

iShares SMI (DE)

July 2010

The iShares SMI (DE) Investment Fund was founded on 22 March 2001 under German law. This simplified prospectus summarises the most important information regarding the Investment Fund. You can obtain further details from the full prospectus and the latest annual and semi-annual reports.

Unit classes	iShares SMI (DE) (WKN: 593 396; ISIN: DE0005933964)
Capital Investment Company	The Investment Fund is managed by BlackRock Asset Management Deutschland AG, Max-Joseph-Str. 6, 80333 Munich, Germany.
Term	The Investment Fund was founded for an unlimited period.
Custodian Bank	State Street Bank GmbH Brienner Straße 59 80333 Munich, Germany
Auditor	KPMG AG Wirtschaftsprüfungsgesellschaft Munich Office Ganghoferstr. 29 80339 Munich, Germany
Investment objective	The primary objective of iShares SMI (DE) is to track the performance of the Swiss equity market as measured by the SMI®. To achieve this objective, the fund will attempt to replicate the SMI® (price index) as closely as possible.
Investment strategy	The SMI® tracks Swiss blue chips, i.e. the largest companies and those with the highest turnover in Switzerland and the Principality of Liechtenstein, which are listed on the SIX Swiss Exchange. It comprises a maximum of 30 stocks that are admitted to the SIX Swiss Exchange's main and secondary markets and which represent approximately 80% of total capitalisation. The investment ratio is at least 95% of the value of the Investment Fund. The duplication ratio is at least 95% of the value of the Investment Fund. Bank balances and money market instruments may be acquired up to a maximum of 5% of the value of the Investment Fund. Futures contracts and options on the underlying index and on individual components of the underlying index may be used exclusively for the purpose of maintaining the investment ratio. The base currency is the Swiss franc.

Risk profile	The unit value can fluctuate. Investors may not recover the full value of their investment. If the index falls in value, causing the value of the Investment Fund to fall, the Company's fund management will not attempt to limit losses through hedging transactions or sales of equities (i.e. the fund is not "actively" managed). Consequently, unit holders are fully exposed to a fall in market value of their fund units in the event of a decline in the underlying index. Because of the close link between the Investment Fund and the underlying index and because certain issuer and investment limits may be exceeded as a result, risk will only be diversified to a limited extent. You can obtain a more extensive description of the risks involved in the full prospectus.
Market risk	The price or market performance of financial products is especially dependent on the movements in the capital markets, which in turn are influenced by the general state of the global economy and by the economic and political conditions in the respective countries. Negative price and market developments lead to a reduction in the price and value of these financial products.
Currency risk	The value of assets denominated in foreign currencies is subject to price fluctuation.
Concentration risk	The underlying index of the Investment Fund concentrates investments on a particular national market. This makes the Investment Fund exclusively dependent on the performance of this national market, and not on the overall market.
Risk of default	The default of an issuer or of counterparty may result in losses for the Investment Fund. Issuer risk describes the effect of the particular developments concerning the respective issuer which, in addition to the general trends on the capital markets, have an effect on the price of a security. Even if securities are carefully selected, losses may result if issuers become insolvent. Counterparty risk is the risk that a counterparty to a contract partially or completely defaults on its liabilities. This applies to all contracts that are entered into on behalf of an Investment Fund.
Risk notice for the use of derivatives	The Company may conduct transactions with derivatives on behalf of the Investment Fund to maintain the cash ratio as defined by § 11(6) of the General Terms and Conditions. This may on occasion increase the risk of loss for the Investment Fund.
Special notice for increased volatility	There is no increased volatility with the iShares SMI (DE).
