lowering interest rates in the second half of the year. However, the path back to inflation targets will be more difficult, especially due to the tight labor markets in many economies. The central banks' interest rate cuts are likely to lead to a fall in yields on safe government bonds, particularly for short-dated securities. In the longer maturity bands, however, the improved growth outlook and the high refinancing requirements over the next few years will partially counteract a decline.

The combination of gradually improving growth prospects, declining inflation and the first cuts in key interest rates should mean that equities have the best prospects for the coming year. The potential for price increases should roughly correspond to earnings growth. This should amount to up to 10% at index level and receive positive contributions from almost all sectors. In this respect, a balanced positioning in terms of sectors and styles is recommended, with a clear focus on stock selection.

Sustainable

investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

NEF Ethical Total Return Bond (the "Sub-Fund") met the environmental and/or social characteristics it promoted as defined in the SFDR precontractual disclosure for the period under review. The Sub-Fund promoted environmental, social and governance ("ESG") characteristics while it seeked to invest mainly in global bonds with a high ESG profile that represented the investment universe. It notably used an ESG rating as further explained in the other sections of the document.Regarding ESG characteristics, a wide range of environmental and social characteristics have been considered on an ongoing basis. Environmental characteristics included, but were not limited to, climate change mitigation and adaptation (carbon intensity, carbon emissions and energy efficiency), water and waste management and biodiversity, while social characteristics include, but were not limited to, product safety, supply chain, health & safety, human rights, digital ethics & cyber security and diversity, equity & inclusion. Environmental and social characteristics were analysed by Fidelity's fundamental analysts and rated through the Fidelity Sustainability Rating.

The Sub-Fund refrained to invest in companies which main business activity was involved in controversial sectors such as adult Entertainment, alcohol, armaments, cluster bombs, cluster munitions, evidence of metallurgical coal reserves, evidence of thermal coal reserves, gambling, landmines, nuclear weapons, nuclear energy and depleted uranium and tobacco and also refrained to invest in government bonds with higher corruption and ML/TF risk.

The Sub-Fund has not designated a reference benchmark that it replicated for the purpose of attaining the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The attainment of the promoted environmental and social characteristics was assessed via the application of a proprietary ESG assessment methodology. The methodology applied a variety of ESG Criteria (the "ESG Filter") to assess the attainment of the promoted environmental and social characteristics based on high ESG rating (i.e. issuers having a rating greater than or equal to C as defined per Fidelity in-house research* or equivalent third-party ESG rating providers or 41.67 according to Refinitiv).

The average ESG score of the fund according to Refinitiv (or equivalent third-party ESG rating provider), has been above 66.67 (B+) throughout the year 2023. The average ESG score according to Refinitiv (or equivalent third-party ESG rating provider) was on average 69.68.

The below graph shows the split of issuers by Refinitiv's ESG rating on average over the year 2023. The green bar represents the percentage of issuers which were either Green Bonds, Social Bonds, Sustainable Bonds or other bonds linked to Sustainable / ESG / SDGs projects.

Sustainability

indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

The ESG rating score is a conversion of the ESG score range into rating letters according to the below mapping table.

The non ESG rated securities "NR" displayed in the above diagram, represents 0.69% of the total asset under management (AUM) at year end, it is made of 4 investments, one Social Bond and 3 Green Bonds, for which an ESG rating is not mandatory. Overall 2023 the NR issuers have been always below 5% of the AUM of the fund.

Overall 2023 the fund did not hold issuers rated below C+ according to Refinitiv (or equivalent third-party ESG rating provider).

In addition to the rating, the following was taken into account:

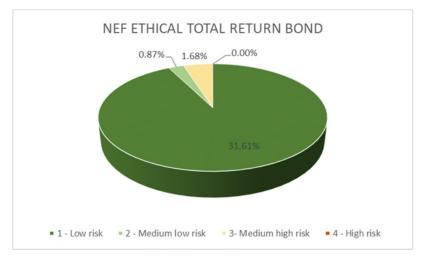

a. Sovereign issuers: government bonds were allowed if they were issued by countries with a low corruption and ML/TF risk rating. Government bonds issued by countries with high corruption and ML/TF risk were identified by either of the following:

- World Check Country Rating
- FATF High Risk and monitored jurisdictions
- EU, UN and OFAC Sanctions
- Corruption Perception Index (CPI)
- Know Your Country data (KYC)

Government bonds issued by country having a significant level of corruption or other predicate offences to ML/TF were forbidden. No investment in such countries have been made throughout the year 2023.

Below the government bond investments on average over the year 2023 splitted by level of corruption or other predicate offences to ML/TF, that represented 34.17% in total.

No open-ended UCIs/UCITS were invested in 2023.

Green Bonds, Social Bonds, Sustainable Bonds, and all bonds linked to Sustainable / ESG / SDGs projects were accepted irrespective of the issuer. Bonds issued by Supranational issuers were accepted irrespective of the issuer.

The percentage invested in Green Bonds, Social Bonds, Sustainable Bonds, and all bonds linked to Sustainable / ESG / SDGs projects was 13.40% at year end and 9.96% on average over the period.

The percentage at year end invested in Supernational issuer was 6.43% at year end and 7.81% on average over the period.

The sustainainability indicators were not subject to an assurance provided by an auditor or a review by a third party

* Fidelity in-house research: Fidelity developed a proprietary "Sustainability Rating" that leverages their internal research capabilities and their engagement with companies. Through the sustainability ratings framework, Fidelity assesses the exposure of financial securities to sustainability risks and principal adverse impacts.

…and compared to previous periods?

Compared to the previous reporting for year 2022, we can note a slight shift downward of the average ESG rating from 70.85 on average to 69.68. This is explain by more issuers around the B+ and C+ rating bucket and a bit less in the A rating bucket.

The proportion invested in Green Bonds, Social Bonds, Sustainable Bonds, and all bonds linked to Sustainable / ESG / SDGs projects increased from 9.20% on average in 2022 to 9.96% on average in 2023. Suchs bonds, being dedicated to finance only sustainable impactful projects, reinforced the Envrionmental and Social characteristics of the Sub-Fund.

The percentage of Sustainable investment is higher than previous reporting period. 32.77% on average in 2023 while 14.21% on average in 2022. The large increase in Sustainable Investments is partially explained by improved data quality and coverage from data providers.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

While it did not have as its objective a sustainable investment, it had a proportion of sustainable investments. The Investment Manager confirmed that the minimum proportion of 5% of sustainable investments was respected over the year 2023.

Such sustainable investments were investments which contributed to an environmental or a social objective, did no significant harm, met minimum safeguards and had good governance. The Investment Manager considered that, companies which main business activities contributed to one or more of the environmental objectives set out in the "EU Taxonomy" regulation (EU) 2020/852 of the European Parliament and of the council of 18 June 2020 on the establishment of a framework to facilitate sustainable investment, to the UN Sustainable Development Goals ("SDGs") or commit to ambitions of the Paris Agreement as verified by the Science Based Target Initiative are considered to have contributed to an environmental or social objective and could classify as a sustainable investment, provided that the aforementioned criteria were met.

According to the Management Company the percentage of sustainable investment was 32.77% on average over 2023. Such sustainable investments were investments which contributed to an environmental or a social objective, did no significant harm, met minimum safeguards and had good governance.

The Management Company considers that, in order to be classified as sustainable investment, an investment should contribute positively to any of the SDG principles which is meant to contribute to a social objective or be a Green Bonds, Social Bonds, Sustainable Bonds, or bonds linked to Sustainable / ESG / SDGs projects which is meant to contribute to a social or environmental objective depending on the nature of the bond.

The SDGs are focused on the positive development of our society, which is a very broad and social goal. The environmental factors included in the SDGs are instrumental to the positive development of human society, which remains the primary goal of the SDGs. Hence, the environmental factors are one of the many parts that must be put together for our world to move towards a positive direction, to this extend it is considered that SDGs are contributing to social objectives only.

The Management Company is assessing independently the contribution made by the Sub-Fund to the various SDG goals. To do so usually the ISS SDG impact rating is used for each investment. However other equivalent SDG impact analysis could be used. The ISS SDG rating is based on 3 pillars :

o Product and services identify contribution or obstruction to SDGs, based on revenues. The score is ranging from -10 to +10 based on the percentage of revenues contributing or obstructing with the goal, +10 imply a 100% contribution.

