Performance

Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was -0.54%.

Robeco BP US Premium Equities outperformed the Russell 3000 Value Index, as stock selection was the driver of relative performance. Stock selection was particularly strong in the healthcare and industrials sectors of the market. Within healthcare, biotech company AbbVie had a solid month, rising 8%. Elsewhere in the sector, a collection of providers and services companies did well, including McKesson, Centene, Humana and AmerisourceBergen. In industrials, aerospace and defense holdings BWX Technologies, Howmet and Curtiss-Wright performed robustly, while research and consulting services businesses Leidos, Science Applications International, Robert Half International and Huron Consulting were also very additive to relative returns. Stock picking in financials and information technology was also strong, with insurer AIG, banks Fifth Third, Huntington Bancshares and KeyCorp, and avoiding high multiple salesforce.com in technology benefiting the fund. From a sector allocation perspective, overweight exposure to information technology and consumer discretionary was a drag on relative returns, while having no exposure to real estate contributed to performance.

Market development

US equities, with the exception of small caps, continued to decline in the second month of the year, with rising interest rates, inflationary fears and the war in Ukraine weighing on markets. Value increased its outperformance over growth in the year, with small-cap value equities posting gains of 1.66% in February, while large and mid-cap value equities convincingly outperformed their growth counterparts, albeit in negative territory.

Expectation of fund manager

We continue to monitor the global market reaction to the conflict in Eastern Europe. As we maintain portfolios with a consistent, bottom-up stock selection approach, we do not try to position around geopolitical or macroeconomic events. The fund has no direct exposure to any companies based in Russia or Ukraine. The analysts will continue to update the portfolio managers as to the business impact due to the conflict of any companies that have any indirect revenue exposure to these countries. Regarding value, the balance in the portfolio between value, fundamentals and momentum is important now due to the potential of slowing economic conditions because of the conflict. The market has started to present some attractive opportunities of late and we have taken advantage of some, but we are being patient as the macro backdrop is cloudy due to tightening monetary policy, inflation, supply chain disruptions and the situation in Ukraine. As always, the fund remains well positioned, with holdings that reflect Boston Partners' three-circle characteristics – attractive valuations, solid business fundamentals and identifiable catalysts.

Investment policy

Robeco BP US Premium Equities is an actively managed fund that invests in stocks in the United States. The selection of these stocks is based on fundamental analysis. The fund's objective is to achieve a better return than the index. The fund promotes ESG (environmental, social and corporate governance) characteristics within the meaning of Article 8 of the European Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation. In addition, the fund integrates ESG, applies Robeco's Exclusion Policy (which is based on exclusion criteria for products including controversial weapons, tobacco, palm oil, and fossil fuel and uses proxy voting and engagement). The fund also aims for an improved carbon footprint compared to the benchmark. The portfolio is consistently built from the bottom up, to exhibit attractive valuation, strong business fundamentals and improving business momentum. These companies can be large-caps, mid-caps or small-caps. Benchmark: Russell 3000 Value Index (Gross Total Return, EUR). The majority of stocks selected will be components of the benchmark, but stocks outside the benchmark may be selected too. While the investment policy is not constrained by a benchmark, the fund may use one for comparison purposes. The fund can deviate substantially from the issuer, country and sector weightings of the benchmark. There are no restrictions on the deviation from the benchmark. The Benchmark is a broad market-weighted index that is not consistent with the ESG characteristics promoted by the fund.