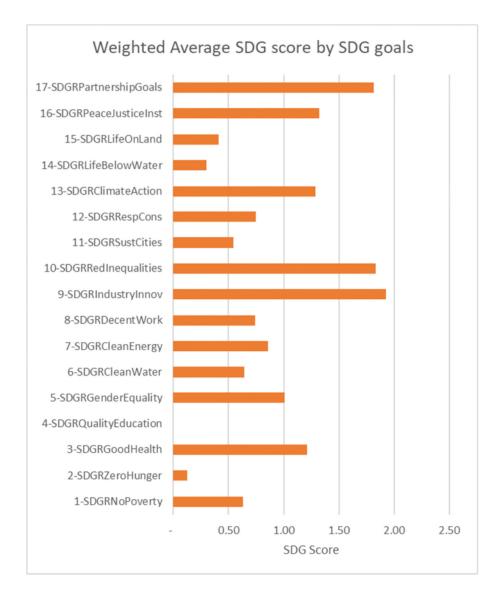

o Operations management: evaluate impact along the value chain, based on corporate ESG practices and impact. The score is ranging from -10 to +10.

o Controversies: identify alleged or verified failure to respect norms that obstruct SDG. The score ranges from 0 (no controversies) to -8 (large negative controversies).

At the goal level, the three pillars scores are combined in a two-step approach to measure a company's holistic impact on a specific SDG.

The 3 scores are compiled for each goal, both operation management and controversies are added together and compared to the product and services score. Then the following logic is applied: Highest positive score if only positive scores, Lowest negative score if only negative scores, sum of the positive and the negative score in case of mixed scores.

ISS SDG impact rating ranges from -10 to +10. To contribute positively the ISS SDG impact rating should be at least 2.In the below table it is represented the Sub-Fund SDG impact rating on average during the year to each of the SDG (calculated as weighted average of the SDG impact ratings of any investment in the Sub-Fund).

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anticorruption and antibribery matters.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Sustainable investments were screened by the Investment Manager for involvement in activities that caused significant harm and controversies, assessed through a check that the issuer met minimum safeguards and standards that relate to principal adverse indicators (PAIs) as well as performance on PAI metrics. This included:

Norms-based screens - the screening out of securities identified under Fidelity's existing norms-based screens (as set out below);

Sustainability indicators measured how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

Activity-based screens - the screening out of issuers based on their participation in activities with significant negative impacts on society or the environment, including issuers that were considered to have a 'Very Severe' controversy using controversy screens, covering 1) environmental issues, 2) human rights and communities, 3) labour rights and supply chain, 4) customers, 5) governance; and

PAI indicators: quantitative data (where available) on PAI indicators was used to evaluate whether an issuer is involved in activities that cause significant harm to any environmental or social objective.

To confirm that the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made did not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective a DNSH test (do not significant harm test) was run independently by the Management Company on the portfolio. Any investment failing such test was not considered as sustainable.

As a general matter, the "do no significant harm" principle, as referred to in article 6 of the regulation (EU) 2020/852 of the European Parliament and of the council of 18 June 2020 on the establishment of a framework to facilitate sustainable did not apply to this Sub-Fund since the investments underlying this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

For sustainable investments, as set out above, the Investment Manager undertook a quantitative and qualitative evaluation to identify issuers with challenging performance on PAI indicators. Issuers with a low score was ineligible to be 'sustainable investments' unless the Investment Manager's fundamental research determined that the company was not breaching "do no significant harm" requirements or was on the path to mitigate the adverse impacts through effective management or transition.

PAI indicators are also integrated in several part of the Management Company oversight process including the annual DNSH test. The DNSH test performed by the Management Company considered the evolution of the PAI indicators over the year, over the last 2 years or the PAI position compared to the sector peers PAI indicators. Issuers failing the DNSH test performed by the Management Company were finally not classified as 'sustainable investments'.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Norms-based screens were applied by the Investment Managers: Issuers identified as failing to behave in a way which met their fundamental responsibilities in the areas of human rights, labour, environmental and anti-corruption as aligned with international norms including those set out by the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, UN Global Compact (UNGC), ILO Standards International Labour Organisation (ILO) Conventions, were not considered sustainable investments.

The Management Company confirms that all the sustainable investments were aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. The porportion of investment not aligned with such principles was 0.45% on average over the year and were not considered as sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomyaligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

The Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors. They were incorporated by the Investment manager into investment decisions by way of a variety of tools, including:

(i) Due Diligence - analysis of whether principle adverse impacts were material and negative.

(ii) Investment Manager's Proprietary Sustainability Ratings - these ratings incorporated an assessment of material principal adverse impacts such as carbon emissions, employee safety and bribery and corruption, and water management.

(iii) Stewardship Engagement - Investment Manager used engagement tools to better understand principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors and, in some circumstances, advocate for enhancing principal adverse impacts and sustainability metrics.

The specific PAI indicators that were taken into consideration (greenhouse gas emissions, biodiversity, water, waste and social and employee matters) were subject to data availability and may evolve with improving data quality and availability. In certain circumstances, such as indirect investments made by the Sub-Fund, PAI may not have been considered.

PAI indicators are also integrated in several part of the Management Company oversight process. The Management Company challenged the Investemnt Managers on worst performers invested issuers in terms of PAIs over the reporting period.

On average, during the reporting period, 48.89% of the total investment in the Sub-Fund, had a positive evolution of PAI indicators over the year or over the last 2 years or was better positioned than their sectors peers PAI indicator. This check was runonly for corporate issuers (not for government issuers), which represent 63.09% of the total investment in the Sub-Fund. Therefore 77.49% of the corporate issuers had a positive PAI assessment over the year.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Sustainable investments have been also targeted as part of the Fund's sustainable investment strategy.

The sustainable investments targeted by the Sub-Fund could also be those that, as investments in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of Article

3 of the Regulation (EU) 2020/852 (the "Taxonomy Regulation"), could contribute to the achievement of the environmental objectives set out in Article 9 of the Taxonomy Regulation.

It has not been possible for the Investment Manager neither for the Management Company to collect meaningful, up-to-date and verifiable data that would have made it possible to determine whether the investments have been investments in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the Taxonomy Regulation.

Therefore, a description of how and to what extent the investments included in the Sub-Fund have been those in economic activities that have been environmentally sustainable within the meaning of Article 3 of the Taxonomy Regulation could not be made at this time.

Consequently, a minimum proportion of taxonomy-compliant investments could not be shown at present.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities

Reliable data regarding fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities were not available during the rerence period.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objective - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities

directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are

activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of: - turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies. - capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy. -operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

An indication of how and to what extent the investments included in the financial product have been those in economic activities that have been included in the shares of the enabling activities and transitional activities referred to in Article 16 and Article 10(2) of the Taxonomy Regulation, respectively, could not be presented for the reporting period as sufficient data have not been available.

Therefore and because the product have not targeted EU taxonomy compliant sustainable investments that have contributed to the environmental objectives set out in Art. 9 of Taxonomy Regulation, the share of investments in transitional and enabling activities, 0 percent is reported as of the reporting date.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

Reliable data regarding EU Taxonomy were not available during the previous reference period.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned to taxonomy was at least 2.19% on average over 2023

This is due to the fact that some issuers are considered sustainable investments under the SFDR Regulation but do have a portion of activities that are not aligned with EU taxonomy standards, or for which data is not yet available to perform an EU taxonomy assessment.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The Sub Fund invested at least 30.58% in sustainable investments with a social objective on average over 2023.

What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

This Sub-Fund has promoted a predominant asset allocation in investments that are aligned with environmental and social characteristics (#1 Aligned with E/S characteristics) and that have been partially sustainable. In addition, and on an ancillary basis, this Sub-Fund has invested into investments that are not considered aligned with the promoted characteristics (2.74% in #2 Other at year end). These remaining investments were composed of cash and derivatives. The Sub-fund made use of cash for liquidity purposes and derivatives for hedging, efficient portfolio management and investment.

This Sub-Fund have not considered any minimum environmental or social safeguards on cash and derivatives.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The Investment Manager proprietary ESG ratings framework as well as their access to external ESG data providers and ratings agencies have allowed them to assess the ESG characteristics of fund holdings over the period, and maintain a consideration of Principle Adverse Impacts. Included in the investment manager assessment is to what extent the issuers of these securities deliver on expectations for best practices. Where appropriate The Investment manager have utilised his spheres of influence on companies via their active engagement and stewardship activities.

The Investment Manager performed stewardship and engagement activities both in preinvestment phase and ongoing.

Their involvement with third-party included the participation to collective engagement initiatives and opportunities among others engagement forum (e.g. Climate Action 100+). The majority of direct engagement interactions referred to the topics of CLIMATE CHANGE, BIODIVERSITY, GOVERNANCE, BUSINESS ETHICS and labour rights and EXECUTIVE REMUNERATION. Over the 2023. The Investment manager enagaged with 46 companies.

On a regular basis during the year 2023, the Fidelity proprietary ESG Rating was challenged by the Management Company, for some of the invested issuers. This happened whenever it was not possible for the Management Company to verify such a rating independently through equivalent third-party ESG rating provider.

Legal entity identifier: 222100E2RI278S3YF708

Environmental and/or social characteristics

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

During the financial year, the NEF Ethical Balanced Dynamic (the "Sub-Fund") continuously promoted environmental and/or social characteristics by investing mainly in stocks and bonds issued by companies with high quality Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) profiles by also using MSCI World ESG Index as investible universe. It notably uses an ESG rating as further explained in the other sections of this annex.

The ESG characteristics taken into account consider:

- The company ability to control their direct and indirect environmental impact, by limiting their energy consumption, reducing their greenhouse emissions, fighting resource depletion, and protecting biodiversity.
- The social aspect linked to an issuer's human capital, those linked to human rights in general and the responsibilities towards the stakeholders.

Sustainable

investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

• The effective corporate governance framework that guarantees it will meet its long-term objectives.

The Sub-Fund has not invested in sovereign issues in countries or federal state where the death penalty applies and had also refrained to invest in companies involved in controversial sectors such as alcohol, armaments, cluster bombs, gambling, nuclear weapons, nuclear energy or depleted uranium, pornographic material and tobacco.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The attainment of the promoted environmental and social characteristics was assessed via the application of a proprietary ESG assessment methodology. The methodology applied a variety of ESG Criteria (the "ESG Filter") to assess the attainment of the promoted environmental and social characteristics, which were as follows:

a. Stocks and Corporate bond issuers: to have been investable by the Sub-Fund, a company included in the MSCI World Index has to be included in the MSCI ESG World Index.

During the year 2023 the Sub-Fund has invested only in companies included in the MSCI World Index that were also included in the MSCI ESG World Index. The only security not included in MSCI World Index was invested in 2020 (Aquafil SpA) for which the Investment Manager performed a specific ESG analysis approved by the Management Company. Updates were requested and approved periodically.

Following an update of the MSCI ESG World Index, several issuers held in portfolio were removed in early June. Accordingly, corresponding issues (which accounted for 6.63% of NAV) were dismiss in the following weeks in the best interest of investors.

In addition, following a spin-off from Novartis AG, the security Sandoz Group entered the portfolio early October 2023. Due to the nature of the operation, the issuer was not directly included in the MSCI ESG World Index. The security was dismissed on October 10th.

- b. Sovereign issuers: During the year 2023, the Sub-fund has not invested in countries that apply the death penalty; in case of a Federation the exclusion was implemented only to the individual Federal State that apply the death penalty.
- c. The targeted open-ended UCIs/UCITS: those funds are included solely when all the following conditions are met:
  - They are at least classified as article 8 funds according to Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 ("SFDR");
  - They consider principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors; and
  - Their minimum percentage of sustainable investments is equal or higher than NEF Ethical Balanced Dynamic.

The portfolio was not invested in any UCIs/UCITS during the year.

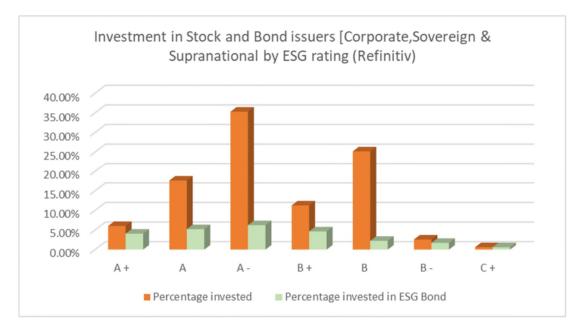

Additionally, all issuers had an ESG rating. The Sub-Fund was invested all over 2023 in issuers with a ESG rating greater than or equal to 41.67 according to Refinitiv or equivalent third-party ESG rating providers. The Sub-Fund was invested in issuers with a ESG rating greater than or equal to E as defined per Amundi in-house research (Amundi ESG Score*).

Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

The percentage invested in Green Bonds, Social Bonds, Sustainable Bonds, and all bonds linked to Sustainable / ESG / SDGs projects was 24.97% at year end and 24.94% on average.

Weighted average ESG score of the Sub-Fund according to Refinitiv (or equivalent third-party ESG rating provider), has been above 66.67 (B+) throughout the reporting period. The weighted average ESG score according to Refitiv was 72.49 (B+) on average during the reporting period. The weighted average Amundi ESG rating of the portfolio was C at year end.

The below graph shows the split of issuers by ESG Refinitiv rating at year end. The green bar represents the percentage of issuers which were either Green Bonds, Social Bonds, Sustainable Bonds or other bonds linked to Sustainable / ESG / SDGs projects.

The Refinitiv ESG rating score is a conversion of the Refinitiv ESG score range into rating letters according to the below mapping table.

The sustainability indicators were not subject to an assurance provided by an auditor or a review by a third party.

*ESG analysis framework of Amundi is comprised of 38 criteria. These criteria were designed to either assess how sustainability issues might affect the issuer as well as the quality of the management of this dimension. The output of each the scores for the 38 criteria are translated into an ESG rating from A to G. At the end of this process, companies are attributed an ESG rating from A to G. The ESG rating of an issuer is a weighted average of the scoring for E, S and G dimensions, each dimension being itself the weighted average of the internal reference values.

... and compared to previous periods?

Compared to the previous reportig period there was a slight downward shift in the average ESG score, from 77.67 to 72.49. This is explained by a lower concentration of A and A+ rated issuers.

The proportion of ESG bonds was fairly in line with the previous year (24.71% over 2023 versus 25.47% over 2022 on average).

Overall, the percentage of sustainable investments was higher in 2023 compared to 2022: 48.57% versus 33.45% on average. The increase in Sustainable Investments is partially explained by improved data quality and coverage from data providers.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The Sub-Fund partially invested in sustainable investments according to article 2(17) SFDR during the year.

The Investment Manager confirmed that the minimum proportion of 10% of sustainable investments was respected over the year 2023. The Investment Managers considered that an investment, to be classified as sustainable, should meet two criteria:

- 1. Follow best environmental and social practices; and
- 2. Avoid making products or providing services that harm the environment and society.

At the investee company level this means that an investee company must be a "best performer" within its sector of activity on at least one of its material environmental or social factors. The definition of "best performer" relies on the Investment Manager's proprietary ESG methodology (Amundi ESG Score) which aims to measure the ESG performance of an investee company.

In order to be considered a "best performer", an investee company must perform with the best top three rating (A, B or C, out of a rating scale going from A to G) within its sector on at least one material environmental or social factor. Material environmental and social factors are identified at a sector level. The identification of material factors is based on the Investment Manager ESG analysis framework which combines extra-financial data and qualitative analysis of associated sector and sustainability themes. Factors identified as material result in a contribution of more than 10% to the overall Amundi ESG score.

The sustainable investment made by the Investment manager did not target any of the six objectives defined by the EU Taxonomy.

According to the Management Company the percentage of sustainable investment at year end was 48.57%. Such sustainable investments were investments which contributed to an environmental or a social objective, did no significant harm, met minimum safeguards and had good governance.

The Management Company considers that, in order to be classified as sustainable investment, an investment should contribute positively to any of the SDG principles which is meant to contribute to a social objective or be a Green Bonds, Social Bonds, Sustainable Bonds, or bonds linked to Sustainable / ESG / SDGs projects which is meant to contribute to a social or environmental objective depending on the nature of the bond.

The SDGs are focused on the positive development of our society, which is a very broad and social goal. The environmental factors included in the SDGs are instrumental to the positive development of human society, which remains the primary goal of the SDGs. Hence, the environmental factors are one of the many parts that must be put together for our world to move towards a positive direction, to this extend it is considered that SDGs are contributing to social objectives only.

The Management Company is assessing independently the contribution made by the Sub-Fund to the various SDG goals. To do so usually the ISS SDG impact rating is used for each investment. However other equivalent SDG impact analysis could be used. The ISS SDG rating is based on 3 pillars:

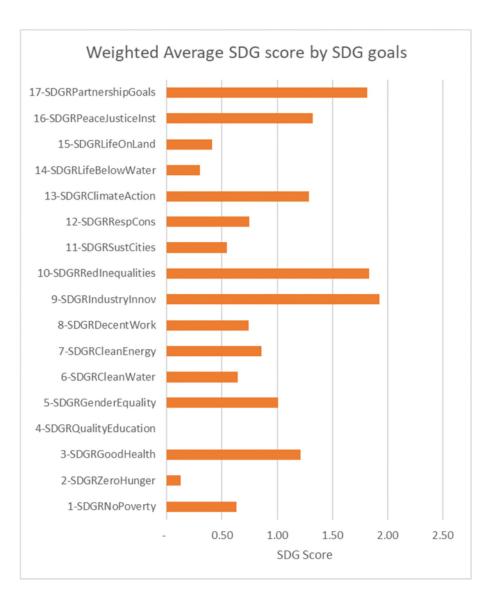

- Product and services identify contribution or obstruction to SDGs, based on revenues. The score is ranging from -10 to +10 based on the percentage of revenues contributing or obstructing with the goal, +10 imply a 100% contribution.
- Operations management: evaluate impact along the value chain, based on corporate ESG practices and impact. The score is ranging from -10 to +10.
- Controversies: identify alleged or verified failure to respect norms that obstruct SDG. The score ranges from 0 (no controversies) to -8 (large negative controversies).

At the goal level, the three pillars scores are combined in a two-step approach to measure a company's holistic impact on a specific SDG.

The 3 scores are compiled for each goal, both operation management and controversies are added together and compared to the product and services score. Then the following logic is applied: Highest positive score if only positive scores, Lowest negative score if only negative scores, sum of the positive and the negative score in case of mixed scores.

ISS SDG impact rating ranges from -10 to +10. To contribute positively the ISS SDG impact rating should be at least 2.

In the below table it is represented the Sub-Fund SDG impact rating on average during the year to each of the SDG (calculated as weighted average of the SDG impact ratings of any investment in the Sub-Fund).

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anticorruption and antibribery matters.

• How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

To ensure sustainable investments do no significant harm ('DNSH'), the Investment Manager utilises two filters:

The first DNSH filter relies on monitoring the mandatory Principal Adverse Impacts indicators in Annex 1, Table 1 of the RTS where robust data is available (e.g.GHG intensity of investee companies) via a combination of indicators (e.g.carbon intensity) and specific thresholds or rules (e.g. that the investee company's carbon intensity does not belong to the last decile of the sector).

The Investment Manager already considers specific Principle Adverse Impacts within its exclusion policy as part of Amundi's Responsible Investment Policy. These exclusions, which apply on the top of the tests detailed above, cover the following topics: exclusions on controversial weapons, violations of UN Global Compact principles, coal and tobacco.

Beyond the specific sustainability factors covered in the first filter, the Investment Manager has defined a second filter, which does not take the mandatory Principal Adverse Impact indicators above into account, in order to verify that the company does not badly perform from an overall environmental or social standpoint compared to other companies within its sector which corresponds to an environmental or social score superior or equal to E using Amundi's ESG rating.

To confirm that the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made did not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective a DNSH test (do not significant harm test) was run independently by the Management Company on the portfolio. Any investment failing such test was not considered as sustainable.

As a general matter, the "do no significant harm" principle, as referred to in article 6 of the regulation (EU) 2020/852 of the European Parliament and of the council of 18 June 2020 on the establishment of a framework to facilitate sustainable did not apply to this Sub-Fund since the investments underlying this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

- How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

The indicators for adverse impacts have been taken into account by the Investment Manager as detailed in the first do not significant harm (DNSH) filter above. The first DNSH filter relies on monitoring of mandatory Principal Adverse Impacts indicators in Annex 1, Table 1 of the Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 where robust data is available via the combination of following indicators and specific thresholds or rules:

- Have a CO2 intensity which does not belong to the last decile compared to other companies within its sector (only applies to high intensity sectors), and
- Have a Board of Directors' diversity which does not belong to the last decile compared to other companies within its sector, and
- Be cleared of any controversy in relation to work conditions and human rights.
- Be cleared of any controversy in relation to biodiversity and pollution

PAI indicators are also integrated in several part of the Management Company oversight process including the annual DNSH test. The DNSH test performed by the Management Company considered the evolution of the PAI indicators over the year, over the last 2 years or the PAI position compared to the sector peers PAI indicators. Issuers failing the DNSH test performed by the Management Company were finally not classified as 'sustainable investments'.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Yes, the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights are integrated into Amundi ESG scoring methodology. Amundi proprietary ESG rating tool assesses issuers using available data from different data providers. For example the model has a dedicated criteria called "Community Involvement & Human Rights" which is applied to all sectors in addition to other human rights linked criteria including socially responsible supply chains, working conditions, and labour relations. Furthermore, Amundi conducts controversy monitoring on a, at minimum, quarterly basis which includes companies identified for human rights violations. When controversies arise, analysts evaluate the situation and apply a score to the controversy (using Amundi proprietary scoring methodology) and determine the best course of action. Controversy scores are updated quarterly to track the trend and remediation efforts.

The Management Company confirms that all the sustainable investments were aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. The proportion of investment not aligned with such principles was 0.19% on average over the year and were not considered as sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

The Investment Manager considers all the mandatory Principal Adverse Impacts applying to the Product's strategy and relied on a combination of exclusion policies (normative and sectorial), ESG rating integration into the investment process, engagement and voting approaches:

- Exclusion: The Investment Manager has defined normative, activity-based and sectorbased exclusion rules covering some of the key adverse sustainability indicators listed by the Disclosure Regulation.
- ESG factors integration: The Investment Manager has adopted minimum ESG integration standards. The 38 criteria used in the Investment Manager ESG rating approach were also designed to consider key impacts on sustainability factors, as well as quality of the mitigation undertaken are also considered in that respect. All criteria are available in investment manager's front office portfolio management system.
- Engagement: Engagement is a continuous and purpose driven process aimed at influencing the activities or behaviour of investee companies. The aim of engagement activities can fall into two categories: to engage an issuer to improve the way it integrates the environmental and social dimension, to engage an issuer to improve its impact on environmental, social, and human rights-related or other sustainability matters that are material to society and the global economy.
- Vote: The Investment Manager's voting policy responds to an holistic analysis of all the long-term issues that may influence value creation, including material ESG issues.
- Controversies monitoring: The Investment Manager has developed a controversy tracking system that relies on three data providers to systematically track controversies and their level of severity. This quantitative approach is then enriched with an in-depth assessment of each severe controversy, led by ESG analysts and the periodic review of its evolution.

PAI indicators are also integrated in several part of the Management Company oversight process. The Management Company challenged the Investemnt Managers on worst performers invested issuers in terms of PAIs over the reporting period.

On average, during the reporting period, around 56.51 % of the total investment in the Sub-Fund, had a positive evolution of the PAI indicators over the year or over the last 2 years, or was better positioned than their sectors peers PAI indicator. This check was run only for corporate and equity issuers (not for government issuers), which represent 57.80% of the total investment in the Sub-Fund. Therefore 97.77% of the corporate and equity issuers had a positive PAI assessment over the year.

#20ther includes the remaining investments of the financial product which are neither aligned with the environmental or social characteristics, nor are qualified as sustainable investments.

The category #1 Aligned with E/S characteristics covers:

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

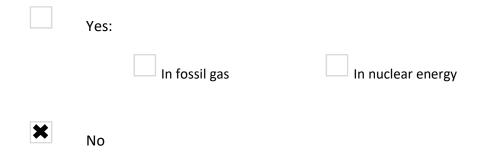

The sustainable investments targeted by the Sub-Fund could also be those that, as investments in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of Article 3 of the Regulation (EU) 2020/852 (the "Taxonomy Regulation"), could contribute to the achievement of the environmental objectives set out in Article 9 of the Taxonomy Regulation.

It has not been possible for the Investment Manager neither for the Management Company to collect meaningful, up-to-date and verifiable data that would have made it possible to determine whether the investments have been investments in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the Taxonomy Regulation.

Therefore, a description of how and to what extent the investments included in the Sub-Fund have been those in economic activities that have been environmentally sustainable within the meaning of Article 3 of the Taxonomy Regulation could not be made at this time.

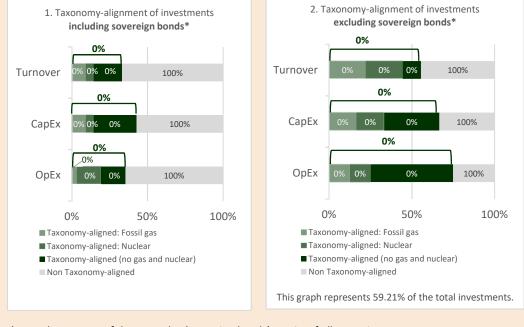

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the Consequently, a minimum proportion of taxonomy-compliant investments could not be shown at present.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

Reliable data regarding fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities were not available during the rerence period.

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

An indication of how and to what extent the investments included in the financial product have been those in economic activities that have been included in the shares of the enabling activities and transitional activities referred to in Article 16 and Article 10(2) of the Taxonomy Regulation, respectively, could not be presented for the reporting period as sufficient data have not been available.

Therefore and because the product have not targeted EU taxonomy compliant sustainable investments that have contributed to the environmental objectives set out in Art. 9 of Taxonomy Regulation, the share of investments in transitional and enabling activities, 0 percent is reported as of the reporting date.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

Reliable data regarding EU Taxonomy were not available during the previous reference period.

sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with environmental objective not aligned to taxonomy was at least 11.30% on average over 2023.

This is due to the fact that some issuers are considered sustainable investments under the SFDR Regulation but do have a portion of activities that are not aligned with EU taxonomy standards, or for which data is not yet available to perform an EU taxonomy assessment.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The share of socially sustainable investments was at 37.27% on average over 2023.

What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

This Sub-Fund has promoted a predominant asset allocation in investments that are aligned with environmental and social characteristics (#1 Aligned with E/S characteristics) and that have been partially sustainable. In addition, and on an ancillary basis, this Sub-Fund has invested into investments that are not considered aligned with the promoted characteristics (1.41% in #2 Other at year end). These remaining investments were composed of cash and derivatives. The Sub-fund made use of cash for liquidity purposes and derivatives for hedging, efficient portfolio management and investment.

This Sub-Fund have not considered any minimum environmental or social safeguards on cash and derivatives.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

Sustainability indicators are continuously made available in the portfolio management system allowing the portfolio managers to assess the impact of their investment decisions.

These indicators are embedded within the Investment Manager's control framework, with responsibilities spread between the first level of controls performed by the Investment teams themselves and the second level of controls performed by the Risk teams, who monitor compliance with environmental or social characteristics promoted by the fund on an ongoing basis.

Moreover, the Investment Manager's Responsible Investment Policy sets out an active approach to engagement that promotes dialogue with investee companies including those in the portfolio of this product.

In 2023 the engagement activities related to the Sub-Fund concerned 103 companies and around 40% of the total portfolio, and revolved around all four macro themes: Transition Towards a Low Carbon Economy, Natural Capital Preservation, Governance and Product, Client, Societal Responsibility. This was done with the aim of: 1) Develop targets (specific KPIs), 2) Encourage better ESG practices and 3) Improve transparency and accountability.

Sustainable

investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852 establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

To what extent was the sustainable investment objective of this financial product met?

The Sub-Fund sustainable investment objective is to advance the United Nation Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) by investing in firms that are functional to their achievement and with high quality Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) profiles. Consequently, the Sub-Fund was solely invested in companies that hold a positive SDG score based on the Investment Manager's internally developed SDG analysis. The process to verify whether and to what extent the companies were instrumental to the achievement of the SDG consisted of three different stages: "

Investee company SDG analysis

The objective of the analysis is to define whether a company contributes to the SDGs achievement.

The SDG analysis is divided into three phases.

1) The first phase is composed by the Exposure to SDG Business: the percentage of the business that is functional to SDGs' achievement. The analyst explains the rationale behind the choice and provides clear evidence for the reader, taking into consideration of the several peculiarities of the sectors in which the firms operate.

2) The second phase is the SDG Repercussion, that is composed by the analysis of the positioning of the company in the SDGs related business and by the measurement of the SDGs functionality of the company's business.

The positioning analysis is related to how much the company is needed in order for this SDG related business to continue smoothly; asking what the negative repercussions would be (like for example, higher prices, lower quality, less supply) if the company were to discontinue it. Clearly, the market share in the area of activity is very important here.
The SDGs functionality represents the "intensity" of the SDG exposure. The business exposure provides the exposure in terms of volume, but each activity can have a different "intensity" in terms of importance for the SDGs achievements. For example, producing cheap furniture for offices helps to set up new activities but the revenue has a lesser SDG intensity than, for example, producing windmills.

3) The third phase is Business Growth: the analyst verifies whether the SDG related business of the company is growing and whether and to what extent the company is investing in this business.

The results of the 3 steps analysis are embodied in a matrix as shown here below (BB rating is considered the minimum threshold):

|                |          |              | SDG  | Repercus                  | ssion  |     |

The SDG analysis is complemented by internally developed industry-specific SDG frameworks to establish a more standardized and objective approach to compare the SDG performance of each portfolio company within its industry characteristics. The SDG frameworks provide guidance on the analysis of SDG performance on each one of the three SDG analysis phases per industry.

Portfolio SDG analysis

The Investment Manager has identified 28 themes, called TrendSDG, which are pivotal to the achievement of one or more of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Each of these themes (TrendSDG) is represented by a correlated portfolio of companies. The Investment Manager calculates the SDG impact of each portfolio (SDG score).

Below it is highlighted which SDGs are relevant to each trendSDG (the 28 trendSDG, for convenient reading, have been grouped into 7 macro-themes: Infrastructure, Mobility, Health, Materials, Finance, Food and Communication).

| Infrastructure   |   |

SDG impact of the portfolio as of 31 December 2023

The SDG Impact of the portfolio throughout the year is calculated on the basis of the yearly weighted average of the portfolio's SDG Impact multiplied by the average equity weight of the portfolio (Table B).

The yearly weighted average portfolio's SDG Impact is calculated using the average of the monthly portfolio's SDG Impact.

The monthly portfolio's SDG Impact is calculated using the average Impact of the single monthly trendSDG (portfolios).

The monthly trendSDG (portfolios) impact is calculated using the weighted average of the SDG Impact of each stock in the trendSDG portfolio. (Table A)

Therefore all securities included in the portfolio were functional to the achievement of the SDG according to the above mentioned methodology.

The Management Company is independently assessing the contribution made by the Sub-Fund to the various SDG goals. To do so usually the ISS SDG impact rating is used for each investment. However other equivalent SDG impact analysis could be used.

ISS SDG impact rating ranges from -10 to +10. To contribute positively to one goal the ISS SDG impact rating for such specific goal should be at least 2.

During the reporting period all invested companies had at least one SDG impact rating greater or equal to 2.

The Management Company is independently assessing the contribution made by the Sub-Fund to the various SDG goals. To do so usually the ISS SDG impact rating is used for each investment. However other equivalent SDG impact analysis could be used. The ISS SDG rating is based on 3 pillars :

o Product and services identify contribution or obstruction to SDGs, based on revenues. The score is ranging from -10 to +10 based on the percentage of revenues contributing or obstructing with the goal, +10 imply a 100% contribution.

o Operations management: evaluate impact along the value chain, based on corporate ESG practices and impact. The score is ranging from -10 to +10.

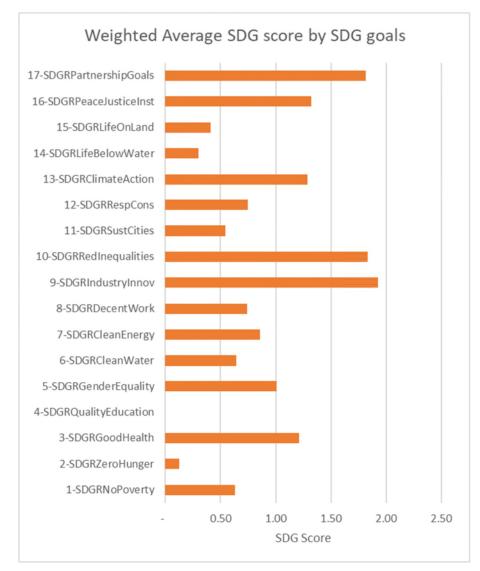

o Controversies: identify alleged or verified failure to respect norms that obstruct SDG. The score ranges from 0 (no controversies) to -8 (large negative controversies).

At the goal level, the three pillar scores are combined in a two-step approach to measure a company's holistic impact on a specific SDG.

The 3 scores are compiled for each goal, both operation management and controversies are added together and compared to the product and services score. Then the following logic is applied: Highest positive score if only positive scores, Lowest negative score if only negative scores, sum of the positive and the negative score in case of mixed scores.

ISS SDG impact rating ranges from -10 to +10. To contribute positively the ISS SDG impact rating should be at least 2.

In the below table it is represented the Sub-Fund SDG impact rating on average during the year to each of the SDG (calculated as weighted average of the SDG impact ratings of any investment in the Sub-Fund).

The SDGs are focused on the positive development of our society, which is a very broad and social goal. The environmental factors included in the SDGs are instrumental to the positive development of human society, which remains the primary goal of the SDGs. Hence, the environmental factors are one of the many parts that must be put together for our world to move towards a positive direction, to this extent it is considered that SDGs are contributing to social objectives only.

Additionally all invested companies had high quality Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) profiles.

It is confirmed that there were no exception to the exclusion policy during the year 2023, both from the Investment Manager side and from the Management Company oversight.

Sustainability

indicators measure how the sustainable objectives of this financial product are attained.

• How did the sustainability indicators perform?

Indicator

|--|--------|
| Percentage of investee companies which the Investment Managerengaged upon their functionality to Sustainable Development Goalsand the minimization of their negative impact during the year* | 38.86% |
| The percentage of holdings that are in violation of the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, ILO standards, UNGPs, or UNGC   | 0,30%  |

*This is a year end snapshot.

According to the Investment Manager's internally developed SDG analysis, all the companies in the portfolio presented a positive SDG score. The portfolio consisted on average during the reporting period of :

- 12.67% companies with SDG AAA rating,
- 63.81% with AA rating,
- 12.56% with A rating,
- 7.72% with BBB rating,
- 1,79% with BB rating which is considered the minimum threshold.

The Investment Manager engaged with 38.86% of the investee companies held in the portfolio, where critical elements emerged from the ESG, DNSH, Minimum Safeguards, and Controversies analysis.

The percentage of holdings that were in violation of the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, ILO standards, UNGPs, or UNGC is equal to 0% of the Net Asset Value as of 31/12/23.

During the year, two companies remained frozen for violation of the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, ILO standards, UNGPs, or UNGC, representing approximately 0,30% of yearly average portfolio weight. Despite engagement activity being carried out, one firm did not fix the violation, to change its procedures and to substitute the high-level management in charge of the related function. Therefore it was divested from the portfolio mid-way through the year. For the second company, through contact with the firm, the controversy was found to be immaterial and was unfrozen.

The sustainability indicators were not subject to an assurance provided by an auditor or a review by a third party.

…and compared to previous periods?

The percentage of investee companies with a positive SDG score remained at 100% in the reporting year of 2023 in line with the sustainable objective of the fund outlined above. It should noted that in the reporting year, NicheAM conducted a comprehensive review of its SDG analyses, applying a new scoring methodology to assess the alignment of its portfolio companies with the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). A new more granular scoring matrix enabled NicheAM to distinguish and showcase the companies that made the highest impact on the SDGs from those that still contributed highly, but to a lesser extent. The scoring matrix was updated, adding a bonus category for the highest achievers in terms of SDG. The analysis was also complemented by new internally developed industry-specific SDG frameworks to establish a more standardized and objective approach to compare the SDG performance of each portfolio company within its industry characteristics. As a result, these two new updates to the internal analysis methodology led to the reclassification of a significant number of companies from category AAA (from 92.8% in the previous period to 12.67%) to category AA (from 3.7% to 63.81%).

The percentage of investee companies that the Investment Manager engaged upon their functionality to Sustainable Development Goals and the minimization of their negative impact during the year decreased from 92% in 2022 to 38.86%.

As 100% of the companies in the portfolio already meet the first sustainable objective criteria by having a positive SDG score, engagement is therefore focused on the next criteria of minimization of negative impact during the year.

As the first year of reporting in 2022, we engaged with the majority of investee firms, including those who both showed or did not show critial elements from the DNSH analysis, to better understand their approach to sustainability.

As the sustainable investment strategy continues, this reporting year, the investment manager took the next step to focus engagement activities on only companies that were deemed to be cases where elements emerged to be critical from the ESG, DNSH, Minimum Safeguards, and Controversies analysis. This was in order to put resources and time to areas which needed attention compared to companies which showed no issues and with a high base regarding sustainability disclosure and progress.

100% of the companies with potential critical issues were contacted, corresponding to approximately 38.86% of the portfolio.

The monitoring activity of violations of the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, ILO standards, UNGPs, or UNGC is an ongoing process, to which no new material controversies were identified in the reporting year of 2023. This meant that the percentage of companies by weight falling under this criterea fell to 0% in the year end snapshot of 2023 compared to 0,6% in the previous year.

The two stocks which were identified to have activity in violation of the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, ILO standards, UNGPs, or UNGC in the previous year were divested from the portfolio and unfrozen respectively as a result of engagement outcomes during 2023.

How did the sustainable investments not cause significant harm to any sustainable investment objective?

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anticorruption and anti-bribery matters.

All the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors from Annex 1, Table 1 of the Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 were taken into account through a combination of internal analysis processes as detailed in the following table relative to PAI consideration.

For what regards the Do Not Significantly Harm ("DNSH"), the focus of analysis did not only consist of examining the intensity recorded for each principal adverse impact indicators (PAIs), but first and foremost its dynamics (PAI evolution analysis). It is considered particularly important that each of investee company demonstrates an improving trend with respect to sustainability factors, both from an environmental and social point of view, that shows that the company is gradually minimizing its negative impact of its business. In some cases, this process required dialogue with the investee company to understand the evolution of the environmental and social adverse impact indicators.

The mitigation of adverse impacts was also pursued through other processes. For what concerns the ESG analysis, the average ESG score of the portfolio during the year was 75.6. According to Refinitiv's classification, this score is in the higher end of the third quartile and indicates: "good relative ESG performance and above average degree of transparency in reporting material ESG data publicly." In terms of dynamics, the ESG score decreased slightly from 76 in January to 74 in December. However, it should be noted that the yearly portfolio average ESG score was 0.3% higher than the previous reporting year. The ESG score has never been below the minimum threshold (65).

With regard to the exclusion policy, no issues emerged during the year. The Investment Manager has excluded securities if their main business activity was involved in some of the following business areas: Weapons (armaments and cluster bombs), Gambling, Tobacco, Pornographic material, Coal, Integrated Oil and Gas, Oil and Gas Exploration and Production, Oil and Gas Drilling, Oil-related Services and Equipment.

For what regard the Minimum Safeguards and Controversies analysis, please refer to the section "What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?" in which it was pointed out that the emergence of significant controversies on three companies resulted in these being frozen and engaged.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

At the moment of purchase, the Investment Manager verified to the best of its knowledge that the Sub-Fund investments were aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. This assessment was done via direct contact with the investee companies and by the controversy analysis.

Sub-Fund investments were then continuously monitored. In those cases where a material issue / controversy emerged was then investigated.

Following the previous year, there were two stocks which remained frozen from the ongoing monitoring activties. Further remedies were continued to be envisaged and engagement actions considered going into 2023. One of the companies was unfrozen in early march once the company proved responsive to contact, and clarified the immateriality of the controversy. For the second stock, actions failed to yield the the desired results, and a liquidation procedure for the investment was enacted mid-way throught the year.

To what extent were sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The Sub-Fund does not commit to invest a minimum proportion of sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

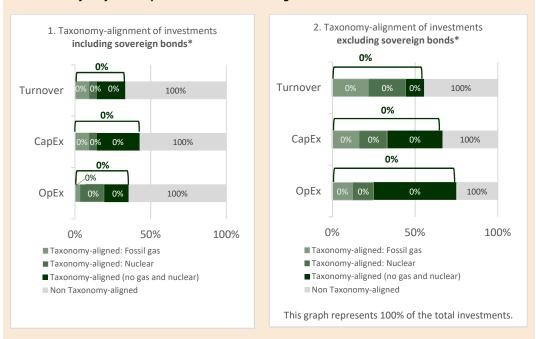

|   | Yes: |               |                   |
|---|------|---------------|-------------------|
|   |      | In fossil gas | In nuclear energy |
| × | No   |               |                   |

Reliable data regarding fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities were not available during the reference period.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objective - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of: turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies. capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy. -operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

The Sub-Fund did not have a minimum share of investments in transitional and enabling activities, as it did not commit to a minimum proportion of sustainable investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy.

How did the percentage of investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

There was not the possibility to calculate the Taxonomy alignment for the previous reporting period.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

Not applicable

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The socially sustainable investments were 99.35% of the Sub-Fund pursuant to Article 2(17) SFDR

What investments were included under "not sustainable", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

The "other" investments, representing 0.65% on average over the year, included only cash and currency hedging derivatives that were used by the portfolio management respectivly for liquidity and hedging purposes and for which no minimum safeguards were applied.

What actions have been taken to attain the sustainable investment objective during the reference period?

The actions taken to fulfill the sustainable objective were:

Engagement. The Investment Manager engaged with 100% of the companies with potential critical issues that emerged from the DNSH analysis, corresponding to 38.86% of the portfolio, of which 50% were responsive. This has created a clearer pathway for the investment team to decide on where to continue engagement efforts going forward. In the cases of the responsive companies, there were two separate scenarios.

69% of the respondent companies provided a recognizable reason for the negative trend of the data found through the DNSH analysis which explained that there was no negative dynamic.

For the remaining 31%, engagement took place to improve upon the negative dynamic in the future. The results of the company's response to engagement and dynamics of the DNSH are then displayed on the fund monitoring system for the Investment manager to be able to integrate the results into the investment strategy.

This allows for an informed decision to be made on the weight of the stock which incorporates the sustainability dynamics at a stock level when constructing the portfolio, prioritising the companies which respond positively to engagement over unresponsive companies.

NicheAM also participates in collaborative engagements and stewardship iniatives to be part of the bigger picture to support the SDGs and drive change in certain industry sectors. In 2023, three collaborative engagements were taken part in which represented 6,6% of the portfolio by weight at year end through the investor networks of FAIRR and PRI. The engagements focus on sustainable aquaculture, protein diversification in food retail, and human rights and social issues in extractives and energy sectors as an endorser. The few engagement initiatives were selected for their relevance to significant sector-wide issues that have a critical impact on achieving the SDGs which cannot be tackled by our efforts alone.

Sustainable

investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Environmental and/or social characteristics

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

NEF Ethical Balanced Conservative (the "Sub-Fund") has promoted some environmental, social and governance ("ESG") characteristics, it has sought to invest mainly in stocks and bonds issued by companies with high quality Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) profiles and has used MSCI World ESG Index as investible universe. It has used an ESG rating as further explained in the other sections of this periodic disclosure.

The Sub-Fund has invested primarily in assets selected based on sustainability criteria. Sustainability has been understood to mean ecological (Environment - E) and social (Social - S) criteria as well as good corporate and government management (Governance - G). Corresponding criteria has included CO2 emissions, protection of natural resources, biodiversity and water (Environment), anti-corruption measures, tax transparency (Governance) and health and safety at work (Social). When considering environmental and social characteristics, the Sub-Fund has invested in assets of issuers that have applied good corporate governance practices.

The Sub-Fund has not invested in sovereign issuers in countries or federal state where the death penalty has applied and have refrained to invest in companies that have been involved in controversial sectors such as alcohol, armaments, cluster bombs, gambling, nuclear weapons, nuclear energy or depleted uranium, pornographic material and tobacco.

The Sub-Fund has not designated a reference benchmark for the purpose of attaining the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The attainment of the promoted environmental and social characteristics was assessed via the application of a proprietary ESG assessment methodology. The methodology applied a variety of ESG Criteria (the "ESG Filter") to assess the attainment of the promoted environmental and social characteristics, which were as follows:

a. Stocks and Corporate bond issuers: to have been investable by the Sub-Fund, a company included in the MSCI World Index has to be included in the MSCI ESG World Index.

During the year 2023 the Sub-Fund has invested only in companies included in the MSCI World Index that were also included in the MSCI ESG World Index.

Following an update of the MSCI ESG World Index, several issuers held in portfolio were removed in early June. Accordingly, corresponding issues (which accounted for 5.45% of NAV) were dismiss in the following weeks in the best interest of investors.

- b. Sovereign issuers: During the year 2023, the Sub-fund has not invested in countries that apply the death penalty; in case of a Federation the exclusion was implemented only to the individual Federal State that apply the death penalty.

* Union Investment's in-house research – UniESG Score: The attainment of the fund's environmental and social characteristics has been measured by the Investment Manager by means of sustainability indicators. The main sustainability indicator used by the Investment manager is The UniESG Score. Depending on the type of issuer, the UniESG Score included the dimensions of environment, social, governance, sustainable business, and controversy. The Investment Manager assessed the sustainability level of the issuer based on the UniESG Score. In the environmental area, the sustainability level was measured using issues such as greenhouse gas emissions reduction, biodiversity conservation, water intensity, and waste reduction. In the social area, the sustainability level was measured on the basis of topics relating, for example, to the treatment of employees, the guarantee of health and safety standards, labor standards in the supply chain, or the safety and quality of products and services. In the area of good corporate governance, the Investment Manager analyzed compliance with good governance standards based on data from various vendors and research from proxy advisors. Sustainability levels were measured against topics such as corruption, compliance, transparency, and risk and reputation management. To enable a comparison of issuers, they were assigned a UniESG Score between 0 and 100. The sustainability indicators of the issuers are included in the UniESG Score of the fund with their share of the fund invested to achieve the ecological and/or social characteristics.

... and compared to previous periods?

Compared to the previous reporting period, we note a slight shift downward of the average ESG rating from 79.22 in 2022 on average to 74.08 on 2023. This is explain by more issuers rated B+ and a decrease in the A rated issuers. However, compared to the previous year all the securities in portfolio have an ESG score.

The proportion invested in Green Bonds, Social Bonds, Sustainable Bonds, and all bonds linked to Sustainable / ESG / SDGs projects have slightly decreased from 74.35% on average in 2022 to 71.77% on average in 2023, but the proportion of such instrument remain very high Suchs bonds, being dedicated to finance only sustainable impactful projects, reinforced the Environmental and Social characteristics of the Sub-Fund.

The percentage of Sustainable investment is higher than previous reporting period. 55.24 % on average in 2023 while 25.37 % on average in 2022. The large increase in Sustainable Investments is partially explained by improved data quality and coverage from data providers.

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The Sub-Fund partially invested in sustainable investments according to article 2(17) SFDR during the year.

The Investment Manager confirmed that the minimum proportion of 5% of sustainable investments was respected over the year 2023. Such sustainable investments have contributed to at least one of the UN Sustainable Development Goals ("SDGs").

The sustainable investment made by the Investment manager did not target any of the six objectives defined by the EU Taxonomy.

According to the Management Company the percentage of sustainable investment over the year was 55.24%.

Such sustainable investments were investments which contributed to an environmental or a social objective, did no significant harm, met minimum safeguards and had good governance.

The Management Company considers that, in order to be classified as sustainable investment, an investment should contribute positively to any of the SDG principles which is meant to contribute to a social objective or be a Green Bonds, Social Bonds, Sustainable Bonds, or bonds linked to Sustainable / ESG / SDGs projects which is meant to contribute to a social or environmental objective depending on the nature of the bond.

The SDGs are focused on the positive development of our society, which is a very broad and social goal. The environmental factors included in the SDGs are instrumental to the positive development of human society, which remains the primary goal of the SDGs. Hence, the environmental factors are one of the many parts that must be put together for our world to move towards a positive direction, to this extend it is considered that SDGs are contributing to social objectives only.

The Management Company is assessing independently the contribution made by the Sub-Fund to the various SDG goals. To do so usually the ISS SDG impact rating is used for each investment. However other equivalent SDG impact analysis could be used. The ISS SDG rating is based on 3 pillars:

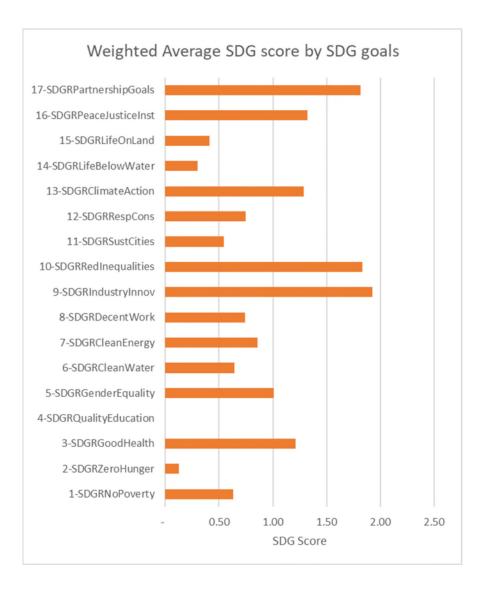

- Product and services identify contribution or obstruction to SDGs, based on revenues. The score is ranging from -10 to +10 based on the percentage of revenues contributing or obstructing with the goal, +10 imply a 100% contribution.
- Operations management: evaluate impact along the value chain, based on corporate ESG practices and impact. The score is ranging from -10 to +10.
- Controversies: identify alleged or verified failure to respect norms that obstruct SDG. The score ranges from 0 (no controversies) to -8 (large negative controversies).

At the goal level, the three pillars scores are combined in a two-step approach to measure a company's holistic impact on a specific SDG.

The 3 scores are compiled for each goal, both operation management and controversies are added together and compared to the product and services score. Then the following logic is applied: Highest positive score if only positive scores, Lowest negative score if only negative scores, sum of the positive and the negative score in case of mixed scores.

ISS SDG impact rating ranges from -10 to +10. To contribute positively the ISS SDG impact rating should be at least 2.

In the below table it is represented the Sub-Fund SDG impact rating on average during the year to each of the SDG (calculated as weighted average of the SDG impact

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

Sustainable investments were screened by the Investment Manager for involvement in activities that caused significant harm and controversies, assessed through the use of certain indicators. Based on these indicators, an analysis was carried out by the Investment Manager to determine whether investments in issuers may have a significant adverse impact on sustainability factors ("Principal Adverse Impact" or "PAI"). In case that a significant harm was identified, the economic activity was not considered as sustainable economic activity.

To confirm that the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made did not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective a DNSH test (do not significant harm test) was run independently by the Management Company on the portfolio. Any investment failing such test was not considered as sustainable.

As a general matter, the "do no significant harm" principle, as referred to in article 6 of the regulation (EU) 2020/852 of the European Parliament and of the council of 18 June 2020 on the establishment of a framework to facilitate sustainable did not apply to this Sub-Fund

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anticorruption and antibribery matters.

since the investments underlying this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

— How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

The Sub-Fund has considered principal adverse impacts of its investments through a combination of internal process like, ESG rating, exclusion strategies of issuers associated with controversial conduct or activities and engagement. The PAI as per table 1 (notably) has been taken into account as shown in the different processes below:

Regarding the process called Union Exclusion strategy there were no breaches during 2023.

PAI indicators are also integrated in several part of the Management Company oversight process including the annual DNSH test. The DNSH test performed by the Management Company considered the evolution of the PAI indicators over the year, over the last 2 years or the PAI position compared to the sector peers PAI indicators. Issuers failing the DNSH test performed by the Management Company were finally not classified as 'sustainable investments'.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

The OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, the core labor standards of the International Labor Organization (ILO) and the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights has been used in decisions on sustainable investments. To have addressed this, the Investment Manager has issued guidelines that foresee these sets of rules. These guidelines have been the "Human Rights Policy Statement" and the "Union Investment Engagement Policy".

The Management Company confirms that all the sustainable invetsments were aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights. The porportion of investment not aligned with such principles was 0.66% on average over the year and were not considered as sustainable investment.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider the principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

The principal adverse impact of investments on sustainability factors ("Principal Adverse Impact" or "PAI") was considered by the Investment Manager in the purchasing of securities, money market instruments and investment shares. Indicators used to identify adverse impacts on sustainability factors from investing in companies resulted from the following categories: Greenhouse Gas Emissions, Biodiversity, Water, Waste, and Social and Employment. For investments in sovereign securities and money market instruments, indicators in the environmental and social and employment categories were considered.

PAI was taken into account in the selection of corporate securities and money market instruments, as well as in the acquisition of investment shares, in particular by (1) defining exclusion criteria, (2) assessing them using a sustainability score, and (3) conducting company dialogs and exercising voting rights.

In the analysis of countries, PAIs were taken into account by the Investment Manager by excluding those countries that had a comparatively high GHG intensity. In addition, exclusions included unfree states that had a low score on the index issued by the international nongovernmental organization Freedom House.

PAI indicators are also integrated in several part of the Management Company oversight process. The Management Company challenged the Investment Managers on worst performers invested issuers in terms of PAIs over the reporting period.

On average, during the reporting period, 86.44% of the total investment in the Sub-Fund, had a positive evolution of the PAI indicators over the year or over the last 2 years or was better positioned than their sectors peers PAI indicator. This check was run only for corporate and equity issuers (not for government issuers), which represent 92.30% of the total investment in the Sub-Fund. Therefore 93.66% of the corporate issuers had a positive PAI assessment over the year.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The sustainable investments targeted by the Sub-Fund could also be those that, as investments in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of Article 3 of the Regulation (EU) 2020/852 (the "Taxonomy Regulation"), could contribute to the achievement of the environmental objectives set out in Article 9 of the Taxonomy Regulation.

It has not been possible for the Investment Manager neither for the Management Company to collect meaningful, up-to-date and verifiable data that would have made it possible to determine whether the investments have been investments in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the Taxonomy Regulation.

Therefore, a description of how and to what extent the investments included in the Sub-Fund have been those in economic activities that have been environmentally sustainable within the meaning of Article 3 of the Taxonomy Regulation could not be made at this time.

Consequently, a minimum proportion of taxonomy-compliant investments could not be shown at present.

To comply with the EU Taxonomy, the criteria for fossil gas include limitations on emissions and switching to fully renewable power or low-carbon fuels by the end of 2035. For nuclear energy, the criteria include comprehensive safety and waste management rules.

Enabling activities

directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are

activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

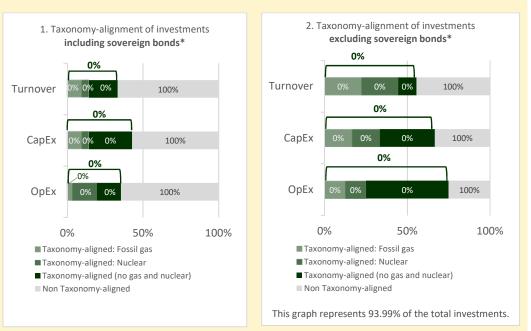

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of: - turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies. - capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy. -operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy<sup>1</sup>?

Reliable data regarding fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities were not available during the rerence period.

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objective - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

An indication of how and to what extent the investments included in the financial product have been those in economic activities that have been included in the shares of the enabling activities and transitional activities referred to in Article 16 and Article 10(2) of the Taxonomy Regulation, respectively, could not be presented for the reporting period as sufficient data have not been available.

Therefore and because the product have not targeted EU taxonomy compliant sustainable investments that have contributed to the environmental objectives set out in Art. 9 of Taxonomy Regulation, the share of investments in transitional and enabling activities, 0 percent is reported as of the reporting date.

How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

Reliable data regarding EU Taxonomy were not available during the previous reference period.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective that are not aligned with the EU taxonomy?

The share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned to taxonomy was at least 29.29% on average over the year 2023.

This is due to the fact that some issuers are considered sustainable investments under the SFDR Regulation but do have a portion of activities that are not aligned with EU taxonomy standards, or for which data is not yet available to perform an EU taxonomy assessment.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The share of socially sustainable investments was 25.95% on average over the year 2023.

What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

This Sub-Fund has promoted a predominant asset allocation in investments that are aligned with environmental and social characteristics (#1 Aligned with E/S characteristics) and that have been partially sustainable. In addition, and on an ancillary basis, this Sub-Fund has invested into investments that are not considered aligned with the promoted characteristics (1.69% in #2 average over the year). These remaining investments were composed of cash and derivatives. The Sub-fund made use of cash for liquidity purposes and derivatives for hedging, efficient portfolio management and investment.

This Sub-Fund have not considered any minimum environmental or social safeguards on cash and derivatives.

sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

Compliance with environmental or social characteristics of the fund has been achieved through the consideration of sustainability indicators in the investment strategy, for example the application of exclusion criteria or minimum requirements for ESG scores. Exclusion criteria were single or multiple criteria that excluded investments in certain companies, industries or countries. The sustainability indicators were processed in a software for sustainable portfolio management. Based on this software, the Investment Manager was able to review and, if necessary, adjust various sustainable strategies for the fund. Technical control mechanisms were also implemented in trading systems to monitor and ensure investment restrictions that contributed to the fulfilment of the fund's environmental and social characteristics, which ensured that none of the issuers that violated exclusion criteria could be purchased.

In addition, the Investment manager analysed companies' compliance with good corporate governance standards based on data from various vendors and research from proxy advisors or entered into a dialogue with companies on their standards, either alone or in association with other investors. In particular, the Investment Manager exercised its shareholder rights (engagement), to avoid risks and to promote sustainability at companies concerned.

Union Investment's engagement process includes constructive dialog with companies (UnionVoice). The constructive corporate dialog focused on direct exchanges with companies and discussions on platforms run by external institutions. This not only addressed corporate aspects, but also specifically addressed social, environmental and corporate governance issues.

In terms of the engagement process, Union engaged on PAI related topics with around 29% of the portfolio over the year. The Investment Manager had a total of 103 company contacts or engagement activities in 2023.
